Temporary mine field south-west of Blakang Mati island.

The British Admiralty has given notice (No. 21 of 1892) that from 1st December 1891 to 1st March 1892, an area lying south-west of Blakang Mati island would be appropriated for practice with submarine mines. The limits of this mine field are defined as follows:—On the north-west by an imaginary line joining Rimau point and spherical red buoy moored with that point bearing N.-E. distant 5 cables; on the south-west by a line joining this buoy and another spherical red buoy moored with Rimau point bearing north, distant one mile; on the south-east by a line drawn from the last mentioned buoy in a N.E. direction to Blakang Mati island; and on the north-east by the coast of that island.

Mariners are cautioned not to anchor or pass within the above mentioned limits.

Shoals lying in the approach to this port from the westward.

The British Admiralty has given notice (No. 22 of 1892) of the existence of two shoals (Lorna shoals) lying in the approach to port Darwin from the westward :—

Lorna shoals consist of two small patches, 9 cables apart, in a north-east and south-west direction, with 24 feet water on each over sand and shells. There are depths of 6 to 9 fathoms between the patches, and 11 to 12 fathoms around. The sea does not break on the shoals except during strong winds.

The north-east shoal is situated in lat. 12° 20′ 55″ S., long. 130° 19′ 20″ E.

The depths given are at low water spring tides.

MOLUCCA PASSAGE.

Non-existence of Bahia reef.

The British Admiralty has given notice (No. 23 of 1892) of an unsuccessful search having been made in that vessel for Bahia reef, reported as lying in about lat. 1° 10′ S., long. 126° 50′ E. A sounding of 2,530 fathoms over dark green mud was obtained precisely in the above mentioned position, and similar depths were found in the vicinity.

This, in conjunction with the unsuccessful search for the danger made by H. M. Surveying vessel Flying Fish in 1885, and the very doubtful origin of the report, may be taken as disproving its existence. Bahia reef has therefore been expunged from the Admiralty Charts.

Shoals in Lawada approach.

The British Admiralty has given notice (No. 32 of 1892) of the existence of two shoals lying in the approach to Lawada (Lehadu) from the north-eastward. These shoals, apparently composed of sand and coral, circular in shape and about 5 cables in diameter, with 2 fathoms the least water found on them, and 11 fathoms between them, lie about 5 cables apart in a north-west and south-east direction.

The north-west shoal lies with Conical hill bearing approximately S. 9° W., and Coast hill S. 50° W., distant 10¼ miles, or in about lat. 11° 32½′ N., long. 43° 19¾′ E.

Note.—It is stated that the soundings in the vicinity of the above-mentioned shoals are incorrect, there being in many places 8 fathoms less water than shown on the Admiralty charts.

AUSTRALIA, NORTH-WEST COAST—Eastern archipelago.

Notice to Mariners No. 18 of 1892, issued by the British Admiralty, is republished below.

The following information has been received from Commander W. H. Moore, H.M. Surveying Vessel Penguin, dated November 1891,—the result of recent examination of the several localities off the north-west coast of Australia:—

1. Parry shoal, composed of coral, extends within the 10 fathoms line 4 miles in an E. by N. and W. by S. direction, with a breadth of half a mile. The shoalest spot, with 5 fathoms water over it, lies one mile from its western end, in lat. 11° 9½′ S., long. 129° 39½′ E.
2. Flinders shoal is circular in shape, and 1½ miles in diameter, with a general depth of 6 to 8 fathoms over coral. The shoalest spot, with 5 fathoms water on it, is situated in lat. 9° 52½′ S., long. 129° 17′ E.
3. Franklin shoal is circular in shape, and one mile in diameter, with a general depth of 6 to 8 fathoms over coral. The shoalest spot, with 5 fathoms water on it, is situated in lat. 9° 52¾′ S., long. 129° 19′ E.
4. Blackwood shoal is about 6 cables in diameter, with a general depth of 8 to 14 fathoms, coral bottom. The shoalest spot, with 7 fathoms water over it, lies in lat. 9° 53′ S., long. 129° 25′ E.
5. Evans shoal extends 4¾ miles in a N.N.W. and S.S.E. direction, with a breadth of 3 miles, and has a general depth of 8 to 16 fathoms. The shoalest spot, with 5 fathoms water on it over coral, lies 4 cables from the north extreme, in lat. 9° 53 S., long. 129° 32¾′ E.

There are quantities of snakes and sea perch on these banks.

CAUTION.—It is probable that many other shoals exist on or near the same parallel of latitude, both eastward of Evans shoal and westward of Flinders shoal. The four shoals above mentioned are probably part of a submerged barrier, lying along the edge of the bank. Northward of them the character of the bottom changes to globigerina ooze.

NOTE.—The hill on the south coast of Bathurst island, eastward of cape Fourcroy, situated in lat. 11° 47′ 50″ S., long. 130° 8′ E., is conical and conspicuous, 420 feet in height, and forms a good landmark in approaching the coast.

EASTERN ARCHIPELAGO.

NOTE.—The existing plan of Kulewatte harbour, Damma island, on sheet of harbours and anchorages between Bali and Timor, No. 935, is misleading, the anchorage being much smaller than represented. The anchorage is in 20 fathoms water, fine black sand and coral, with the large hut on the point, close to the ruin of Watch house (now scarcely visible) bearing N.E. by N., distant 1¼ cables. The space admits of one vessel (about 1,000 tons burden) lying at single anchor, or two of that size moored.

Harbour improvements.

Among the extensive works executed, a Breakwater has been built, running out from Manora point in a S. by E. direction to a distance of 1,500 feet into 5 fathoms of water. This affords complete shelter to the Entrance Channel during the south-west monsoon; also a channel has been opened through the entrance with a depth of 21½ feet at low water spring-tides, 500 feet in breadth. The channel is marked by buoys, black on starboard hand, red on port.

The Merewether pier, 312 feet in length, has 26 feet at low water alongside.

The Erskine wharf, 2,008 feet in length, has accommodation for 5 vessels of the largest class.

An improved Red Light of the all-round-anchor pattern of ship's light is exhibited at the extreme end of the Breakwater, brightly visible in clear weather 5 nautical miles, and at least half that distance during the south-west monsoon.

The height of this light is 54½ feet above mean sea-level, and it is maintained throughout the year.

Caution.—An Electric Light is used for working steamers alongside the "Merewether" pier and "Erskine" wharf. The height above mean sea-level is 67½ feet, and would be visible from the westward about 15 miles. The position of this light being north 1½ miles from the lighthouse on Manora, Commanders of vessels are warned not to mistake it for the Fixed light.

Note.—Mail Steamers arriving off the Port at night should burn two blue lights in quick succession; other vessels one, or two at intervals of two minutes. During the fair season, Pilots will board, but during the monsoon they must keep off the Port until daylight.

Explanation – Summary.—The normal means of air pressure and temperature are the arithmetical average or means of the reading during the same period for the last Ten Years. The Humidity of the atmosphere is expressed as percentage, saturated air being presented by 100. A fair sky is denoted by 0 and an overcast sky by 10. The numbers are the numerical results or average of the rainfall in that district determined from the returns sent in by the subdivisional head quarters for the period in question during the past stations in the district sending in returns divided by the number of stations. A rainy day is one on which at least a tenth of an inch fell.

for the week ending Saturday, the 27th of February 1892.

Explanation.— ......indicate that no rain has fallen. If the return for any day has not been received, the corresponding space is left blank. If any of the returns are wanting, the corresponding spaces in the total rainfall columns are left blank. With reference to the column of rainy days, the definition of a rainy day is when at least 0·1 inch of rain has fallen.

CALCUTTA, the 1st March 1892.

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL FOR THE WEEK ENDING 8 A.M., SATURDAY, THE 27TH OF FEBRUARY 1892.

At the close of the previous week the meteorological conditions in Bengal were slightly disturbed, owing to the fact that pressure over Bengal had become so low, that a large shallow barometric depression may be said to have existed over the province, though the feeble depression was not accompanied by any distinct cyclonic circulation of winds. On the 21st pressure had again fallen rapidly in Bengal, the fall being largest at the central and eastern stations, where in some cases it exceeded a tenth of an inch. A very distinct depression on this day existed, the centre of which was apparently in North Bengal, where at some stations pressure was nearly a quarter of an inch below the normal. Temperature also rose rapidly on this day and became from about 4° to 8° above the normal. On the 22nd the pressure changes over Bengal were very slight and the temperature changes were variable, there being an increase in some districts and a decrease in others, particularly in those in the north of the province. The barometric depression therefore continued to exist with a centre in North Bengal, and to this centre winds generally converged, and the influence of the depression was shown in the fact that a few stations, principally in South-West Bengal, reported rain. On the 23rd pressure again fell slowly to moderately in Bengal, and the depression in North Bengal became even more strongly marked, for at some stations, such as at Jalpaiguri and Dhubri, pressure had become nearly three-tenths of an inch below the normal. The wind directions on this day appeared to show that the centre of the disturbance had moved in an easterly direction and was probably passing into Assam. On the 24th pressure continued to fall at the eastern stations, while a moderate increase was taking place in the centre and west of the province. The depression still existed over North Bengal and the western parts of Assam with a defect of a quarter of an inch at some stations, and again winds showed a distinct cyclonic circulation round the centre. The effects of the disturbance were rather more marked on this day than they had been, and numerous stations, principally in East Bengal, reported light rain on this day. On the 25th the depression commenced to pass away and a rapid increase of pressure took place, which at Dhubri exceeded a tenth of an inch. Winds were more northerly than they had been, and became at most stations north-westerly, and a very rapid fall of temperature and humidity set in, the fall in the mean temperature averaging 4° or 5,° while at some stations humidity decreased 20 and 30 per cent. On the 26th pressure again continued to rise at all except the western stations, though it still remained below the normal by about a twentieth of an inch. Temperature also continued to fall, and became from about 2° to 4° below the normal, and dry westerly and north-westerly winds prevailed generally over the province. On the 27th a rapid fall of pressure again set in over Central and Northern Bengal, the fall being largest at Purnea, where it exceeded a tenth of an inch, and again there was a distinct tendency for a barometric depression to form over Bengal with a centre near Purnea. With this distribution of pressure winds again became more or less southerly at a large number of stations except in the extreme west of the province, where they still remained westerly. Temperature and humidity therefore generally increased rather rapidly, and in the case of the mean temperature it had again become above the normal at a large number of stations. With these slightly disturbed conditions, a few stations, principally in East Bengal, again reported light rain showers.

The meteorological conditions during the week have therefore not been very important, and except in East and South-West Bengal, where there have been a few showers, rainfall has been to a great extent absent.

Pressure.—With the almost continuous existence of a barometric depression during the week over the province, the centre of which has been generally in North Bengal, it will be seen that pressure has been rather largely in defect of the normal. The mean defect for the week at some of the stations in North Bengal has been very large; equalling indeed nearly a fifth of an inch, the defect at Dinajpur and Jalpaiguri exceeding 0·18". From this as the centre of largest defect, the deficiency decreases towards the south and west, and in Orissa and Chota Nagpore it only equals about a tenth of an inch.

Temperature—Has shown large variations during the week, but for the greater part of the time it has been in excess of the normal. The average excess in the mean temperatures of all the districts of the province has been 1·5°, but in such districts as South-West and North Bengal and in South Behar it has been from 2° to 2·5°. In Chota Nagpore, on the other hand, temperature has been almost normal.

The variation of temperature is, however, most clearly seen in the table below, where the average maximum, minimum and mean temperatures for the week at nine typical stations in different districts of the province are compared with the normal values for the same period. The variation, it will be seen, has been almost equally distributed over both day and night temperatures :—

Rainfall.—The falls during the week have been practically confined to South-West and East Bengal, but, however, even East Bengal only shows an average fall of 0·10 inch and South-West Bengal one of 0·03 inch. The district which has received the largest fall is the Chittagong Hill Tracts with 1·20 inches; Noakhali has also averaged 0·48 inch, and Chittagong district 0·12 inch, but all other districts have received an average fall of only a tenth of an inch or less.

The following table gives the summary of the temperature and rainfall data of each of the seven meteorological divisions of the province for the week ending Saturday, the 27th of February 1892 :—

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, and from observations made at 6h, 10h, 16h, and 22h.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

o, overcast; d, drizzling rain.

IRRIGATION.

REVISED WATER-RATE RULES FOR THE MIDNAPORE CANAL.

Notification No. 62, dated the 16th February 1892.

In exercise of the powers conferred on him by sections 99 and 78 of Act III (B.C.) of 1876, the Hon'ble the Lieutenant-Governor proposes to make the following rules and to fix the undermentioned rates to be charged for water supplied from the Midnapore Canal. These rules and rates will supersede those now in force.

J. M. MCNEILE, Col., R.E.,
Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

1. The officers of the Public Works Department, who have charge of the canal, are solely responsible for maintaining it in an efficient state of repair, for providing drainage channels where necessary, and generally for all engineering work involved in its management, as well as for the distribution of water to lessees. The word "canal" is here used as defined in section 3 of the Act.

2. The Deputy Revenue Superintendent, under the supervision of the Collector of the district as Revenue Superintendent, is responsible for the collection of water-rates and miscellaneous revenue accruing to Government from the canal.

3. Water shall not be distributed otherwise than on the application of a lessee, or of a ryot in whose favour a provisional requisition has been issued, as provided for in Rule 21 below. Such application may be made verbally or in writing to any Public Works Department officer in charge of that part of the canal from which water is required.

4. If any lessee apply for water to the Deputy Revenue Superintendent, or one of his subordinates verbally, he should be told to address himself to the officers of the Public Works Department. If he makes such an application in writing, his petition shall be forwarded direct by the canal revenue officer, to whom it is addressed, to the Public Works Department officer in charge of that part of the canal from which the petitioner's village is supplied.

5. The canal officers of the Public Works Department, in consultation with the Deputy Revenue Superintendent, shall map out the irrigable area into blocks in accordance with the natural features of the ground, and so determined that the whole block shall be irrigable from one outlet, or from one set of outlets. So far as may be practicable, the blocks shall be separated by drainage lines.

6. Each block determined as above shall be numbered and recorded with its irrigable area in registers to be maintained by the Public Works officers and by the Deputy Revenue Superintendent. The blocks shall also be marked on maps to be maintained by the same officers.

7. Leases for not more than five years may be granted for the whole irrigable area of a block, or, subject to the provisions of Rule 14, for definite parts of a block, under the following conditions:—

I.—The lease may be for the lands of one or more villages, but ordinarily the whole irrigable area of any village, so far as situated within the block must be included in the lease.

II.—All leases within one block shall be granted so that they shall expire on the same date.

III.—In order to equalise the areas to be dealt with in each year, the date of expiry of the leases in each block shall be determined by the Public Works officers in consultation with the Deputy Revenue Superintendent, so that one-fifth of the total area usually irrigated may fall out of lease in each year.

Explanation.

A	blocks	commence	1892	...	...	...	Expire 1897.
B	,,	,,	1893	...	...	...	,, 1898.
C	,,	,,	1894	...	...	...	,, 1899.
D	,,	,,	1895	...	...	...	,, 1900.
E	,,	,,	1896	...	...	...	,, 1901.

Then, should a lease in a B block expire in 1892, a lease for one year must be given. Similarly, a lease in a B block expiring in 1894 must be renewed for four years only. It may, however, be possible in cases like the latter to arrange by mutual consent to cancel the existing and unexpired leases in B blocks in 1893, and then to renew for the full term of five years.

8. The rates to be charged for water supplied between June and November, whether by flow or lift, to lessees on application shall be—

For a term of five years—Rs. 1-8 per acre for each season.

Provided that the leases, whether new or renewals, required for shorter terms in order to develop the system of blocks as explained above shall, on the first occasion, be offered at the above rate.

Subject to the above provision, the rates shall be—

	Rs.	A.	P.
For a term of four years	1	12	0	per acre	per season.
,, ,, of three ,, ...	2	0	0	,,	,,
,, ,, of two ,, ...	2	4	0	,,	,,
For one season	2	8	0	,,	,,

Explanation.

An existing lease in a D block expires in 1892. The lessees will be offered a renewal for three years at Rs. 1-8 per acre per season. They decline this, and do not renew till 1893. They can then only get a lease for two years at Rs. 2-4 per acre per season. Similarly, an application for a new lease in a C block is received in 1892. A lease for two years at Rs. 1-8 per acre may be given; but should an application for a new lease in a C block be received in 1895, a lease for four years at Rs. 1-12 per acre will be granted.

9. For the supply of water, when available, for winter crops, a rate of Rs. 1-8 per acre per season shall be charged.

10. For the unauthorized use of canal water a rate of Rs. 5 per acre, or such less rate as may be fixed by the Collector, shall be charged.

11. Applications for water-leases under section 74 of the Act should be presented to the zilladar of the division in which the applicant's land lies, and, subject to Rules 12, 13, 14, 15, and 16 below, zilladars are authorized to grant such leases.

12. No village shall be brought under lease for the first time, and no lease shall be renewed for a period exceeding one year, without the consent in writing of the Executive Engineer. Such consent in writing may be taken specially for a single village, or generally for specified tracts including several villages.

13. Every application for a water-lease shall contain the following particulars:—

1.—Name and residence of applicant.

2.—Name of pergunnah, mehal, and village in which the land to be irrigated is situated.

3.—Total area for the irrigation of which the application is made and its boundaries, and if the lands to be irrigated lie in separate chaks, the name of each chak.

4.—Names of the ryots whose lands are to be irrigated, and the quantity of land held by each.

5.—Name of the canal and number of distributary from which water is required.

6.—Signatures of the applicants.

14. No application for a water-lease shall be entertained when the supply of water must of necessity be delivered across an unleased area, unless a village-channel exists, which, in the opinion of the Executive Engineer, will deliver water without waste across the unleased area.

15. Without the permission of the Collector, no application shall include lands belonging to more than one village, but tehsilalaids or other lands lying within the village boundary at the time of survey may be included.

16. Without special orders in writing from the Deputy Revenue Superintendent, no application for a water-lease shall be received unless it includes all the irrigable lands in a village.

17. When a water-lease is granted, a kabuliyat shall be taken in a form approved by Government, and a "permit" shall be given to the lessee or lessees in a form similar to that prescribed in Schedule C of the Act.

18. On the issue of a "permit" as above, of which the zilladar shall keep a duplicate, he shall forward a copy of the kabuliyat to the Deputy Revenue Superintendent for record and at the same time he shall forward to the Executive Engineer or Sub-divisional Officer direct a requisition requesting him to supply water to the lessee on application. This requisition shall be kept by the officers of the Public Works Department till January 1st next following, and shall then be returned to the Deputy Revenue Superintendent. On the back should be noted the several dates on which the village was supplied with water. A fresh requisition should be issued on or before June 1st, and returned on or before January 1st, each year, till the lease expires.

19. When application for a lease is received from a village not previously leased, the zilladar, before granting a lease, shall satisfy himself by comparison with the survey records, as well as by local enquiry, that the particulars given in the application are correct. For the purpose of comparison with the survey record, the application should be sent through the Deputy Superintendent to the Collector. The zilladar should also satisfy himself that the Executive Engineer's consent, as required by Rule 12, has been obtained.

20. When application is made for the renewal of an expired lease, the zilladar, before granting a new lease, shall satisfy himself by comparison with his register of kabuliyats that the particulars given in the application are correct.

21. Pending the result of the enquiries provided for in the last rules, the zilladar may, at his discretion, issue a provisional requisition for the supply of water to the area covered by the application.

22. When it comes to the knowledge of the Public Works Department officers in charge of the canal that canal water has been taken without authority, notice shall be sent to the Deputy Revenue Superintendent, accompanied by the following particulars:—

1.—Name of village and pergunnah.

2.—Number of distributary from which water has been illicitly obtained.

3.—Manner in which water has been taken.

4.—Abstract of evidence that water has been taken.

A separate notice should be sent for each village irrigated without authority.

23. On receipt of such a notice, the Deputy Revenue Superintendent, after such enquiry as may be necessary, and after hearing any objection which may be raised, shall proceed to assess, at the rate provided in Rule 16, the land irrigated without authority. If in any case he thinks that this rate should not be imposed, he shall report the matter to the Collector for orders.

24. Should it be proved, after due enquiry, that the supply of water given to any leased area is habitually wasted, or used for the irrigation of lands not under lease, it shall be competent for the Deputy Revenue Superintendent, on the application of the Executive Engineer, and with the approval of the Collector, to cancel the lease.

25. The rates for water supplied from June to November shall, in each season, fall due on the 1st February following. The rates for water supplied for winter crops shall fall due on the 1st April following.

26. Water-rates imposed under Rule 10, on account of lands irrigated without authority, fall due as soon as the assessment is made, and shall be realized at once.

27. Remission of water-rates, either in whole or part, as the case may require, shall be granted by the Collector for—

1.—Injury to the crop on a leased area caused by deficient supply of water.

2.—Errors in the assessment of rates.

28. The Collector may grant remissions of water-rates, either in whole or part, for injury to the crops on leased areas caused by excess of water due to deficient drainage.

29. The Collector may commute rates charged under Rule 10 to those chargeable for water supplied on application, provided that a lease either for a term of years or for the season has been subsequently executed for the lands in question.

30. Remissions on other grounds than the above require the sanction of Government.

31. In cases where sums due on account of water-rates cannot be collected owing to the death, bankruptcy, or absconding of the defaulter, the amount which is non-realizable may be written off as irrecoverable on the authority of the Collector.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT.

REVISED ADVERTISEMENT.

A Dictionary of the Economic Products of India

BY DR. GEO. WATT, C.I.E.

Reporter on Economic Products.

Published under the authority of the Government of India in the Revenue and Agricultural Department.

The first five volumes of this work are now ready for issue, and intending subscribers are invited to register their names with the Superintendent of Government Printing, Calcutta.

The Dictionary is intended to deal with the products of India—animal, vegetable, and mineral; each product being treated after a uniform plan, the paragraphs of which give the scientific, vernacular, and European names; habitat or source; history; properties and uses (both chemical and industrial); trade statistics; markets; &c. The work is arranged alphabetically according to scientific nomenclature, but commercial and important vernacular names are also given as cross references, so that little difficulty need be experienced in finding the account of a product even when its scientific name is unknown to the reader.

An important feature of the Dictionary consists in the fact that derived information is in every instance given under quotation marks, and with a reference to the original publication. Numerous contributors have, however, furnished the results of new discoveries and confirmed the vernacular names, so that the Dictionary is not only a complete compilation of published information, but has been brought abreast of the most recent inventions and discoveries.

Volume I contains the letters A and B, and consists of 559 royal octavo pages; Vol. II embraces the letter C in 689 pages; Vol. III contains the letters D, E, F and half of G. Vol IV latter half of G to middle of L; and Vol. V contains the latter half of L to end of "O." The whole work will, it is expected, be completed in seven volumes during the current year; but an eighth volume may also be issued consisting of an Index to all the vernacular and other names contained in the Dictionary. The Index will practically be a Glossary of the vernacular and European names of the plants, animals and minerals of India, and as such will be a work of reference, which, it is hoped, may prove of considerable value.

The period of registration of subscribers' names having expired on the 1st October, the price will in future be in India Rs. 45 and in England 3 guineas, payable in advance, for the complete set (exclusive of the Index, for which a separate charge will be made). An extra charge for packing and postage will be made for the set—in India, at 8 annas per volume, and for England, at 2 rupees 6 annas per volume.

For copies bound in half calf or half morocco, Rs. 6 and 8 shillings respectively will be charged extra for the whole sets.

No copies will be issued to non-subscribers till the work is complete, and no single volume will be sold separately.

CHINA SEA—SINGAPORE APPROACH.

Temporary mine field south-west of Blakang Mati island.

THE British Admiralty has given notice (No. 21 of 1892) that from 1st December 1891 to 1st March 1892, an area lying south-west of Blakang Mati island would be appropriated for practice with submarine mines. The limits of this mine field are defined as follows :— On the north-west by an imaginary line joining Rimau point and spherical red buoy moored with that point bearing N.-E. distant 5 cables; on the south-west by a line joining this buoy and another spherical red buoy moored with Riman point bearing north, distant one mile; on the south-east by a line drawn from the last mentioned buoy in a N.E. direction to Blakang Mati island; and on the north-east by the coast of that island.

Mariners are cautioned not to anchor or pass within the above mentioned limits.

PORT DARWIN.

Shoals lying in the approach to this port from the westward.

THE British Admiralty has given notice (No 22 of 1892) of the existence of two shoals (Lorna shoals) lying in the approach to port Darwin from the westward :—

Lorna shoals consist of two small patches, 9 cables apart, in a north-east and south-west direction, with 24 feet water on each over sand and shells. There are depths of 6 to 9 fathoms between the patches, and 11 to 12 fathoms around. The sea does not break on the shoals except during strong winds.

The north-east shoal is situated in lat. 12° 20′ 55″ S., long. 130° 19′ 20″ E.

The depths given are at low water spring tides.

MOLUCCA PASSAGE.

Non-existence of Bahia reef.

THE British Admiralty has given notice (No. 23 of 1892) of an unsuccessful search having been made in that vessel for Bahia reef, reported as lying in about lat. 1° 10′ S., long. 126° 50′ E. A sounding of 2 530 fathoms over dark green mud was obtained precisely in the above mentioned position, and similar depths were found in the vicinity.

This, in conjunction with the unsuccessful search for the danger made by H. M. Surveying vessel Flying Fish in 1883, and the very doubtful origin of the report, may be taken as disproving its existence. Bahia reef has therefore been expunged from the Admiralty Charts.

Sunken rocks in the approach to Chemulpho anchorage.

THE BritishAdmiralty has given notice (No. 27 of 1892) of the existence of the two undermentioned sunken rocks lying in the approach to Chemulpho anchorage from the southward:—

1. A rock, with 7 feet on it at low water, lies on the east side of Flying Fish channel, with the east extreme of Pirie island bearing about N. ¾ E., and Simpson island summit (524 feet) about E. by N., distant 1 $\frac{3}{10}$ miles.

Approximate position : lat. 37° 10½′ N., long. 126° 11½′ E.

2. A rock, with 12 feet on it at low water, lies north-west of Pender rock, with North Watcher bearing about N.E. ¼ N., distant $1\frac{5}{10}$ miles, and Yung Hung Do summit about S. ⅝ E.

Decreased depths reported within a certain area—Gulf of Martaban.

THE following Notice to Mariners (No. 31 of 1892), issued by the British Admiralty, is republished :—

Information has been received through Commander R. F. Hoskyn, R.N., in charge of India Marine Survey, that within the area comprised (approximately) between lat. 15° and 15° 30′ N., long 96° and 97° E., the soundings are reported to be considerably less than heretofore shown on the Admiralty charts. Depths therefore cannot be taken as a guide for position.

Shoals in Lawada approach.

THE British Admiralty has given notice (No. 32 of 1892) of the existence of two shoals lying in the approach to Lawada (Lehadu) from the north-eastward. These shoals, apparently composed of sand and coral, circular in shape and about 5 cables in diameter, with 2 fathoms the least water found on them, and 11 fathoms between them, lie about 5 cables apart in a north-west and south east direction.

The north-west shoal lies with Conical hill bearing approximately S. 9° W., and Coast hill S 50° W., distant 10½ miles, or in about lat. 11° 32½′ N., long. 43° 19¾′ E.

NOTE.—It is stated that the soundings in the vicinity of the above-mentioned shoals are incorrect, there being in many places 8 fathoms less water than shown on the Admiralty charts.

AUSTRALIA, NORTH-WEST COAST—EASTERN ARCHIPELAGO.

NOTICE to Mariners No. 18 of 1892, issued by the British Admiralty, is republished below.

The following information has been received from Commander W. U. Moore, H.M. Surveying Vessel Penguin, dated November 1891,—the result of recent examination of the several localities off the north-west coast of Australia:—

1. Parry shoal, composed of coral, extends within the 10 fathoms line 4 miles in an E. by N. and W. by S. direction, with a breadth of half a mile. The shoalest spot, with 5 fathoms water over it, lies one mile from its western end, in lat. 11° 9½′ S., long. 129° 39½′ E.
2. Flinders shoal is circular in shape, and 1½ miles in diameter, with a general depth of 6 to 8 fathoms over coral. The shoalest spot, with 5 fathoms water on it, is situated in lat. 9° 52½′ S., long. 129° 17′ E.

3. Franklin shoal is circular in shape, and one mile in diameter, with a general depth of 6 to 8 fathoms over coral. The shoalest spot, with 5 fathoms water on it, is situated in lat. 9° 52¾′ S., long. 129° 19′ E.

4. Blackwood shoal is about 6 cables in diameter, with a general depth of 8 to 14 fathoms, coral bottom. The shoalest spot, with 7 fathoms water over it, lies in lat. 9° 53′ S., long. 129° 25′ E.

5. Evans shoal extends 4¾ miles in a N.N.W. and S.S.E. direction, with a breadth of 3 miles, and has a general depth of 8 to 16 fathoms. The shoalest spot, with 5 fathoms water on it over coral, lies 4 cables from the north extreme, in lat. 9° 53 S., long. 129° 32¾′ E.

There are quantities of snakes and sea perch on these banks.

CAUTION.—It is probable that many other shoals exist on or near the same parallel of latitude, both eastward of Evans shoal and westward of Flinders shoal. The four shoals above mentioned are probably part of a submerged barrier, lying along the edge of the bank. Northward of them the character of the bottom changes to globigerina ooze.

NOTE.—The hill on the south coast of Bathurst island, eastward of cape Fourcroy, situated in lat. 11° 47′ 50″ S., long. 130° 8′ E., is conical and conspicuous, 420 feet in height, and forms a good landmark in approaching the coast.

EASTERN ARCHIPELAGO.

NOTE.—The existing plan of Kulewatte harbour, Damma island, on sheet of harbours and anchorages between Bali and Timor, No. 935, is misleading, the anchorage being much smaller than represented. The anchorage is in 20 fathoms water, fine black sand and coral, with the large hut on the point, close to the ruin of Watch house (now scarcely visible) bearing N.E. by N., distant 1½ cables. The space admits of one vessel (about 1,000 tons burden) lying at single anchor, or two of that size moored.

Harbour improvements.

Among the extensive works executed, a Breakwater has been built, running out from Manora point in a S. by E. direction to a distance of 1,500 feet into 5 fathoms of water. This affords complete shelter to the Entrance Channel during the south-west monsoon; also a channel has been opened through the entrance with a depth of 21½ feet at low water spring-tides, 500 feet in breadth. The channel is marked by buoys, black on starboard hand, red on port.

The Merewether pier, 312 feet in length, has 26 feet at low water alongside.

The Erskine wharf, 2,008 feet in length, has accommodation for 5 vessels of the largest class.

An improved Red Light of the all-round-anchor pattern of ship's light is exhibited at the extreme end of the Breakwater, brightly visible in clear weather 5 nautical miles, and at least half that distance during the south-west monsoon.

The height of this light is 54½ feet above mean sea-level, and it is maintained throughout the year.

Caution.—An Electric Light is used for working steamers alongside the "Merewether" pier and "Erskine" wharf. The height above mean sea-level is 67½ feet, and would be visible from the westward about 15 miles. The position of this light being north 1¼ miles from the lighthouse on Manora, Commanders of vessels are warned not to mistake it for the Fixed light.

Note.—Mail Steamers arriving off the Port at night should burn two blue lights in quick succession; other vessels one, or two at intervals of two minutes. During the fair season, Pilots will board, but during the monsoon they must keep off the Port until daylight.

RESOLUTION ON THE BOARD'S REPORT ON THE ADMINISTRATION OF THE OPIUM DEPARTMENT FOR 1890-91.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT—OPIUM.

No. 940-O.

Calcutta, the 8th March 1892.

RESOLUTION.

READ—

Board's Report on the Administration of the Opium Department for the year 1890-91.

The report is submitted by Mr. C. C. Stevens, who succeeded Sir H. L. Harrison as Member of the Board of Revenue, in charge of the Miscellaneous Revenue Department, in December 1891.

Tour of Inspection by the Member in Charge.

2. During the year Sir H. L. Harrison made a tour of inspection in the two Agencies, and submitted to Government some valuable suggestions on several important questions, viz., the more economical working of the saw-mills at Patna, the reversion to mangowood for packing the Bihar provision opium, the increase to the rack accommodation at the Ghazipore Factory, and the increase in the standard of caking Benares opium. In regard to the first question, Government has already, with a view to keeping down the cost as much as is compatible with actual requirements, on the recommendation of the Board, sanctioned the proposal that the mills should be worked for only five days in the week, and should be entirely closed for one month at the end of the manufacturing year (October), and for the three months during which the manufacture of provision opium is carried on. It is expected that these economies will reduce the annual expenditure on the saw-mills to reasonable limits. The substitution of mangowood for sâlwood affords a promising source of economy in the manufacture of chests. The cost of sâl timber per chest being Re. 1-8 per cubic foot, and of mangowood only Re. 0-8 per cubic foot, the substitution of the latter for the former would result in a saving of two-thirds of the cost of sâl timber, which amounted in the year of report to Rs. 1,22,564. The use of mangowood for the manufacture of opium chests was abandoned in 1831, on the ground that mangowood was becoming scarce. The Lieutenant-Governor would be glad to revert to this class of wood if it is found that there is no danger of denuding the country, but it should not be forgotten that there is already a heavy demand for the felling of mango trees caused by the manufacture of all indigo chests out of this wood. Taking the produce of indigo at 60,000 maunds for North Bihar alone, the number of chests required would amount roughly to 20,000. If to this consumption is added the quantity required for 25,000 chests of opium, the consequences to the mango groves of Bihar might be serious, unless the reproduction of the trees is steadily maintained.

Manufacture of mangowood chests.

3. Sir Charles Elliott notes with satisfaction that the question of rack accommodation is under the careful consideration of the Board. The practice of storing unpacked cakes on racks at the factories has been proved by experience to be useful in preserving the weight and condition of the cakes, but it entails a cost for labour in handling, computed at Rs. 6-14 per chest, which does not, in the opinion of the Agents, give a commensurate return. The Board think, however, that it should be continued to the fullest extent possible at each factory. The Lieutenant-Governor considers that, while the practice may be continued, there is no occasion at present to pursue the question of increasing the rack accommodation in the factories, as the present low reserve renders the existing rack accommodation sufficient for all purposes.

Rack accommodation.

4. In regard to raising the consistence of Benares opium, orders have been passed that the Benares provision should in future be caked at a consistence of 71 per cent. instead of 70 per cent., which was formerly recognised as the standard consistence, though, as a matter of fact, the cakes were in many cases prepared at a consistence of 71 per cent. or over.

Consistence of the Benares provision opium.

5. The outturn during the season 1890-91 was only 44,522 chests against 44,760 chests in the preceding year, and against the latest estimate of 49,904 chests referred to in the Resolution on the Board's Opium Report for 1889-90. Notwithstanding an increase of 9,728 bighas in the land actually cultivated in the Bihar Agency, and of 20,029 bighas in Benares, there was a falling off of 4,422 maunds in the outturn of the season in the former and of 8,347 maunds in the latter as compared with the season 1889-90. These results are directly attributable to unseasonable rain accompanied in several districts by severe hailstorms in both Agencies during the months of February and March, which did considerable damage to the crop, while the damp and heavy weather reduced abnormally the consistence of the opium brought in by the cultivators so as to render 8,695 maunds of opium unfit for caking into provision opium. It appears that it was by the use of 3,000 maunds of Benares opium at Patna for the excise opium and with the help of a previous stock of provision opium at the Bihar Agency of high consistency that the number of provision chests could be raised to the figures eventually attained at Patna. The Board do not mention details of the stock, thus making it appear in paragraph 4 of their report that a diminished supply of opium gave an increased number of chests, nor is the matter cleared up in the Bihar Agent's report. As a result of this exceptionally poor outturn, the reserve of provision chests, after providing for the supply for the year 1892, will be reduced from 18,770 chests on the 31st December 1891 to 9,292 chests on the 31st December 1892.

Outturn.

6. The low reserve has naturally given rise to apprehensions whether, regard being had to the fact that the demand is practically fixed, the existing area under poppy cultivation is sufficient to meet it. As, however, it has been considered inexpedient to increase the area under cultivation, no measures have been taken with a view to secure its expansion. In the Bihar Agency it is reported that the orders of Government reducing the area of cultivation, coupled with three successive bad seasons, have had the effect of discouraging opium cultivation. "An idea has got about," it is said, "that Government do not want opium, and many raiyats, especially those near big towns, have found out that potatoes, tobacco, &c., are as profitable as poppy. When a cultivator has once severed his connection with the department, and has begun to take advances from mahajans in another line of business, it is difficult to get him back." In the Benares Agency, on the other hand, it is reported that "in Oudh and in parts of Rohilkund nothing is more disappointing to a cultivator than an order for curtailment of cultivation. So popular indeed is poppy cultivation in these parts that raiyats from the remote districts of Bahraich, Gonda, Rai Bareili, and Pertabgarh come down to Ghazipore to appeal in person to the Agent against the orders of the District Officers reducing the cultivation." In some divisions of the Benares Agency successive bad seasons have to a certain extent discouraged the cultivators, but it is believed that a favourable season will restore the popularity of poppy cultivation in these parts. The earnings of a cultivator in the Benares Agency during the year under report, which was of an exceptionally unfavourable character, were on the average Rs. 13-9-6 against Rs. 17-1-9 (free, of course, from the inevitable encumbrance of mahajan's interest) during the previous year. The earnings of a cultivator in the Bihar Agency are not stated in the Agent's report, but the consistency of Bihar opium, and hence the price paid for it being higher, the earnings of a cultivator in the Bihar Agency ought to be higher. The total number of cultivators in the two Agencies was 1,306,741. The Opium Commission of 1883 observed that—

Extension of cultivation.

> "The poppy crop is a staff and not a crutch; it helps the raiyat to pay his way, but does not form his sole dependence; it seldom occupies more than one-tenth of his holding; it yields him a good profit in a prosperous year, but its failure does not reduce him to absolute penury."

The idea that Government contemplate the cessation of opium manufacture, referred to above, is one that is detrimental alike to the interests of the cultivators and others concerned in the opium trade, and it is to be regretted that unfounded rumours should have obtained any credence. The question of increasing or decreasing the area under cultivation requires special consideration in accordance with all the circumstances affecting its solution. The maintenance of the supply and of the reserve at the normal amounts has to be regarded on the one hand, whereas on the other the objections to the appearance of an oscillation of policy and to the consequent disturbance of agricultural anticipations are patent. The variableness of the seasons and the outturns is the inconstant factor in the problem which necessitates its periodical revision. If the produce of the crop now being gathered is insufficient to restore the reserve to some extent, if not to the normal amount of 30,000 chests, it will be for the Board to consider whether an increase of cultivation should not be aimed at in the autumnal settlements.

7. During the season under report the weighments commenced too soon after the produce had been saturated by rain, the result being a deterioration of the value of the drug on account of lower consistency, and consequent disappointment to the cultivators. It was recognised that the quality of the produce would have improved by delay, and weighments were postponed as much as possible, but the dates for weighments having already been advertised, they could not be very materially altered without great inconvenience to the raiyats.

Weighments.

8. The Bihar Agent visited every division in his Agency once, and in some cases twice, being altogether out on tour for 100 days. The number of days spent by the Benares Agent on tour is not given; but out of 16 divisions he visited 11. The position of the head-quarters, Ghazipore, at the extreme southern end of the provinces is said to be an obstacle to his visiting every division during the year, but the Lieutenant-Governor hopes that the Agent will arrange to see something of every division during the year. The Sub-Deputies in the Bihar Agency appear to have been in camp for periods varying from 91 days in Motihari (where the shortness of the period is accounted for by the illness and subsequent death of Mr. Carter, the Sub-Deputy Opium Agent) to 129 days in Bettiah and Shahabad. The Benares Agent has made no reference to this matter in his report.

Total quantity of opium received in the Agencies.

9. The total quantity of opium received in the Bihar Agency of various degrees of consistency was 37,452 maunds against 40,003 maunds in the previous year: in the Benares Agency the quantity of opium received reduced to the standard consistence of 70° was 44,373 maunds against 52,720 maunds in the previous year. The number of chests of provision opium manufactured in the Bihar Agency was 21,834 chests, and in the Benares Agency 22,688 chests. The quantity of excise opium manufactured was 2,808 maunds in the Bihar Agency and 5,416 maunds in the Benares Agency. The total expenditure in the Bihar Agency amounted to Rs. 88,19,349 against Rs. 94,73,579 in the preceding year, and in the Benares Agency Rs. 1,02,28,196 against Rs. 1,18,95,140, this decrease in both the Agencies being due to diminished produce.

Opium Manual.

10. The Board report that, owing to the delay which has unavoidably been incurred in issuing the new Opium Manual, they are not in a position to comply with the orders of the Government of India by submitting a review of the expenditure incurred in the season under report, based on the statements which are prepared for the Agents and the Board and certified by the Accountant-General. It was found impracticable to lay down a common Opium Manual for both the Agencies. Accordingly, with the sanction of Government, it was decided that, while Part I of the Manual containing the opium laws and rules should be common to both the Agencies, Parts II, III, and IV containing the rules and forms should be distinct for each. Part I for both the Agencies and Parts II, III, and IV for the Benares Agency have been completed. Part II for the Bihar Agency is also nearly ready for publication, and the Board promise to lose no time in completing this and the remaining parts.

Outstanding balances.

11. The Lieutenant-Governor concurs with Mr. Kemble in his view that all requests for loans made by poppy cultivators should be granted whenever sufficient security can be obtained for the repayment of the advance. The balances on account of advances to cultivators are heavy, being Rs. 55,674 in the Bihar Agency, the greater part of which amount appertains to the Gya Sub-Agency, where hail proved specially destructive to the crops, and Rs. 47,853 in the Benares Agency. The early recovery of these advances is doubtful, as the prospects of the present season do not appear to be favourable, especially in the unirrigated area.

Irrigation.

12. There is an improvement in the extent of irrigated cultivation in the Bihar Agency, but this improvement is mainly due to new cultivation, and not to existing non-irrigated poppy cultivation being brought under irrigation. In the Benares Agency, out of a total cultivation of 394,791 bighas, only 8,533 bighas are unirrigated, of which 7,001 bighas are, as usual, confined to the Gorakhpore Sub-Agency. In the Bihar Agency, out of a total cultivation of 407,960 bighas, 81,678 bighas are unirrigated against 84,628 bighas in the preceding year.

Wells.

13. The amount advanced for wells in the Bihar Agency was Rs. 24,355 against Rs. 18,420 in the year previous, showing an increase of Rs. 5,935. With these advances, 263 pucca and 306 kutcha wells were constructed, against 237 pucca and an equal number of kutcha wells in 1889-90: 208 pucca and 5 kutcha wells were repaired, and 23 pucca wells are reported to be under construction. The largest amount, viz. Rs. 9,532, was advanced in the Chapra Sub-Agency, the next in order being Tirhut and Aliganj. In reference to Chapra, Mr. Kemble is inclined to think, considering the small area under poppy cultivation in this district, that other crops derive more benefit than poppy does from the advances given by the Opium Department. Mr. Kemble, however, adds:—

"By encouraging irrigation we prevent our cultivation from decreasing more than it otherwise would; and as the wells are a decided benefit to the country, I think that all requests for loans made by poppy cultivators should be granted whenever sufficient security can be obtained for the repayment of the advance."

The Lieutenant-Governor fully endorses the above view.

14. There was an increase in the number of cases instituted as well as in the percentage of convictions and in the amount of rewards paid to informers for offences against the opium laws in the Lower Provinces: in the North-Western Provinces and Oudh, however, while there was an increase in the number of institutions, the percentage of convictions fell off from 84·67 in the preceding year to 82·28; and there was a decrease in the amount of rewards disbursed to informers. The Junior Member of the Board of Revenue, North-Western Provinces, dwelling on the unsatisfactory results of opium cases in the North-Western Provinces, suggests, in the review of the Excise Commissioner's report for the year ending 30th September, 1890, that "the best means for ensuring the prompt and free distribution of rewards, where possible, is probably the judicious selection of the officers by whom the trial of Excise and Opium cases is entrusted, and the careful supervision of their work in this respect by the District Officer." In the Benares Agency the Board note with satisfaction that the question of opium smuggling receives careful attention from the officers of the Department. The Benares Agent says:—

Breaches of Opium Laws.

"Each case is separately reported to this office by the local opium officer, who explains the departmental action taken, and reports whether an officer of the Department has attended the trial to watch the cost on the part of the Agency. An endeavour is made to trace the source of supply, and when a cultivator is implicated, the details of the whole license are submitted to this office, and orders issued prohibiting cultivation by the offender and his relations, or discontinuing the cultivation in the whole village."

The Board regret to find that in the Bihar Agency the same active interest is not evinced by the officers of the Department. Sir Charles Elliott desires that the Bihar Agent may be directed to impress on his subordinate officers the importance of the subject and the necessity for the most careful attention to it.

15. Orders have already been issued by Government on the question referred to in pararaph 23 of the Board's report of modifying the existing system under which payment is made for Nepal opium.

Nepal opium.

16. The good service rendered by Messrs. Tytler, Masters, and Harrison among the Sub-Deputy Opium Agents has been brought to the notice of the Board and is acknowledged by Government. Dr. Owen and Mr. Gregory acquitted themselves with ability of their responsible duties in charge of the Factories. To the Opium Agents, Mr. Rivett-Carnac and Mr. Kemble, as well as to the Board, the thanks of the Lieutenant-Governor are due for the continued success which has attended their efficient administration and supervision of the Opium Department throughout the year.

SUMMARY OF THE RAINFALL AND METEOROLOGICAL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL, AND OF THE METEOROLOGICAL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN ASSAM, FOR THE MONTH OF FEBRUARY 1892.

THE important features in the meteorology of February in Bengal and Assam have been—

1. The mean pressure has been below the normal in all districts. The defect generally slightly exceeds a twentieth of an inch, but it is largest in North Bengal and Assam, where at several stations it is nearly equal to 0·09". The variations of pressure from day to day during the month have also been large.

2. Temperature has been in considerable excess of the normal almost throughout the month. This excess has averaged generally from 2° to 4°, and it has been smallest in Orissa and Chota Nagpur and highest in North Bengal and South Bihár. In Assam also the excess has been rather larger than 2°.

3. Humidity has been below the normal in the southern and south-western districts, but elsewhere it has generally been above it. The variation of the cloud proportion from the normal has been small and a little irregular.

4. Only one important barometric depression, which travelled in an easterly or south-easterly direction from North-Western India, advanced towards and partially over Bengal during the month. This depression appeared on the Western Desert on February the 10th, and advanced slowly in an east-south-easterly direction, and on the 13th its centre was near Agra and Delhi, and it was still a considerable storm; and on the 14th it was near Cawnpur and Sutna, but on the 15th and subsequent days it filled up and disappeared. It gave disturbed weather for several days, particularly between the 11th and 16th. Several other, but much more feeble, barometric depressions appeared in North-Western India during the month and advanced south-eastwards, but these caused little disturbance to the weather in Bengal beyond giving very high temperature and low pressure, and in addition a few local rain showers. On the whole, therefore, the month of February was an unusually quiet one, and weather was fine almost throughout the month.

5 Owing principally to the influence of the more important depression just noticed, fairly general rain was received in certain districts of the Province, the showers usually occurring from the 11th to the 16th. The amounts of rain which have thus fallen have been decidedly larger than the normal values in Chota Nagpur and South Bihár, while about normal amounts have fallen in North Bihár; but all other divisions have received rainfalls in defect of the normal for the month, and this has been particularly the case in South-West Bengal and Orissa.

Meteorology of the month.—For the first six or seven days of the month the changes of the meteorological conditions were of the usual oscillatory character which accompany fine settled weather, and therefore they call for no detailed comment. On the 7th there had been a brisk fall of pressure over the whole Province, while on the 8th it was rising slowly. The distribution of pressure on this day was, however, decidedly irregular, and the barometer was distinctly low over Central and North Bengal; north-westerly winds then set in at the western stations, while southerly and south-easterly winds were blowing over the eastern half of the Province. Considerable interaction was therefore taking place, and this resulted in the formation of a series of small local storms usually accompanied by rain, and on the morning of the 9th a large proportion of the stations in East and North Bengal and a few stations in North Bihár reported light to moderate rain. These disturbed conditions, however, quickly passed away from Bengal and weather became fine, though the majority of stations still reported southerly winds. On the 10th more important meteorological changes had taken place in North-Western India, where a barometric depression appeared over the Western Desert. On the 11th this depression had become more marked and was apparently travelling in an easterly direction, and in advance of the depression moderate general rain commenced to fall, though on the 11th only a few light showers were reported in the Province of Bengal, principally in Chota Nagpur. On the 11th, though the pressure changes in Bengal were exceedingly small, temperature had commenced to rise rather rapidly in front of the advancing depression, and had become from about 7° to 10° above the normal. On the 12th pressure had commenced to fall at the extreme western stations in Chota Nagpur, apparently being influenced by the advancing depression, which was reported on this date to have developed very considerably in intensity. Wind directions in the western districts of the Province also appeared to form the eastern part of a cyclonic circulation, though in the eastern half of the Province winds were north-westerly. Fairly general rain commenced in Chota Nagpur on the 12th, and rain also was reported on this day in Santhal Parganas, Shahabad, and Gaya. On the 13th the barometric depression had advanced in an easterly direction, and its centre was near Agra and Jhansi, and it was still a considerable storm, and in Bengal rainfall had on this day extended over a considerable part of Bihár, though it was very light and perhaps not very general. On the morning of the 14th, the depression was between Cawnpore and Sutna, having moved slowly in an easterly direction. Pressure was hence falling moderately to rapidly in Bengal, while temperature was as usual rising rapidly in front of the advancing depression. Conditions generally on this day became decidedly disturbed; a few rain showers were reported in Bihár, and at Darjeeling a gale of wind was reported, pointing to the fact that the depression was largely influencing the upper layers of the atmosphere.

On the morning of the 15th the depression had to a great extent filled up and disappeared, and pressure was rising in Bengal, while on the other hand temperature had fallen rapidly. The depression gave very disturbed weather from the 14th to the 15th, and at Darjeeling a severe storm accompanied by a large amount of hail occurred, and 1·67 inches of rain (due to the melting of the hail) was registered. At most of the stations in the Province of Bengal, except those in East Bengal and Orissa, rain was also recorded on the morning of the 15th. A brisk to rapid increase of pressure had taken place on the 16th, and the effects of the depression had quite disappeared, winds became again generally northerly and north-westerly, and a fall of temperature varying from about 3° to nearly 9° occurred, and for the time ordinary cold weather conditions again became established in Bengal. From the 15th to the 19th practically no rain was reported except from a few stations in Orissa and South-West Bengal. From the 17th to the 19th the changes were quite unimportant, but on the 19th conditions again commenced to change in Bengal, for pressure began to fall briskly owing to the existence of another barometric depression which had appeared in North-Western India and which was advancing slowly down the Gangetic plain. On the morning of the 19th the centre of the depression was near Lucknow, but it was decidedly feeble and was giving little rain. Temperature in Bengal in front of the advancing depression as usual again rose and became above the normal by 2° or 3°. Winds also became generally southerly and humidity rose rapidly, and conditions became a little abnormal and unsettled, though no stations reported rain. On the 20th, pressure fell briskly in Bengal and became about a tenth of an inch below the normal, and a depression apparently existed in a feeble form over the province. Winds were, however, very irregular and did not show any distinct circulation. On the 21st pressure had again fallen rapidly in Bengal and a very distinct depression existed on this day, the centre of which was in North Bengal, where at some stations pressure was nearly a quarter of an inch below the normal. Temperature also rose rapidly and became from about 4° to 8° above the normal. On the 22nd the pressure changes over Bengal were very slight, but on the 23rd pressure again fell slowly to moderately in Bengal, and the depression in North Bengal became even more strongly marked, for at some stations, such as at Jalpaiguri and Dhubri, pressure had become nearly three-tenths of an inch below the normal. The wind directions on this day appeared to show that the centre of the disturbance had moved in an easterly direction and was probably passing into Assam. On the 24th pressure continued to fall at the eastern stations, while a moderate increase was taking place in the centre and west of the Province. The depression still existed over North Bengal and the western parts of Assam, with a defect of a quarter of an inch at some stations, and again winds showed a distinct cyclonic circulation round the centre. The effects of the disturbance were rather more marked on this day than they had been, and numerous stations, principally in East Bengal, reported light rain. On the 25th the depression commenced to pass away and a rapid increase of pressure took place, which at Dhubri exceeded a tenth of an inch. Winds were more northerly than they had been, and became at most stations north westerly, and a very rapid fall of temperature and humidity set in, the fall in the mean temperature averaging 4° or 5°, while at some stations humidity decreased 20 and 30 per cent. On the 26th pressure continued to rise and temperature fell and became from about 2° to 4° below the normal, and dry westerly and north-westerly winds prevailed generally over the Province. On the 27th a rapid fall of pressure again set in over Central and Northern Bengal, the fall being largest at Purnea, where it exceeded a tenth of an inch, and there was a distinct tendency for a barometric depression to form over Bengal with a centre near Purnea. With this distribution of pressure winds again became more or less southerly at a large number of stations, and temperature and humidity generally increased rather rapidly. With these slightly disturbed conditions, a few stations, principally in East Bengal, again reported light rain showers. On the 28th this feeble low pressure area moved from Purnea in an easterly direction apparently over Assam or Upper Burma, and weather again became fine with increasing pressure and decreasing temperature over Bengal, and on this and the last day of the month conditions were quite settled and of ordinary north-east monsoon character.

Pressure.—As stated previously, the mean pressure for the month has usually varied from 0·03" to 0·09" below the normal. The defect was, however, comparatively small in the first week of the month, for it only equalled from 0·02" to 0·04". In the second week the defects had rather increased, and at some stations they were as much as 0·06". In the third week the mean defect was about equal to, or perhaps rather less than, that of the first week of the month; but in the last week of the month, owing to the almost continuous existence of a barometric depression over North Bengal, the defect varied from about a fifth of an inch at such stations as Dinajpur and Jalpaiguri to a tenth of an inch in Orissa and Chota Nagpur.

In Assam the mean defect in pressure for the month was nearly 0·08".

Temperature—In the first week of the month was in excess of the normal by about five to six degrees. In the second week again temperatures were very high, and they averaged more than six degrees in excess of the normal. In the third week temperature was high at the commencement comparatively low in the middle when the weather was influenced by the cool wave of air following after the barometric depression, and again high at the close of the week, when the Province began to be influenced by another depression. The mean temperature for the third week was therefore only one degree above the normal. In the fourth week there were again large variations of temperature, but the mean was only about a degree and a half in excess of the normal. The mean temperature for the month has been about three to four degrees above the normal in South-West, East, and North Bengal and Bihár, and about two degrees above it in Assam, Chota Nagpur, and Orissa.

The following table shows generally the variation of the mean temperature from the normal, week by week, at nine typical stations in the Province :—

Rainfall.—The heaviest falls for the month have been reported in Chota Nagpur, which averages 1·30 inches, or a fall nearly twice as large as usual. In South Bihár the falls have averaged 0·75 inch or about 70 per cent. in excess of the usual fall, while in North Bihár the falls averaged 0·50 inch, or slightly in excess of the normal amount. In all other divisions the falls have been in defect. East Bengal has received an average amount of 0·71 inch, or about a third less than usual. North Bengal has received 0·38 inch, also a third less than usual. South-West Bengal has only averaged 0·27 inch, or about a fourth of the normal fall, and Orissa only 0·24 inch, which is also about a quarter of the usual amount. Over a large part of the Province, therefore, the rainfall of February has again been very deficient.

In the case of the districts, the heaviest fall has been reported from Darjeeling with 2·10 inches; Shahabad, Singbhum, Hazáribágh, Lohardaga, and Chittagong Hill Tracts have received falls between one and one and a half inches; Manbhum, Sonthal Parganas, Mymensingh, Tippera, Dacca, Faridpur, and Noakhali falls between three-quarters and one inch; Gaya, Saran, Darbhanga, Muzaffarpur, Rajshahi, Murshidabad, West Burdwan and Birbhum between half and three-quarters of an inch; South Bhágalpur and Monghyr, Jalpaiguri, Rangpur, Dinajpur, Malda, Pabna, Bogra, Bankura and Cuttack between a quarter and half an inch, and all other districts falls of less than a quarter of an inch, except in the case of South-West Midnapore and South 24-Parganas districts, which have received no rain at all.

In Assam during the month Sibsagar has received 4·08 inches of rain, Silchar 3·13 inches of rain, and Dhubri only 0·64 inch of rain.

The following table gives the summary of the temperature and rainfall data of each of the seven meteorological divisions of the province for the month of February 1892 :—

The results of observations at the Alipore Observatory are not rigorously comparable with the registers of past years (at the Park Street Observatory). The barometer is about 3 feet higher at Alipore, and, other things being equal, reads therefore ·003 lower. The diurnal range of temperature is also greater at Alipore, and the mean temperature apparently about 2·1° lower; and, finally, the thermometer which furnished the record of temperature at the Surveyor-General's Office during 20 years and upwards is found to read 0·6 higher than the Kew standard thermometer, which is the standard of reference at the present Observatory.

Explanation.—...... indicate that no rain has fallen. If the return for any day has not been received, the corresponding space is left blank. If any of the returns are wanting, the corresponding spaces in the total rainfall columns are left blank. With reference to the column of rainy days, the definition of a rainy day is when at least 0·1 inch of rain has fallen.

CALCUTTA, the 8th March 1892.

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL FOR THE WEEK ENDING 8 A.M., SATURDAY, THE 5TH OF MARCH 1892.

At the close of the previous week a rather feeble form of barometric depression had appeared over Bengal and had given a rapid fall of pressure and increase of temperature. It, however, apparently quickly passed away in an easterly direction, and on Sunday, the 28th, or the first day of the present week, there was a moderate increase of pressure, while winds became more northerly and westerly than they had been. The depression had, however, caused conditions to be distinctly disturbed in Bengal, and on the morning of the 28th a good many stations in East Bengal reported light rain showers. With the disappearance of the feeble depression from Bengal, temperature began to fall rapidly, and from the 28th to the 29th there was a general fall of from 3° to 7°. The other changes on the 29th were of little importance. On March the 1st, there was a rapid increase of pressure over Bengal, together with a further reduction of temperature, and it became largely below the normal; the defect was quite exceptional in the night or minimum temperatures, and at such stations as Jessore, Saugor Island, Calcutta and Burdwan the night temperatures were from 12° to 15° lower than the normal. On the 1st of March, however, rather important meteorological changes were taking place in North-Western India, and a barometric depression appeared over the Indus valley with a centre near Jacobabad. On the 2nd this depression had advanced towards Neemuch; but at the same time a second and much more severe storm had appeared over the north-west of the Panjab and in the hills, which gave snow at some of the hill stations. In Bengal on this day pressure began to fall moderately, while temperature and humidity rose rapidly, and southerly winds began to set in at many stations. On the 3rd the feeble depression had advanced from Neemuch to between Raipur and Allahabad, while the storm in the hills and in the north-west of the Panjab had moved slowly in an easterly direction, and had commenced to fill up, though it had given rather heavy weather generally in the Panjab. In front of the smaller advancing depression, pressure had fallen moderately to rapidly in Bengal, and there had again been a rapid increase in temperature generally, and a moderate increase in humidity at the eastern stations. Cloud proportion also began to increase considerably on this day, though no rain fell. On the 4th the depression near the hills had broken up and disappeared, while that near Allahabad had advanced over Bengal, and its centre was in North Bengal, not far from Rampur Boalia. The depression was, however, extremely feeble, the deficiency of pressure from the normal only equalling about a tenth of an inch; but it was still accompanied by a fairly complete cyclonic circulation of winds, and southerly winds were therefore reported over a large part of Bengal. With these conditions while pressure was falling at the eastern and rising at the western stations, temperature and particularly humidity became extremely high. The depression was not sufficiently influential to give general rain, but it gave showers to a large number of stations in East Bengal, which were reported on the morning of the 5th, on which day the depression had again advanced in an easterly direction, and was over Assam and Burma. Pressure hence rose rapidly in Bengal on the 5th, except in and near the hills, the increase at some stations equalling more than a tenth of an inch, though pressure still remained below the normal generally. Winds also became westerly and north-westerly, and an extremely rapid fall of humidity occurred, the fall at some stations exceeding 50 per cent. Temperature on this day, however, only fell slowly, though the mean temperature was generally one or two degrees in defect of the normal.

The meteorology of the week has been therefore chiefly noticeable for the existence and movement of the two barometric depressions; and the more severe one of which having apparently given a heavy fall of snow in the hills, its influence will be felt for some days in giving a cool dry wave of air over Northern India generally. Over the greater part of the province, however, the week has again been one in which there has been no rainfall, the only practical exception being in East Bengal, where most stations have received light rain.

Pressure.—The mean pressure for the week has again been considerably in defect of the normal, the usual defect equalling from 0·03″ to 0·05″, though it has apparently been larger than this in the higher layers of the atmosphere, for at Darjeeling a defect of more than a tenth of an inch has been recorded.

Temperature has shown very considerable oscillations during the week, but the mean has been very considerably below the normal. The mean defect of the whole province for the week has equalled 2·8°, while in such divisions as Chota Nagpur and in East and North Bengal the defect has ranged from 3° to 3·5°.

The variation of temperature for the week is, however, most clearly seen in the table below, where the average maximum, minimum, and mean temperatures for the week at nine typical stations in different districts of the province are compared with the normal values for the same period. It will be seen from these figures that the day or maximum temperatures have only been slightly below the normal, but that, on the other hand, the night or minimum temperatures have been largely in defect, the average defects at Calcutta, Dacca and Purnea for the week exceeding 5°.

Rainfall has practically only occurred in East Bengal, where an average fall of 0·33 inch is recorded, but even in this division the districts of Chittagong, Chittagong Hill Tracts and the greater part of Mymensing have received no rain, while on the other hand Tippera has received an average fall of no less than 0·76 inch, Faridpur one of 0·37 inch, and Noakhali one of 0·20 inch.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, and from observations made at 0h, 10h, 16h, and 22h.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

MEMORANDUM.

Review of the Monthly Statistics of Deaths registered in the forty-five districts of Bengal for the month of December 1891.

Mortality.—The total number of deaths (exclusive of still-births) registered in the forty-five districts of Bengal during the month of December 1891 was 238,921, against 216,770 in the preceding month, showing an annual ratio of 43·44 against 39·48 per 1,000 of the aggregate population of those districts which is 65,859,534. The monthly total exceeds all the corresponding figures of the past five years, and also surpasses the quinquennial mean by 61,863. It is also considerably higher than the mortality of any of the previous months of the same year, as the following table shows :—

There were 20,349 deaths from cholera in December 1891, against 13,652 in the preceding month. The figure exceeds all the corresponding numbers of the past five years except 1886 and 1890, and also exceeds the average of the corresponding period of the past five years, 1886—90, by 4,876. One thousand four hundred and ten deaths from small-pox occurred in the month under notice, against 714 in the previous month. The total supersedes all the corresponding figures of past five years, and also exceeds the average of the corresponding month of the previous five years, 1886—90, by 998. The deaths from fever amounted to 183,260, against 171,864 in the preceding month. The figure exceeds any of the corresponding numbers of the past five years, and is beyond the quinquennial mean of the corresponding month of the previous five years, 1886—90, by 53,046. From dysentery and diarrhœa there were 4,532 deaths, against 4,011 in the preceding month. There were 1,157 deaths from injury, against 1,908 in the previous month. The mortality from all other causes amounted to 28,213, against 24,621 in the previous month.

Comparative mortality from the several specific death-causes.—The proportions in which the different death-causes contributed to the total mortality during December 1891, compared with past periods, are as follows:—

Prevalence and fatality of cholera and fever.—The highest rate from cholera was returned from Nadia (26·40), Rajshahi suffered next severely (11·64), then 24-Parganas (11·52), Jessore (11·04), Murshidabad (11·04), Howrah (10·32), Balasore (9·84), Khulna (7·80), Malda (7·32), Dacca (6·48), Cuttack (5·64), Mymensingh (5·52), Pabna (4·80), and Backergunge (4·20). The mortality from fever was highest in Malda (88·44 per mille), Nadia and Jessore come next with 84·72 and 84 48 respectively, followed by Rajshahi (74·64), Faridpur (51·60), Murshidabad (50·40), Purnea (49·20), Rangpur (48·60), Jalpaiguri (46·80), Dinajpur (45·96), Pabna (41·16), Khulna (37·80), Hooghly (37·44), Serampore (36·84), Champaran (36·72), Birbhum (35·28), Dacca (33·60), Noakhali (33·12), Burdwan (32·28), 24-Parganas (32·28), Bogra (31·20), and Backergunge (30·24).

Mortality according to sex and class.—Divided into sex and class the registered results of December 1891 were as follows:—

	Sex.			Class.
	Male.	Female.	Ratio of male deaths to every 100 female deaths, calculated on the proportion such mortality bears to the total male and female population.	Christians.	Hindus.	Muhammadans.	Buddhists.	Other classes.
Number of deaths	124,416	114,505	... 110	340	135,170	99,863	212	3,336
Ratio per mille per annum ...	45·60	41·28		43·08	37·92	56·28	31·92	23·28

It will be seen that the registered results according to sexes relating to each other, were greater among the male than among the female population; thus 110 males died for every 100 females, calculated on the proportion the mortality bears to the total male and female population of the province; but taking the districts individually, in only six districts, viz., Khulna, Dinajpur, Jalpaiguri, Noakhali, Purnea, and Puri, the death-rate among females is greater than that among males. The greatest mortality according to class or nationality, in proportion to population, occurred among Muhammadans and least among other classes.

Mortality according to age.—According to age, the death-rate, as usual, was highest among infants under one year of age, the ratio per mille being 314·64. The increase in December 1891 is no doubt due, in some measure, to better registration, but that does not altogether account for the large excess which is due to causes of local insanitation and the prevailing social condition of the people. The mortality among children over one year and under five years of age is (63·24) also much higher than it ought to be, and the large number of deaths in that period of life is no doubt due to the same cause as the high rate of infant mortality. The age period of greatest immunity during the month under notice was, as is generally the case, between the ages of 10 and 15, the rate being 19·68 per mille. The mortality among persons 60 years of age and upwards was at the rate of 104·52 per mille.

Detailed information under all heads will be found in the statement appended.

IRRIGATION.

REVISED WATER-RATE RULES FOR THE MIDNAPORE CANAL.

Notification No. 62, dated the 16th February 1892.

In exercise of the powers conferred on him by sections 99 and 78 of Act III (B.C.) of 1876, the Hon'ble the Lieutenant-Governor proposes to make the following rules and to fix the undermentioned rates to be charged for water supplied from the Midnapore Canal. These rules and rates will supersede those now in force.

J. M. McNEILE, Col., R.E.,
Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

1. The officers of the Public Works Department, who have charge of the canal, are solely responsible for maintaining it in an efficient state of repair, for providing drainage channels where necessary, and generally for all engineering work involved in its management, as well as for the distribution of water to lessees. The word "canal" is here used as defined in section 3 of the Act.

2. The Deputy Revenue Superintendent, under the supervision of the Collector of the district as Revenue Superintendent, is responsible for the collection of water-rates and miscellaneous revenue accruing to Government from the canal.

3. Water shall not be distributed otherwise than on the application of a lessee, or of a ryot in whose favour a provisional requisition has been issued, as provided for in Rule 21 below. Such application may be made verbally or in writing to any Public Works Department officer in charge of that part of the canal from which water is required.

4. If any lessee apply for water to the Deputy Revenue Superintendent, or one of his subordinates verbally, he should be told to address himself to the officers of the Public Works Department. If he makes such an application in writing, his petition shall be forwarded direct by the canal revenue officer, to whom it is addressed, to the Public Works Department officer in charge of that part of the canal from which the petitioner's village is supplied.

5. The canal officers of the Public Works Department, in consultation with the Deputy Revenue Superintendent, shall map out the irrigable area into blocks in accordance with the natural features of the ground, and so determined that the whole block shall be irrigable from one outlet, or from one set of outlets. So far as may be practicable, the blocks shall be separated by drainage lines.

6. Each block determined as above shall be numbered and recorded with its irrigable area in registers to be maintained by the Public Works officers and by the Deputy Revenue Superintendent. The blocks shall also be marked on maps to be maintained by the same officers.

7. Leases for not more than five years may be granted for the whole irrigable area of a block, or, subject to the provisions of Rule 14, for definite parts of a block, under the following conditions:—

I.—The lease may be for the lands of one or more villages, but ordinarily the whole irrigable area of any village, so far as situated within the block must be included in the lease.

II.—All leases within one block shall be granted so that they shall expire on the same date.

III.—In order to equalise the areas to be dealt with in each year, the date of expiry of the leases in each block shall be determined by the Public Works officers in consultation with the Deputy Revenue Superintendent, so that one-fifth of the total area usually irrigated may fall out of lease in each year.

Explanation.

A	blocks commence	1892	...	...	...	Expire 1897.
B	,, ,,	1893	...	...	...	,, 1898.
C	,, ,,	1894	...	...	...	,, 1899.
D	,, ,,	1895	...	...	...	,, 1900.
E	,, ,,	1896	...	...	...	,, 1901.

Then, should a lease in a B block expire in 1892, a lease for one year must be given. Similarly, a lease in a B block expiring in 1894 must be renewed for four years only. It may, however, be possible in cases like the latter to arrange by mutual consent to cancel the existing and unexpired leases in B blocks in 1893, and then to renew for the full term of five years.

8. The rates to be charged for water supplied between June and November, whether by flow or lift, to lessees on application shall be—

For a term of five years—Rs. 1-8 per acre for each season.

Provided that the leases, whether new or renewals, required for shorter terms in order to develop the system of blocks as explained above shall, on the first occasion, be offered at the above rate.

Subject to the above provision, the rates shall be—

	Rs.	A.	P.
For a term of four years	1	12	0	per acre per season.
,, ,, of three ,, ...	2	0	0	,, ,,
,, ,, of two ,, ...	2	4	0	,, ,,
For one season	2	8	0	,, ,,

Explanation.

An existing lease in a D block expires in 1892. The lessees will be offered a renewal for three years at Rs. 1-8 per acre per season. They decline this, and do not renew till 1893. They can then only get a lease for two years at Rs. 2-4 per acre per season. Similarly, an application for a new lease in a C block is received in 1892. A lease for two years at Rs. 1-8 per acre may be given; but should an application for a new lease in a C block be received in 1895, a lease for four years at Rs. 1-12 per acre will be granted.

9. For the supply of water, when available, for winter crops, a rate of Rs. 1-8 per acre per season shall be charged.

10. For the unauthorized use of canal water a rate of Rs. 5 per acre, or such less rate as may be fixed by the Collector, shall be charged.

11. Applications for water-leases under section 74 of the Act should be presented to the zilladar of the division in which the applicant's land lies, and, subject to Rules 12, 13, 14, 15, and 16 below, zilladars are authorized to grant such leases.

XIV of 1882

(2) If the suit is solely to enhance the compensation awarded by the Collector, the Court which tries the suit may deal with the sums so deposited under the provisions of section 377 (but not of sections 378 and 379) of the Code of Civil Procedure; but

(3) If the suit is also, or solely, to alter the apportionment, made by the Collector, of the compensation among the persons interested, the Court shall retain the sums so deposited pending the decision of the suit, and shall then pay them to the parties in such proportions as may be ordered by the decree; and for this purpose may transfer them to the Court which tries the suit:

Provided that, if the Court which tries the suit shall decide that the compensation awarded by the Collector was in excess of the compensation which should properly have been awarded for the land, the said Court shall in its decree order that the plaintiff shall refund to the Collector any sum which, either under Part V or under section 377 of the Code of Civil Procedure, he may have been paid in excess of the sum which the said Court shall decide to be the compensation which should properly have been awarded for the land; and such excess so paid shall be recoverable by the Collector as costs in the suit.

if the amount of the award (including the said additional sum of fifteen per centum), or any portion thereof in excess of the sum which the Local Government admits to be the proper compensation for the land (including the said additional sum of fifteen per centum) has been paid to persons interested, to recover the excess of such amount, or portion thereof, as the case may be, over the total of the sum which the Local Government admits to be the proper compensation for the land (including the said additional sum of fifteen per centum) from the persons to whom such excess has been paid:

Provided that every such suit shall be instituted within not more than three months from the date of the Collector's award.

22. (1) For the purposes of the Court-fees Act, 1870, the value of a suit to alter the award of the Collector by the enhancement or reduction of the compensation awarded by him shall be taken to be the sum by which it is sought to enhance or reduce such compensation, as the case may be; and the value of a suit to alter the apportionment, made by the Collector, of the compensation among the persons interested shall be taken to be the total amount of the compensation.

Transfer of suits.

Matters to be considered in determining compensation.

"24. In a suit to alter the amount of compensation awarded by the Collector, the Court which tries the suit shall take into consideration—

First, the market-value of the land at the date of the publication of the declaration relating thereto under section 6;

Secondly, the damage (if any) sustained by the person interested, at the time of the Collector's taking possession of the land, by reason of severing such land from his other land;

Thirdly, the damage (if any) sustained by the person interested, at the time of the Collector's taking possession of the land, by reason of the acquisition injuriously affecting his other property, whether moveable or immoveable, in any other manner, or his earnings; and Fourthly, if, in consequence of the acquisition of the land by the Collector, the person interested is compelled to change his residence or place of business, the reasonable expenses (if any) incidental to such change.

Fifthly, any increase to the value of the land acquired likely to accrue from the use to which it will be put when acquired;

Sixthly, any increase to the value of the other land of the person interested likely to accrue from the use to which the land acquired will be put; or

Seventhly, any outlay or improvements on the land acquired commenced, made or effected after the date of the publication of the declaration under section 6.

"26. The decree in a suit to alter the amount of compensation awarded by the Collector shall state—

Matters to be stated in decree.

First, the sum which, in the opinion of the Court which tries the suit, the Collector ought to have awarded as compensation; and

Secondly, the sum or sums which, after the addition to the said sum of fifteen per centum on the market-value of the land mentioned in section 24, shall be paid by, or to, the plaintiff or plaintiffs, or any of them, to, or by, the defendant or defendants, or any of them.

"27. (1) If the sum which, in the opinion of the Court which tries the suit, the Collector ought to have awarded as compensation, is in excess of the sum which the Collector did award as compensation, the decree may direct that the Collector shall pay interest on such excess at the rate of six per centum per annum from the date on which he took possession of the land to the date of payment of such excess into Court.

Collector may be directed to pay interest on excess compensation.

(2) The decree shall not otherwise direct that the Collector shall pay interest, save under section 222 of the Code of Civil Procedure.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

FOR several years past the amendment of the Land Acquisition Act, 1870, has been under consideration by the Government of India in communication with Local Governments.

2. Before the passing of that Act, the valuation of the lands, which it was found necessary to take up for the execution of public works, was entirely in the hands of Arbitrators, from whose decision there was no appeal. This system led to a lamentable waste of the public money, both because the Arbitrators were incompetent, and sometimes, it is to be feared, corrupt, and also because the law, as it then stood, laid down no instructions for their guidance in the performance of their duties. This latter defect among others, was remedied by the Act of 1870, which it is now proposed to amend, and which contains detailed instructions as to the matters which are to be considered, and which are to be neglected, in awards of compensation for lands acquired under its provisions The Act of 1870 also provided for the abolition of the system under which uncontrolled discretion was entrusted to Arbitrators; and, in lieu thereof, required the Collector, when unable to come to terms with the persons interested in land which it was desired to take up, to refer the difference for the decision of a Civil Court, usually that of the District Judge. In the disposal of such references, the Court is aided by Assessors, and its finding is final if the Judge and one or more of the Assessors agree. If, however, the Judge and the Assessors disagree, an appeal is allowed, which usually lies to the High Court.

3. The Act of 1870 has not, in practice, been found entirely effective for the protection either of the persons interested in lands taken up or of the public purse. The requirement that the Collector shall refer for the decision of the Court every petty difference of opinion as to value, and every case in which any one of perhaps a large number of persons fails to attend before him, has involved in litigation, with all its trouble and delay and expense, a great number of persons whose interest in the land was extremely insignificant. It has, in fact, frequently been the case that the owners of small pieces of land have had to pay Court costs to an amount far exceeding the value of the land itself.

4. On the other hand, the provisions of the Act as to the incidence of costs, the whole of which fall on the Collector if the final award is ever so little in excess of the amount of his tender, are such as to encourage extravagant and speculative claims. The chance of altogether escaping the payment of costs is so great, that claimants are in the position of risking very little in order to gain very much, and have, therefore, every motive to refuse even liberal offers made by the Collector, and to try their luck by compelling a reference to the Court. Much the same may be said as to the provisions of the existing law regarding the payment of interest No matter how fair the original offer of the Collector and how groundless the refusal to accept the compensation he has tendered, interest is payable on the amount of the award finally arrived at from the date of the Collector's taking possession of the land. This may be for a period of two or three years, and, as interest continues to run until the litigation is finally completed, it is to the advantage of the landowner to protract the proceedings to the utmost. All this casts a very heavy and undeserved burden on the public purse.

5. It is proposed, therefore, to amend the law by making the Collector's award final, unless altered by the decree in a regular suit. Persons interested in land taken up for public works will thus still have the opportunity, if they desire it, of preferring to an authority quite independent of the Collector their claims to more substantial compensation than the Collector has awarded; and will in all cases have a further right of appeal to the regular appellate courts. They will no longer, however, be encouraged to litigate by the feeling that they can hardly lose, but may make a great gain by doing so.

6. This change in the procedure for determining the valuation of lands taken up for public works will also render it possible to dispense with the services of the Assessors, who are now supposed to assist the Court. Considering the difficulty, almost throughout the country, of obtaining the services of such Assessors as are really qualified to form a sound opinion on the subject of the valuation of land, it is believed that the proposal to dispense with them, and to leave the matter to the sole arbitrament, first of the Collector, and then of the Judge, will in no way diminish the efficiency of the Courts in enquiries in which the value of lands is in issue. It will certainly tend to shorten litigation and to diminish its expense.

7. Several minor amendments in the law, which experience has shown to be desirable, are included in the Bill.

8. A copy of the Act of 1870, as it will stand if amended as proposed by the Bill, is annexed.

17. In cases of urgency, whenever the Local Government so directs, the Collector (though no such award has been made) may, on the expiration of fifteen days from the publication of the notice mentioned in the first paragraph of section 9, take possession of any waste or arable land needed for public purposes or for a Company.

Such land shall thereupon vest absolutely in the Government free from all encumbrances.

The Collector shall offer to the persons interested compensation for the standing crops and trees (if any) on such land and for any other damage sustained by them ; and in case such offer is not accepted, the value of such crops and trees and the amount of such other damage shall be allowed for in awarding compensation for the land under the provisions herein contained.

PART III.

SUITS TO ALTER THE COLLECTOR'S AWARD.

Suits by persons interested to alter Collector's award.

18. A person interested may institute a suit in the Court to alter the award of the Collector under section 11, by the enhancement of the compensation awarded by the Collector or by the alteration of the apportionment, made by the Collector, of the compensation among the persons interested, or in both ways :

Provided that every such suit shall be instituted within not more than three months from the date of the Collector's award if the person interested instituting it received a notice from the Collector under the third paragraph of section 9, or within not more than six months from the date of the Collector's award if the person or persons instituting it, or any of them, did not receive a notice from the Collector under the third paragraph of section 9.

XIV of 1882.

The provisions of section 424 of the Code of Civil Procedure shall not apply to any such suit.

When Collector may be cited.

19. (1) If such suit is either solely or partly to enhance the compensation awarded by the Collector, the Collector shall be cited as the defendant or as one of the defendants.

(2) If such suit is solely to alter the apportionment, made by the Collector, of the compensation among the persons interested, the Collector shall not be cited as a defendant, but the Court shall nevertheless at once send him notice of the institution of the suit.

XIV of 1882.

Deposit by Collector and disposal of amount of compensation.

20. (1) On receipt of a summons under section 64 of the Code of Civil Procedure to appear as a defendant or of a notice of the institution of a suit under section 19 (2), the Collector shall, within fourteen days, deposit in the Court the compensation awarded by him together with a further sum amounting to 15 per centum on the market-value mentioned in section 24, or so much of the said sums as shall not already have been paid to persons interested under Part V.

(2) If the suit is solely to enhance the compensation awarded by the Collector, the Court which tries the suit may deal with the sums so deposited under the provisions of section 377 (but not of sections 378 and 379) of the Code of Civil Procedure; but

(3) If the suit is also, or solely, to alter the apportionment, made by the Collector, of the compensation among the persons interested, the Court shall retain the sums so deposited pending the decision of the suit, and shall then pay them to the parties in such proportions as may be ordered by the decree; and for this purpose may transfer them to the Court which tries the suit

Provided that, if the Court which tries the suit shall decide that the compensation awarded by the Collector was in excess of the compensation which should properly have been awarded for the land, the said Court shall in its decree order that the plaintiff shall refund to the Collector any sum which, either under Part V or under section 377 of the Code of Civil Procedure, he may have been paid in excess of the sum which the said Court shall decide to be the compensation which should properly have been awarded for the land; and such excess so paid shall be recoverable by the Collector as costs in the suit.

Suit by Government to alter the Collector's award or for refund of compensation.

21. If the Local Government shall be of opinion that the compensation awarded by the Collector is excessive, it may institute a suit in the Court against the persons interested, on any one or more of them, either to alter the award of the Collector by the reduction of the compensation awarded by him, if the amount so awarded (including the additional sum of fifteen per centum directed to be paid by section 41), or so much thereof as is, not in excess of the sum which the Local Government admits to be the proper compensation for the land (including the said additional sum of fifteen per centum) has not been paid to the persons interested; or,

If the amount of the award (including the said additional sum of fifteen per centum), or any portion thereof in excess of the sum which the Local Government admits to be the proper compensation for the land (including the said additional sum of fifteen per centum) has been paid to persons interested, to recover the excess of such amount, or portion thereof, as the case may be, over the total of the sum which the Local Government admits to be the proper compensation for the land (including the said additional sum of fifteen per centum) from the persons to whom such excess has been paid:

Provided that every such suit shall be instituted within not more than three months from the date of the Collector's award.

Valuation of suits and determination of jurisdiction.

22. (1) For the purposes of the Court-fees Act, 1870, the value of a suit to alter the award of the Collector by the enhancement or reduction of the compensation awarded by him shall be taken to be the sum by which it is sought to enhance or reduce such compensation, as the case may be; and the value of a suit to alter the apportionment, made by the Collector, of the compensation among the persons interested, shall be taken to be the total amount of the compensation. VII of 1870.

(2) For the purpose of determining the jurisdiction of Courts with respect thereto, the value of a suit instituted under this Part shall be taken to be the total amount of the compensation awarded by the Collector.

Transfer of suits.

23. The Court may transfer for trial any suit instituted under this Part to any Court subordinate to itself, and competent to try the same in respect of its nature, and of the amount or value of its subject-matter:

Provided that, except under the written permission of the Local Government, no such suit shall be transferred for trial to any Court which is not stationed at the head-quarter station of the land-revenue district in which the land is situated.

Such written permission may be either general or special and may at any time be annulled by the Local Government.

Matters to be considered in determining compensation.

24. In a suit to alter the amount of compensation awarded by the Collector, the Court which tries the suit shall take into consideration—

First, the market-value of the land at the date of the publication of the declaration relating thereto under section 6;

Secondly, the damage (if any) sustained by the person interested, at the time of the Collector's taking possession of the land, by reason of severing such land from his other land;

Thirdly, the damage (if any) sustained by the person interested, at the time of the Collector's taking possession of the land, by reason of the acquisition injuriously affecting his other property, whether moveable or immoveable, in any other manner, or his earnings; and Fourthly, if, in consequence of the acquisition of the land by the Collector, the person interested is compelled to change his residence or place of business, the reasonable expenses (if any) incidental to such change.

Explanation.—By 'market-value' is meant the sum for which the land might reasonably have been expected to have been sold, if put up to auction on the spot, without undue haste and under ordinary circumstances, immediately before the publication of the declaration relating thereto under section 6.

Matters to be neglected in determining compensation.

25. But in such a suit the Court which tries the suit shall not take into consideration—

First, the degree of urgency which has led to the acquisition;

Secondly, any disinclination of the person interested to part with the land acquired;

Thirdly, any damage sustained by him which, if caused by a private person, would not render such person liable to a suit;

Fourthly, any damage which, after the date of the publication of the declaration under section 6, is likely to be caused to the land by or in consequence of the use to which the land acquired will be put;

Fifthly, any increase to the value of the land acquired likely to accrue from the use to which it will be put when acquired;

Sixthly, any increase to the value of the other land of the person interested likely to accrue from the use to which the land acquired will be put; or

Seventhly, any outlay or improvements on the land acquired commenced, made or effected after the date of the publication of the declaration under section 6.

Matters to be stated in decree.

26 The decree in a suit to alter the amount of compensation awarded by the Collector shall state—

First, the sum which, in the opinion of the Court which tries the suit, the Collector ought to have awarded as compensation; and

Secondly, the sum or sums which, after the addition to the said sum of fifteen per centum on the market-value of the land mentioned in section 24, shall be paid by, or to, the plaintiff or plaintiffs, or any of them, to, or by, the defendant or defendants, or any of them.

Collector may be directed to pay interest on excess compensation

27. (1) If the sum which, in the opinion of the Court which tries the suit, the Collector ought to have awarded as compensation, is in excess of the sum which the Collector did award as compensation the decree may direct that the Collector shall pay interest on such excess at the rate of six per centum per annum from the date on which he took possession of the land to the date of payment of such excess into Court.

(2) The decree shall not otherwise direct that the Collector shall pay interest, save under section 222 of the Code of Civil Procedure.

XIV of 1882.

Code of Civil Procedure to apply.

28. Save in so far as inconsistent with anything contained in this Act, the provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure shall apply to suits instituted under this Part.

XIV of 1882.

Appeals in certain cases.

29. Notwithstanding anything contained in any other law for the time being in force, an appeal shall lie to the High Court from the decree, or from any part of the decree, in any suit instituted under this Part, of a Judicial Officer appointed by the Local Government under section 3, either specially for any case or generally within any special local limits, to perform the functions of a Judge under this Act, against whose decisions no appeal lies under any law for the time being in force relating to his exercise of his ordinary jurisdiction.

PART V.

Payment.

40. On making an award under section 11 the Collector shall tender payment of the compensation awarded by him to the persons interested entitled thereto according to the award, and shall pay it to them if they shall consent to receive it:

Payment of compensation to whom to be made.

Provided that nothing herein contained shall affect the liability of any person, who may receive the whole or any part of any compensation awarded under this Act, to pay the same to the person lawfully entitled thereto.

41. (1) In addition to the amount of any compensation awarded under Part II, the Collector shall, in consideration of the compulsory nature of the acquisition, pay fifteen per centum on the market-value mentioned in section 24.

Percentage on market-value.

(2) When the amount of such compensation is not paid or payment thereof tendered on or before taking possession of the land, the Collector shall pay the amount awarded and the said percentage with interest on such amount and percentage at the rate of six per centum per annum from the time of so taking possession.

PART VI.

TEMPORARY OCCUPATION OF LAND.

43. Subject to the provisions of Part VII of this Act, whenever it appears to the Local Government that the temporary occupation and use of any waste or arable land are needed for any public purpose, or for a Company, the Local Government may direct the Collector to procure the occupation and use of the same for such term as it shall think fit, not exceeding three years from the commencement of such occupation.

Temporary occupation of waste or arable land.

The Collector shall thereupon give notice in writing to the persons interested in such land of the purpose for which the same is needed, and shall, for the occupation and use thereof for such term as aforesaid, and for the materials (if any) to be taken therefrom, pay to them such compensation, either in a gross sum of money, or by monthly or other periodical payments, as shall be agreed upon in writing between him and such persons respectively.

In case the Collector and the persons interested differ as to the sufficiency of the compensation, the Collector shall refer such difference for the final order of the Court.

Difference as to compensation.

Power to enter and take possession.

44. On payment of such compensation, or on executing such agreement,

or on making a reference under section 43,

the Collector may enter upon and take possession of the land, and use or permit the use thereof in accordance with the terms of the said notice.

And, on the expiration of the term, the Collector shall make or tender to the persons interested compensation for the damage (if any) done to the land and not provided for by the agreement, and shall restore the land to the persons interested therein:

Restoration of land taken.

Provided that, if the land has become permanently unfit to be used for the purpose for which it was used immediately before the commencement of such term, and if the persons interested shall so require, the Local Government shall proceed under this Act to acquire the land as if it was needed permanently for a public purpose or for a Company.

45. In case the Collector and persons interested differ as to the condition of the land at the expiration of the term, or as to any matter connected with the said agreement, the Collector shall refer such difference for the final order of the Court.

Difference as to condition of land.

45A. The Judge may pass such order as he may think fit in regard to the costs of a reference made under this Part, and from such order there shall be no appeal.

Costs on references under this Part.

PART VII.

Company may be authorized to enter and survey.

46 Subject to such rules as the Governor General of India in Council may from time to time prescribe in this behalf, the Local Government may authorize any officer of any Company desiring to acquire land for its purposes to exercise the powers conferred by section 4.

Construction of sections four and five.

In every such case section four shall be construed as if, for the words "for such purpose," the words "for the purposes of the Company" were substituted, and section 5 shall be construed as if, after the words "the officer," the words "of the Company" were inserted.

Consent of Local Government to acquisition.
Execution of agreement.

47. The provisions of section 6 to section 45 (both inclusive) shall not be put in force in order to acquire land for any Company, unless with the previous consent of the Local Government, and unless the Company shall have executed the agreement hereinafter mentioned.

Previous enquiry.

48. Such consent shall not be given unless the Local Government be satisfied, by an enquiry held as hereinafter provided—

(1) that such acquisition is needed for the construction of some work, and

(2) that such work is likely to prove useful to the public.

Such enquiry shall be held by such officer and at such time and place as the Local Government shall appoint.

Such officer may summon and enforce the attendance of witnesses, and compel the production of documents by the same means and, as far as possible, in the same manner as XIV of 1882. is provided by the Code of Civil Procedure in the case of a Civil Court.

Agreement with Secretary of State in Council.

49. Such officer shall report to the Local Government the result of the enquiry, and if the Local Government is satisfied that the proposed acquisition is needed for the construction of a work, and that such work is likely to prove useful to the public, it shall, subject to such rules as the Governor General of India in Council may from time to time prescribe in this behalf, require the Company to enter into an agreement with the Secretary of State for India in Council providing to the satisfaction of the Local Government for the following matters, namely:—

(1) the payment to Government of the cost of the acquisition:

(2) the transfer, on such payment, of the land to the Company:

(3) the terms on which the land shall be held by the Company:

(4) the time within which, and the conditions on which, the work shall be executed, and maintained; and

(5) the terms on which the public shall be entitled to use the work.

Publication of agreement.

50. Every such agreement shall, as soon as may be after its execution, be published in the Gazette of India and also in the local official gazette and shall thereupon (so far as regards the terms on which the public shall be entitled to use the work) have the same effect as if it had formed part of this Act.

Sections 47 to 50 not to apply where Government bound by agreement to provide land for Companies.

50A. The provisions of sections 47 to 50, both inclusive, shall not apply, and shall be deemed never to have applied, to the acquisition of land for any railway or other Company, for the purposes of which, under any agreement between such Company and the Secretary of State for India in Council, the Government is, or was, bound to provide land.

When agreement between Company and Secretary of State need not be proved.

50B. In the case of the acquisition of land for the purposes of a Railway Company the existence of such an agreement as is mentioned in section 50 shall be presumed, unless the contrary is proved or is admitted by the Collector.

Non-existence of Bahia reef.

THE British Admiralty has given notice (No. 23 of 1892) of an unsuccessful search having been made in that vessel for Bahia reef, reported as lying in about lat. 1° 10′ S., long. 126° 50′ E. A sounding of 2,530 fathoms over dark green mud was obtained precisely in the above mentioned position, and similar depths were found in the vicinity

This, in conjunction with the unsuccessful search for the danger made by H. M. Surveying vessel Flying Fish in 1885, and the very doubtful origin of the report, may be taken as disproving its existence. Bahia reef has therefore been expunged from the Admiralty Charts.

Shoals in Lawada approach.

THE British Admiralty has given notice (No. 32 of 1892) of the existence of two shoals lying in the approach to Lawada (Lchadu) from the north-eastward. These shoals, apparently composed of sand and coral, circular in shape and about 5 cables in diameter, with 2 fathoms the least water found on them, and 11 fathoms between them, lie about 5 cables apart in a north-west and south-east direction.

The north-west shoal lies with Conical hill bearing approximately S. 9° W., and Coast hill S. 50° W., distant 10¼ miles, or in about lat. 11° 32¼′ N., long. 43° 19¾′ E.

NOTE.—It is stated that the soundings in the vicinity of the above-mentioned shoals are incorrect, there being in many places 8 fathoms less water than shown on the Admiralty charts.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL, MARINE DEPARTMENT.

No. 23Mne., dated Calcutta, the 15th March 1892.

THE following report of the 18th quarterly inspection of the Dock Works at Kidderpore which are being carried out by the Commissioners of the Port of Calcutta, is published for general information.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

C. W. ODLING,

Joint-Secretary.

QUARTERLY INSPECTION OF KIDDERPORE DOCK WORKS.

Dated Calcutta, the 8th March 1892.

From—LIEUT.-COL. A. D. MCARTHUR, R.E., and J. D. DAVIS, ESQ.,

To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Public Works Department.

AGREEABLY to the orders of the Government of Bengal received with the Under-Secretary's letter No. 495M. of the 24th February 1892, we have the honour to report that the inspection of the Kidderpore Dock Works for the quarter ending 31st December 1891 was made by us on the 3rd instant.

Sixty-feet Lock.—The small quantity of work on the jetties at the head of the lock which remained to be done last quarter is practically completed.

Eighty-feet Entrance.—The jetty heads of this work, of which mention was made in the last report, have been finished.

Double Entrance to Dock No. 1.—Complete, as previously reported.

Tidal Basin.—Dredging to full depth between entrances and dock is now complete.

Dock No. 1.—The additional works rendered necessary by the displacement of the walls reported during the quarter ending 30th September 1890, have been completed, and nothing now remains to be carried out except the dredging of the earth berms left at the foot of the walls.

Graving Dock.—The finishing work in connection with the engine-house for this dock has been completed, and the work is now finished in every respect.

Addition to the Hydraulic Engine-house for Electric light Engines.—Buildings finished and erection of electric plant completed and tested with satisfactory results.

Dock Sheds.—The four sheds to the west side which were erected during last quarter have been roofed in, and satisfactory progress made with the two to the east side. It is expected that these will be completed shortly.

Works generally.—Nothing remained to prevent the dock being used except to dredge the base of the dams outside the Chetla lock and sluice and the dredging of the berms against the walls of the dock.

Expenditure.—The total expenditure up to the end of the quarter under review is reported to be Rs. 2,50,57,552-4-5, of which Rs. 2,24,77,092-10-9 represent outlay on works and Rs. 25,80,459-9-8 on account of land.

During the quarter under review the health of the workpeople was fair. The daily average number of workmen employed was 3,914, among whom there were 5·6 per cent. deaths, thus showing a death-rate of 17·93 per mille per annum.

Remarks.—We consider that the progress on the works in hand during the last quarter was satisfactory, and that, so far as we could judge, the quality of the work done was all that could be desired, promising completion at a very early date.

Explanation.—Summary.—The normal means of air pressure and temperature are the arithmetical average or means of the reading during the same period for the last [illegible]. The humidity of the atmosphere is expressed as percentage, saturated air being represented by 100. A clear sky is denoted by 0 and an overcast sky by 10. The numbers are the numerical means or averages of the rainfall in that district determined from the returns sent in by the subdivisional head in the districts in the districts consisting in returns divided by the number of stations. A rainy day is one on which at least a tenth of an inch fell.

for the week ending Saturday, the 12th of March 1892.

CALCUTTA, the 15th March 1892.

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL FOR THE WEEK ENDING 8 A.M., SATURDAY, THE 12TH OF MARCH 1892.

On the last day of the previous week a feeble barometric depression had passed away in an entirely direction from Bengal. Dry westerly and north-westerly winds then set in over the province which were accompanied by increasing pressure, falling temperature, and a rapid decrease in the humidity, and the air at many stations had become unusually dry. On the 6th, pressure continued to increase rapidly, and there had been a rapid fall in the temperature, the decrease in the mean temperature at some stations equalling as much as from 7° to 9°. Humidity also continued low, though the air was not so dry as on the 5th, and a steady westerly wind current was reported at almost all stations. On the 7th pressure began to give way slowly, but temperature again fell, and the mean temperature over the whole province became about 6° or 7° below the normal of the day, and the defect in the night temperature in some cases exceeded 10°. The changes on the 8th were unimportant, and pressure was generally falling slowly, while temperature was increasing rather briskly. On the 9th, temperature again rose moderately, and pressure was almost steady over the greater part of the province, but it had become comparatively somewhat low in the north of the province, and hence there was a tendency for southerly winds to set in over the greater part of the province. Almost precisely similar conditions obtained on the 10th, and on the 11th pressure was falling moderately to rather rapidly and had become below the normal, the defect ranging up to more than a tenth of an inch in North Bengal. Temperature had also generally risen and had became above the normal by small amounts, while on the 12th a further moderate fall of pressure occurred, and pressure became in defect by amounts ranging from a tenth up to a sixth of an inch in parts of North Bengal, while a further increase of temperature had occurred, and the mean temperature had become generally from about 2° to 5° above the normal. Winds, however, on this day were strongly westerly over the whole province, and hence humidity continued low at most stations

Throughout the whole week, therefore, weather has again been fine over the entire province and the whole province has been rainless.

Pressure—Has been below the normal in all districts, but the defects have been comparatively small in the south-western districts, where they do not as a rule exceed 0·03″ or 0·04″. They have, on the other hand, been largest in North Bengal and North Bihár, and at such stations as Bogra and Dinajpur they exceed 0·08″, while in the higher strata of the air, as at Darjeeling, the defect has been reported to be 0·102″.

Temperature—Was unusually low for the season during the first part of the week, but it became again above the normal at its close. For the whole week the mean temperature of the province has been 2° below the normal, but the defects have been largest in South-West and East Bengal, where they have averaged nearly 3°.

The variation of temperature for the week is, however, most clearly seen in the table below, where the average maximum, minimum and mean temperatures for the week at nine typical stations in different districts of the province are compared with the normal values for the same period. It will be seen that the maximum or day temperatures have been fairly normal, but that the night temperatures have been largely in defect, the deficiency at Calcutta equalling 8·2° and at Cuttack, Dacca, Burdwan, and Purnea exceeding 6°:—

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

Increases.

	Tons		Tons.
Coal	16,287	Rice	2,499
Partly due to provision for brick-burning.		The chief increase is in despatches from Goalundo, Joypurhat and Nawabganj. This is due to a rise in prices in the northern districts.

Decreases.

	Tons.		Tons.
Jute, screwed	1,136	on the several sections, due to short crop.
Haldibari and Mymensingh show the principal decreases.		Railway plant and rolling-stock	4,358
Jute, unscrewed	8,624	Due to fewer repairs and renewals.
The decrease was general among jute-booking stations

IRRIGATION.

The 15th March 1892.

No. 98.—Notification.—In exercise of the powers conferred on him by section 99 of Act III (B.C.) of 1876, notice is hereby given that the Hon'ble the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal proposes to pass the following rules for the Orissa Canals :—

41. The rule passed in notification No. 442, dated the 9th December 1889, is hereby cancelled, and the following rule substituted :—

Beali lands included in a long or five-year lease are not exempted from assessment, but no charge will be made for water supplied to them in the rabi season, or for lift irrigation to high lands excluded from assessment, whether in the kharif or rabi season. No special arrangements to supply water will, however, be made.

42. The rule passed in notification No. 330, dated the 15th September 1890, is hereby cancelled, and the following rule substituted :—

Low lying lands forming part of the rice cultivated area of a village which cannot ordinarily benefit by a canal water, though requiring irrigation in years of drought, will be charged each year at one-third of the usual rate, i.e., eight annas an acre. Lands which never, under any circumstances, require water will be altogether excluded from the lease.

43. Existing long leases may, with the written consent of the Divisional Canal Officer, be extended for not more than three years without further detailed measurement or enquiry, subject to the provisions of rules 41 and 42 immediately preceding.

NOTE.—When a village is divided by drainage channels into distinct blocks, each block shall be recognized as a separate village for the purpose of these and all other rules under the Irrigation Act.

44. Applications for leases in the kharif season will be received up to the 1st of September. After that date the following conditions will be imposed :—

I.—The application must be for a block of land which can be irrigated without unleased lands necessarily being irrigated.

II.—The application shall state the areas in the occupation of each cultivator, and the water-rates payable, and shall be signed by all the cultivators whose names are mentioned in the application. The signatories shall bind themselves to be jointly liable for the water-rates payable, including those due on lands included in the block, the occupiers of which have not for any reason signed the application.

III.—The Sub-divisional Canal Officer, after ascertaining that the area noted in the application reasonably represents that included in the block specified, and that it is possible to supply water within a limited time without irrigating unleased areas, may authorize the issue of a permit for the area specified in the application.

VI.—The rate chargeable shall be Rs. 2 per acre on the area specified in the application. No actual measurement shall be made for the purpose of assessment.

V.—The Sub-divisional Canal Officer, as a condition of authorizing the issue of a permit under this rule, may require that application for a long lease in the form given in appendix A shall be presented for a lease commencing from the 15th of June of the year next following.

VI.—In the case of low lying lands for which water is seldom required, or lands for which a long lease application could not for any reason be accepted, the rate chargeable will be Rs. 1-8 instead of Rs. 2 per acre as mentioned in clause IV.

Bills introduced into the Council of the Governor General for making Laws and Regulations, or published under Rule 22.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

The following Bill was introduced in the Council of the Governor General of India for the purpose of making Laws and Regulations on the 18th March, 1892 :—

No. 7 OF 1892.

A Bill to amend the Indian Limitation Act, 1877, and the Code of Civil Procedure.

XV of 1877. XIV of 1882. WHEREAS it is expedient to amend the Indian Limitation Act, 1877, and the Code of Civil Procedure ; It is hereby enacted as follows :—

XV of 1877. Addition of new section after section 5, Act XV of 1877.

1. After section 5 of the Indian Limitation Act, 1877, the following section shall be added, namely :—

"5A. Whenever it is shown to the satisfaction of a Court that an appeal or an application for a review of judgment was presented after the expiration of the period of limitation prescribed for such appeal or application owing to the appellant or applicant at the time when he presented such appeal or application having been misled by any then unrepealed order, or then existing practice or judgment not then overruled of the High Court of the Presidency, Province or District, such appeal or application, if otherwise in accordance with law, shall for all purposes be deemed by all Courts to have been presented within the period of limitation prescribed therefor."

Limitation for certain appeals or applications for review of judgment.

XIV of 1882. Addition of new section to Chapter XXII of Code of Civil Procedure.

2. To Chapter XXII of the Code of Civil Procedure the following section shall be added, namely :—

"375A. Nothing in this Chapter shall apply to any application or other proceeding in any suit subsequent to the decree.

Applications for execution of decrees not affected.

"Explanation.—An application to the Appellate Court pending an appeal is not an application subsequent to the decree within the meaning of this section."

Addition of new section after section 582 of said Code.

3. After section 582 of the said Code the following section shall be added, namely :—

"582A. If a memorandum of appeal or application for a review of judgment has been presented within the proper period of limitation, but is written upon paper insufficiently stamped and the insufficiency of the stamp was caused by a mistake on the part of the appellant or applicant as to the amount of the requisite stamp, the memorandum of appeal or application shall have the same effect and be as valid as if it had been properly stamped : Provided that such appeal or application shall be rejected unless the appellant or applicant supplies the requisite stamp within a reasonable time after the discovery of the mistake, to be fixed by the Court."

Validation of certain memoranda of appeals or applications for review of judgment.

Addition to section 647 of said Code.

4. To section 647 of the said Code the following shall be added, namely :—

"Explanation.—This section does not apply to applications for the execution of decrees, which are proceedings in suits."

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

IN the case of Bechi v. Ahsanullah Khan, 12 All. 461, the North-Western Provinces High Court held, in accordance with the practice of the High Court at Madras, that under section 12 of the Indian Limitation Act, 1877, in computing "the time . . . . . requisite for obtaining a copy of the decree" the Court ought not to include time which had passed before the application for a copy was made, even though the decree had not then been in fact drawn up or signed. Up to the date of this decision the practice of the Court, following that of the High Court at Calcutta, had been different, and the effect of the decision was to rule out of time several appeals which were in time according to the then practice of the Court, at the time when they were presented.

The first section of the Bill is designed to prevent the occurrence of a similar hardship in future.

2. Sections 2 and 4 of the Bill are intended to meet a conflict of opinion which has arisen between the High Court of Allahabad on one side and the High Courts of Calcutta and Bombay on the other as to the interpretation of section 647 of the Code of Civil Procedure. The Allahabad High Court have held (I. L. R. 12 All. 392) that that section makes the provisions of Chapter XXII of the Code applicable to proceedings in execution of decree. The contrary view has been taken by the High Court of Bombay (I. L. R. 10 Bom. 62) and by the High Court of Calcutta (I. L. R. 18 Cal. 462, 515). Section 2 of the Bill declares that the provisions in question are not to apply to proceedings after decree, and section 4 limits the operation of section 647 of the Code in accordance with the opinions expressed by the High Courts of Calcutta and Bombay.

3. In the case of Balkaran Rai v. Gobind Nath Tiwari (I. L. R. 12 All. 129) it was held by the High Court of Allahabad that a memorandum of appeal cannot be filed or recorded in, or received by, a Court unless and until the proper court-fee is paid in respect of it, and is of no validity unless and until it is properly stamped. Consequently, if it is not, when tendered, properly stamped, it is not at that time a memorandum of appeal within the meaning of section 541 of the Code of Civil Procedure, and the appeal cannot be regarded as having been at that time presented within the meaning of section 4 of the Indian Limitation Act, 1877, or as valid for any other purpose except in the events specified in section 28 of the Court-fees Act.

The Government of India are of opinion that when the insufficiency of the stamp is caused by a bonâ fide mistake on the part of the appellant as to the value of the court-fee stamp required it ought to be obligatory on the Courts to admit the appeal; provided that, if the deficiency is not made good within a reasonable time after the mistake has been discovered, the appeal should then be rejected.

ALEX. EDW. MILLER.

Secretary to the Government of India.

IMPROVEMENT OF SANSKRIT TOLS IN BENGAL:

GENERAL DEPARTMENT—EDUCATION.

Calcutta, the 21st March 1892.

RESOLUTION No. 857.

READ the following papers on the subject of Sanskrit tols in Bengal:—

Letter from the Director of Public Instruction, No. 6726, dated the 5th December 1890.

Letter to the Director of Public Instruction, No. 24, dated the 12th January 1891.

Letter from the Director of Public Instruction, No. 9, dated the 17th January 1892, and its enclosure, from Mahamahopádhyáya Mahesa Chandra Nyáyaratna, C.I.E., Principal of the Sanskrit College, Calcutta.

The Principal of the Sanskrit College was deputed, under the orders of this Government, on a tour of inspection of Sanskrit tols in Bengal, the object of the inspection being to ascertain by personal enquiry which of the tols in the districts visited by him have the highest reputation, to report all necessary details regarding those tols, and, on the completion of his investigation, to submit recommendations for the encouragement of teachers and pupils at those institutions.

2. The report since received contains many interesting details regarding the constitution of the tols, the course of studies pursued in them, and the special characteristics which distinguish those of Bengal, Bihár, and Orissa. In the Province of Bihár, which Pandit Mahesa Chandra Nyáyaratna first visited, Sanskrit studies are, it is reported, at a low level. There is greater irregularity in the working of the tols in this particular portion of the Province than in other parts, owing to the greater poverty of the Bihár pandits, which compels them to go about visiting wealthy people and receiving gifts from them, to the necessary interruption of their work of teaching. It is not that gifts are not made to pandits in Bihár by noblemen and other wealthy people, but that such gifts, not being so systematic as they are in Bengal, afford the Bihár pandits less help than the Bengal pandits receive. Most of the Rajas of Bihár maintain, however, certain tols in their own towns, paying regular salaries to the pandits, and in some cases allowing free board also to the students. The Maharaja of Darbhanga already spends annually a large sum on the support of Sanskrit studies, and on the occasion of the visit of Pandit Mahesa Chandra Nyáyaratna he further signified his desire to establish a Sanskrit College at Darbhanga, and to make it a centre for the Title Examination. Associations have also been established in several places in Bihár with a view to promoting Sanskrit studies.

3. Of the three districts of the Orissa Division, Balasore has no tols. There are several in the Puri district and a few in Cuttack. The Jajpur subdivision of the latter differs greatly from the rest of the province in the matter of Sanskrit learning. It has long been noted as a Sanskrit centre. Vedic ceremonies have obtained here for many ages, there being even now two "Agnihotri" Brahmans who observe the "Agnihotra" ceremony, i.e., keep the fire which was lighted at their birth perpetually burning, and perform the Homa ceremony with this fire morning and evening. This will continue till the death of each, when his cremation pile will be lighted from the fire so maintained. The Principal reports that in Orissa Sanskrit learning is at a lower level even than in Bihár, but that the institution of the Title Examination has given some impetus to the study of Sanskrit literature; that those who obtain titles on the result of this examination are held in honour in the province; and that the possession of a title is a passport also to employment in Government and private schools. The Puri and Dhenkanal Sanskrit Pathsalas alone send up candidates to the Title Examination. The rules in connection with the Title Examination are little known in the Province, except at Puri and Dhenkanal, and this, together with the absence of any local systems of examination, such as exist in Bengal and Bihár, operates prejudicially in the Province. The present low ebb of Sanskrit teaching in Orissa is the more to be regretted, as it appears that in old times pandits were very liberally patronised by the Rajas, so much so that they received numerous rent-free grants of villages, certain parts of which were marked out for the exclusive residence of Brahman families devoted to the practice of religious rites or to the cultivation of Sanskrit learning.

At Puri, besides the Sanskrit pathsala, there are maths and tols, where Sanskrit teaching is carried on. A "math" is properly a convent of monks presided over by a Swámí or Mahant, the Swámí being absolute ruler of the math and owner of its property; but in the course of time the maths in Orissa have become places of instruction for students of Sanskrit.

The report notices as a peculiar feature of a few of the tols in the Puri district that, contrary to the inherent principle of a tol, the pandits, so far from teaching, lodging and boarding their pupils free, receive trifling fees of one, two or even three annas a month from each of the students.

4. In the Province of Bengal, which has always been especially celebrated for the study of the Nyáya philosophy, the renowned seats of Sanskrit learning are Nadia, Bikrampur, Bakla Chandradwip, Tribeni, Bhatpara, and Khanakul-Krishnagar. In Bengal, as a rule, pandits lodge and feed their pupils, the practice of old being for zamindars to make grants in perpetuity of rent-free land to pandits noted for their learning. It was mainly rent-free land that enabled pandits to support their families and bear, besides, the expense of free lodging and boarding for their pupils. Grants of rent-free lands have now to a great extent gone out of fashion, and have almost entirely ceased. Money contributions or gifts of rice to tol pandits continue to be regularly made by some patrons of Sanskrit learning, though such instances also are said to be at the present time few in number. The resources of pandits consist now chiefly of gifts called vidáya, received from wealthy people of good caste, at srádddhas, marriages, the consecration of temples and tanks, return from pilgrimages, &c. Of late also certain patrons of Sanskrit learning have established institutions for the prosecution of Sanskrit studies, in which the teachers receive fixed salaries and the pupils receive stipends. The tols of Nadia, originally brought into being by royal initiative and long maintained by royal patronage, came to be maintained by Hindu zamindars after the Musalman conquest of the land. Owing, however, to the steady decline in Nadia, as elsewhere in Bengal, of grants of rent-free land and money gifts by Hindu zamindars and other wealthy Hindus, the numbers both of tols and pupils in that place have been gradually diminishing.

5. Besides the tols, there are institutions, religious and secular, managed either by local associations or by individual patrons, that have been engaged in promoting the study of Sanskrit. Twenty such institutions exist already in Bihár, five in Bengal, and one in Orissa. Of these five are examining Associations, namely (1) the Dacca Sárasvat Samaj; (2) the Bihár Sanskrit Sanjivan; (3) the Boaliya Dharma Sabha; (4) the Nadia College of Pandits; and (5) the Bhatpara Pariksha Samaj. All these Associations are said to have promised co-operation in any measures that may be taken by Government for the improvement of tols and the encouragement of Sanskrit learning; and in the following scheme it is proposed to make use of some or all of these associations, as well as of others that may hereafter be established with an approved organization, in holding examinations and in distributing rewards in accordance with the results

6. With a view to the revival of Sanskrit study in these indigenous tols, specific proposals have been made by Mahamahopádhyáya Mahesa Chandra Nyáyaratna and approved by the Director of Public Instruction, which may be classified as follows:—

First—A provision for large salaries or stipends (non-pensionable) to the teachers of a few selected tols or other institutions for the study of Sanskrit; and

Second—A system of rewards in the form of small stipends to be awarded annually to teachers and pupils on the results of periodical examinations; the stipends to teachers being tenable for one year, and those to pupils for two years, a term which may be extended to three years in the case of Nyáya students.

7. The details of the proposals under the first and second heads are as follows:—

	Total per annum. Rs.
First head.
Three stipends to Nadia tols, at Rs. 100, Rs. 60, and Rs. 50 a month	2,520
One stipend at Revilganj at Rs. 40	480
Ditto at Puri, Rs. 30	360
	3,360
Second head.
(a) Rewards to teachers.	Rs.
Stipends to 20 teachers on the results of the first examination, at Rs. 6 a month each, and 20 teachers at Rs. 8 a month each ...	3,360
Stipends to 15 teachers on the results of the second examination, at Rs. 10 each a month, and 15 teachers at Rs. 12 each a month	3,900
Total ...	7,320
	Annual cost. Rs.
(b) Rewards to pupils.
On the results of the first examination, stipends to 100 pupils at Rs. 2 a month each	2,400
On the results of the second examination, stipends to 30 pupils at Rs. 3 a month each, and 30 pupils at Rs. 4 a month each...	2,520
	4,920

Of the grants included under the first head, it is suggested that the first and third of the Nadia stipends, as well as the stipends proposed for Revilganj and Puri, should be allotted to tols which devote themselves especially to the study of Nyáya, while the second of the Nadia stipends (Rs. 60) is intended for a tol in which Smriti (Hindu law) is the main study.

8. The present sanctioned expenditure amounts to Rs. 3,400, thus made up—

	Rs.
Allowance to tol students at Nadia, at Rs. 200 a month ...	2,400
Grant to Dacca Saraavat Samaj	500
Grant to Bihár Sanskrit Sanjivan	500

Of this amount it is asked that the first item may be continued, on the understanding that payments are in future made only to students of Nyáya and Smriti not resident in the town of Navadwip or its neighbourhood; but it is agreed that the second and third items may cease on sanction being accorded to the proposals formulated in the preceding paragraph. The total expenditure will therefore amount to Rs. 18,000 a year (Rs. 3,360 + Rs. 7,320 + Rs. 4,920 + Rs. 2,400), or Rs. 14,600 in excess of the present expenditure.

9. The Lieutenant-Governor has read with much interest the report of Pandit Mahesa Chandra Nyáyaratna and of the Director of Public Instruction on the subject of Sanskrit tols in Lower Bengal, and desires that the thanks of Government may be conveyed to the Pandit. As regards financial provision for carrying out the proposals, the Lieutenant-Governor directs that in addition to the allowance of Rs. 200 a month now paid to tol students at Nadia, the following arrangements shall be made:—

(a) Five stipends to tols, costing Rs. 3,360, will be awarded during the year 1892-93, the cost being met from savings in the Education Budget for that year.

(b) During the year 1892-93, on the result of examinations conducted by the recognised Associations, the whole of the rewards to teachers and one-half of the rewards to pupils will be awarded, i.e. Rs. 7,320 plus half of Rs. 4,920, or Rs. 9,780. This sum will have to be paid in the year 1893-94, so that in that year there will be required Rs. 3,360 plus Rs. 9,780, or Rs. 13,140.

(c) In 1893-94, examinations will again be held by the Associations for rewards to teachers and the remaining half of the rewards to pupils, and in 1894-95—

	Rs.
A provision will have to be made for	13,140
And the rest of the rewards to pupils	2,460
	15,600

(d) Provision should be made in due course in the Education Budgets of the years 1893-94 and 1894-95 for the additional sums of Rs. 13,140 and Rs. 15,600, that is, for a total expenditure of Rs. 18,000 in the latter year.

10. The Director of Public Instruction will be desired to submit hereafter for the orders of Government a scheme for the distribution of the rewards for teachers and pupils among the different Associations of the province, to be by them awarded, for 1893-94 and subsequent years, on the results of the examinations held by them. The Director will also be requested to settle, in communication with the Principal of the Sanskrit College and the local Associations, the subjects and standards of the different examinations, and the centres at which they are to be held.

11. The Lieutenant-Governor desires also to invite the co-operation and support of the wealthy nobility and gentry in Bengal in the furtherance of the study of Sanskrit, which the Government is anxious to encourage by the means above described.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of this Resolution be forwarded to the Director of Public Instruction for information and guidance, and for communication to Pandit Mahesa Chandra Nyáyaratna, and also to the Financial Department of this Office.

Ordered also that a copy of the Resolution be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

C. E. BUCKLAND,
Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

No. 9, dated Calcutta, the 17th January 1892.

From—Sir Alfred Croft, K.C.I.E., Director of Public Instruction, Bengal,
To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, General Department.

In continuation of my No. 6745, dated the 3rd December 1891, I have the honour to submit the accompanying report by Mahámahopádhyáya Mahes Chandra Nyáyaratna, C.I.E., Principal of the Sanskrit College, Calcutta, communicating the results of the inspection of Sanskrit tols throughout Bengal, which he was instructed to undertake in Mr. Maude's letter No. 24, dated the 12th January 1891. The supplementary instructions which I issued to the Pandit in accordance with those orders were submitted to Government with my letter No. 434, dated the 22nd January 1891.

2. The report contains many interesting details, hitherto unpublished, regarding the constitution of the tols, the course of studies pursued in them, and the special characteristics which distinguish the tols of Bengal, of Bihar, and of Orissa. A full account is given of the various associations, religious or secular, which have been established in recent years for the promotion of Sanskrit study; of the Sanskrit schools maintained by these associations as well as by individual patrons of learning; of the examinations conducted by them, either independently of or in subordination to the Sanskrit Title examination held annually in Calcutta and other centres; and of the effect of such examinations in maintaining and stimulating the systematic study of Sanskrit. The newly-formed association known as the "Nadiya College of Pandits," the declared object of which is to combine the schools and studies of Nadiya into an organised institution, comes in for some candid criticism. The causes which have led to the decline of the tols and of the indigenous study of Sanskrit in recent years are discussed; and the report concludes with some general recommendations for reviving Sanskrit studies in the future, by a system of stipends to be awarded to a few selected teachers, and of rewards after examination to be paid to teachers and pupils alike.

3. Before considering the specific proposals which the Mahámahopádhyáya has made for the expenditure of Government money on the tols of Bengal, it is necessary to enquire whether there is reason to believe that such expenditure would have the desired effect, namely, a revival of Sanskrit study in these indigenous institutions. In the following extract from paragraph 81 of the report, Pandit Mahes Chandra Nyáyaratna, while clearly explaining the causes of the present decay, declares that it can only be arrested by very liberal help from outside:—

"The old custom of sons pursuing the calling of the father, which made pandits' sons grow up to be pandits unless they happened to lack the mental power to do so, is losing its hold upon the country, and pandits' sons are accordingly being trained up for secular callings that promise better prospects from a worldly point of view than the calling of a pandit. Thus it is that families of pandits in Bengal have all been tending to assimilate themselves to the other Brahman families of the province, i.e., have all been tending towards secular callings that hold out prospects of pecuniary gain. Most of the best pandits of Bengal, all the Mahámahopádhyáyas without exception, have trained up or are training up their sons or grandsons for other callings than their own—have given them or are giving them, in fact, an English education. It is but natural that men should prepare their sons for such walks of life as they think would be most advantageous to them, and this is what the pandits of Bengal have been doing. Non-pandit Brahman families hardly ever think of training up any juvenile member at a tol for the career of a pandit. Our tols are thus being threatened with a stoppage of supply of boys. An utter stoppage of supply is not likely to occur in the near future, but matters appear to be clearly tending to this. The aggregate intellectual capacity of the present generation of tol students is lower than that of the past generation as unquestionably, I think, as the number is lower; and this deterioration in quality and decrease in number, judging from present circumstances, tend to be progressive. To arrest this decline very liberal help from individuals and from the State would be needed."

The writer himself supplies a significant illustration of the tendency of the younger generation of pandits to forsake the calling of their ancestors. Himself the descendant of a long line of pandits, he is the last of his race, and his three sons are distinguished students of the Calcutta University. The question of chief importance is whether any aid that Government or that private individuals or associations would be likely to afford, could have any sensible effect in arresting this tendency. It may readily be admitted that in the case of men like Pandit Mahés Chandra Nyáyaratna, who have achieved distinction in paths that lead away from the simple surroundings of a tol, and whose lives are more largely affected by the influences and the interests of modern civilisation, it would have no such effect. But for the others—for the young Brahmans, sons of pandits of the old stamp, who have formed, and must always form, the backbone of the tol system—what effect would a fairly liberal system of aid have upon them? Our educational returns show some 16,000 or 17,000 students of tols, but only a small proportion of these intend to devote their lives to Sanskrit; the rest merely spend a year or two in a tol in order to acquire a rudimentary knowledge of the language before proceeding elsewhere for the studies that pay. We have to consider the probable effect of the proposals upon the pandit class—upon those who by the tradition of generations have become the repositories of indigenous Sanskrit learning. It is not enough, however, to show that the immediate result of instituting a system of stipends would be to attract to the tols a number of pupils of this class who now, owing to the difficulty of securing a maintenance during a further period of study, have to be take themselves to other callings. It is necessary to show further that, after the period of pupilage is past, such men, or a sufficient number of them, will continue to pursue the same path, no longer as students but as teachers. But these two questions are in reality one. The tols, it is urged, are falling away for want of pupils and of the funds for their maintenance. Provide a widespread system of stipends, and pupils will be attracted by the hope of gaining them. Provide qualified pupils and a provision for their maintenance, and there will be no lack of teachers.

4. I now turn to the specific proposals which the Pandit has made for giving effect to these principles. They are not fully contained in his report, but have been elaborated in subsequent conferences that I have had with him on the subject. They consist of two portions; the first, a provision for large salaries or stipends (non-pensionable) to the teachers of a few selected tols or other institutions for the study of Sanskrit; the second a system of small stipends to be awarded annually or for short terms to teachers and pupils on the results of periodical examinations.

5. The first set of proposals is contained in paragraphs 82 to 85 of the report. They include the award of three stipends of Rs. 100, Rs. 60, and Rs 60 a month, respectively, the first two to the two Nyaya pandits, and the third to the Smriti pandit, who may from time to time be adjudged by Government to be the most distinguished and deserving among the pandits of Nadiya, the historical seat of Nyaya and Smriti learning. In general they would be awarded for the pandit's lifetime, or for so long as he maintained his tol; but there would be nothing to prevent the Government from transferring any stipend from its present possessor to a worthier claimant. A further proposal is that an allowance of Rs. 40 a month should be made to the Thompson Gautama Pathsala at Revilganj for the maintenance of a teacher of Nyaya, and an allowance of Rs. 30 a month for the same purpose to the Sanskrit pathsala at Puri, which is maintained by an endowment of Rs. 5,500 made by the late Maharaja of Balarampur, and by a subscription of Rs. 1,300 a year continued by his widow. The last proposal is that a grant of Rs. 25 a month should be made to the Sanskrit College of Calcutta for the maintenance of five Vedic pupils, when the projected class for teaching the Vedas is opened in that institution. Since the submission of the report, however, the Mahanta of Tarakesur has not only endowed the Vedic class in perpetuity by an investment of Rs. 9,000, yielding Rs. 360 a year, but has also made provision for the maintenance of students attending the class by a further investment of Rs. 3,000. Both these generous gifts have been accepted by Government.* in addition to the earlier gift of Rs. 5,000 made for the establishment of a Vedic class by Babu Dwarkanath Pal of Bansbarai. In view of these endowments, Pandit Mahes Chandra has now withdrawn his proposal for the grant of Rs. 25 a month for scholarships to Vedic pupils in the Sanskrit College. He has also accepted a suggestion to reduce the second of the two Nyaya stipends mentioned above from Rs. 60 to Rs. 50. These amended proposals involve a monthly expenditure of Rs. 280 for five stipends, three in Nadiya, one at Revilganj, and one at Puri.

* General Department, No. 870, dated 11th December 1891, to the Director of Public Instruction.

In this connexion it will be noticed that the Pandit also urges (paragraph 83) the continuance of the grant of Rs. 200 a month which is made by Government to the pupils of the Nadiya tols as a subsistence allowance. This allowance dates from before 1829. He proposes the following modifications in the conditions under which the grant is now made; that it should be confined, as in former days, to students of Nyaya and Smriti, local residents being excluded; and that the ordinary allowance to a student should be Rs. 4 a month, subject to reduction to Rs. 2 in the case of certain students who already receive daily allowances from existing private foundations attached to two tols known as the pákd and the kánchá tols.

6. The reasons which may be urged for giving exceptional encouragement to the study of Nyaya at Nadiya are the following. Nadiya is recognised throughout India as the head quarters of the Nyáya philosophy, and students resort thither from all parts of the continent in order to study it. It would be regarded as a great loss to Sanskrit studies, if Nyáya were to decline and fall into neglect in its chosen home; and without special support there may be some danger of this result. The offer by Government of two valuable stipends to those who might be selected from time to time as the foremost professors of that subject would unquestionably supply an incentive and encouragement to the whole body of teachers of Nyáya, both present and future. The proposed stipends have been fixed at such a rate as will relieve their holders from the necessity of roving about the country in quest of presents for the support of their tols; the annual income from all sources of a pandit of the highest class at Nadiya being estimated at something like Rs. 1,200. One of the chief drawbacks to the present system is the serious interruption of studies which is caused by the frequent absences of the teacher on this account; and it is alleged that studies which now occupy ten or twelve years could be got through in half the time if they were fairly continuous. One of the conditions attached to the stipend should therefore be the definite restriction of the period within which the teacher might absent himself from his tol. Similar observations apply in a nearly equal degree to the proposed Smriti stipend.

7. The reasons for making special provision for the teaching of Nyáya at the Revilganj Gautama Pathsala and at the Sanskrit pathsala at Puri are given in paragraphs 11, 33, and 85 of the report.

8. The second section of the Pandit's proposals relates to the award of stipends to teachers and pupils on the results of examination. This will probably be at once accepted as an eminently suitable method of encouraging Sanskrit studies over a wide area. In order to carry out this scheme, which is only touched upon, without details, in paragraph 86 of the report, it is now proposed that the Bihar system (see paragraph 14) of the subsidiary examinations leading up to the Sanskrit Title examination should be extended to the whole province. It is also proposed that these examinations should be carried out by the five local associations referred to in paragraphs 70—80 of the report, and by any others, that may hereafter be established with similar objects, and should be held annually. A certain proportion of the stipends, to be fixed from time to time in reference to the importance of each, should be allowed to the different Associations, and be by them awarded, under rules to be hereafter prescribed, to the most deserving teachers and pupils at the first and at the second examination. The stipends awarded on the results of the first examination should be tenable for two years, subject to an examination at the end of the first year for retention of the stipend. Those awarded on the results of the second examination should be tenable for three years in the case of Nyaya students, and for two years in other cases, subject again to the condition of examination for retention of stipend. The following scale of rewards is proposed:—

Stipends to pupils.

	Rs.
On the result of the first examination, 100 pupils at Rs. 2 a month each	2,400
On the results of the second examination, 30 pupils at Rs. 3 a month each, and 30 pupils at Rs. 4 a month each ...	2,520
	4,920

Rewards to teachers.	Rs.
On the results of the first examination, 20 teachers at Rs. 6 a month each, and 20 teachers at Rs. 8 a month each ...	3,360
On the results of the second examination, 15 teachers at Rs. 10 a month, and 15 teachers at Rs. 12 a month	3,960
	7,320

I may observe that no additional rewards are required for candidates at the Sanskrit Title examination, to which many prizes and rewards have been attached by private benefactors.

9. It will be observed that the stipends for pupils have been fixed at the rates of Rs. 2, Rs. 3, and Rs. 4 a month each. Pandit Mahes Chandra Nyáyaratna estimates the monthly expenses of a tol student at Nadiya, which is not an exceptionally cheap place, as follows:—

	Rs.	A.	P.
1. Rice, 20 seers	1	12	0
2. Dâl, 60 chittacks	0	5	3
3. Vegetables and fish	1	8	0
4. Mustard oil (for cooking and rubbing the body)	0	7	6
5. Salt, spices, earthen cooking vessels, &c.	0	4	0
6. Firewood	0	12	0
7. Gram and raw sugar for lunch ...	0	3	0
8. Kerosine oil for lighting	0	4	0
9. Washerman	0	2	0
10. Barber	0	1	0
	5	10	9

Some of these items seem to be susceptible of reduction; and it appears that the allowance made to the students of the páká tol at Nadiya, consisting of rice, dâl, and two pice daily, comes to about Rs. 3 a month. The Pandit, however, states that this allowance is found to be insufficient, and that the students of the páká tol have to beg in order to supply the deficiency. It is also alleged that whenever a subsistence allowance is made to tol students by associations or by individual patrons of Sanskrit learning, it is nowhere less than Rs. 4 a month. This is the rate allowed at the Mulajor tol, maintained by Maharaja Sir Jotindra Mohan Tagore Bahadur, at the Biswanath tol, maintained at Chinsurah by Babu Bhudeb Mukherji, C.I.E., at the Burdwan Maharaja's tol, and at the Jubilee tol at Berhampore.

10. The foregoing proposals regarding new expenditure may now be summarised:—

	Rs.
Three stipends to Nadiya tols, at Rs. 100, Rs. 60, and Rs. 50 ...	2,520
One stipend at Revilganj, at Rs. 40	480
Ditto at Puri, at Rs. 30	360
	3,360
Rewards to teachers	7,320
Stipends to pupils	4,920
	15,600

The present sanctioned expenditure amounts to Rs. 3,400, thus made up:—

	Rs.
Allowance to tol students at Nadiya at Rs. 200 a month ...	2,400
Grant to Dacca Sarasvat Samaj	500
„ to Bihar Sanskrit Sanjivan	500
	3,400

It has already been proposed (paragraph 5) that the allowance of Rs. 200 a month to the Nadiya students should be continued. The grants of Rs. 500 each made to the two local associations should, however, cease, as they will be merged in the grants to be made, if these proposals are accepted, for stipends and rewards to pupils and teachers. Hence the total expenditure would amount to Rs. 18,000 a year, or Rs. 14,600 in excess of the present expenditure. This is somewhat in excess of the amount contemplated by Government; but it may be pointed out that if only those tols, to the number of 761, which have been reported on by Pandit Mahes Chandra, be considered, the proposed scale provides only one stipend for a pupil to about every ten tols (the stipend being generally tenable for two years) and one reward for a teacher to about every twenty tols. This will hardly be thought an extravagant provision. I would call attention to the suggestion made in paragraph 88 of the report, that Municipalities and District Boards should be encouraged to contribute to the support of tols. If, as is not unlikely, a ready response should be made to that call, and if, under the stimulus of Government encouragement, private munificence should be elicited in support of the tols, as it was conspicuously elicited when the Sanskrit Title examination was established, it may be possible before very long to reduce the amount of any contribution that Government may now sanction. It might be sanctioned in the first instance for three years.

11. I beg, therefore, to recommend these proposals to the liberal consideration of Government. The importance of the pandit class, and the influence which it has and will probably continue to have in the control of Hindu society, seem to make it a matter of high political moment that interests so large should be entrusted to capable hands. If by any small subsidy, such as that now proposed, the threatened decadence of the class of pandits can be in any way arrested, if stronger intellects can be attracted to the tols, and if the former vigour of these ancient institutions can be restored, it can hardly be contested that the money will be well spent.

No. 84, dated Calcutta, the 7th September 1891.

From—MAHAMAHOPADHYAYA MAHESA CHANDRA NYAYARATNA, C.I.E., Principal, Sanskrit College, Calcutta,

To—The Director of Public Instruction, Bengal.

IN reference to your letter No. 326, dated the 16th January 1891, forwarding copy of Government letter No. 24, dated the 12th idem, on the subject of inspection of tols in Bengal, and containing instructions supplementary to those contained in the Government letter as to the object of the proposed inspection, I have the honour to submit the accompanying report of my inspection, which was completed by the end of May 1891, together with descriptive statements of tols, of Sanskrit institutions, and of examining bodies, *marked A, B, and C, respectively.

REPORT ON THE TOLS OF BENGAL, BIHAR, AND ORISSA.

1. By way of preface it seems needful that I should give a general description of tols and the tol system of instruction. The word tol is a word of non-Sanskrit origin, and is in use only in Bengal, where tols are also called chaupádi or chaubádi, from Sanskrit chatuspáthi, a place for teaching the four [Vedas]. Chaupádi is a name current likewise in North-Eastern Bihar (Mithila) and in parts of Orissa.

2. The tol is an institution of a peculiar character. It is a school of learning where pupils are not only taught free of charge, but are likewise lodged and boarded free.

As the name tol is confined to Bengal, so is the practice of lodging and boarding pupils, as a rule, confined to this province. The only departure in Bengal from this practice is to be found in the tols of Nadiya (Nuddea), where pupils till lately were almost universally not fed by their teachers. Certain teachers there do now feed some of their pupils, or contribute small sums towards their maintenance. It may be that the existence of a grant, formerly by the Nadiya Rajas and now by Government, for the benefit of tol students at Nadiya, has caused a departure from the general Bengal practice of uniting free lodging and feeding with free teaching. The practice rests on Sastric injunctions. The Sástras pronounce this a duty, and make it a sin to accept remuneration for imparting instruction. Great are the sacrifices that many Pandits endure to act up to the ideal of a teacher's duties as laid down in the Sástras.

* Not published in Calcutta Gazette.

3. In Bihar and Orissa, generally speaking, teachers do not concern themselves with the feeding of their pupils, the only notable exception being a corner of Bihar, viz. Darbhanga, which, like the rest of Mithila, is in so many matters like Bengal. The general practice in Bihar and Orissa is for pupils to come for instruction as day-scholars to the teacher, who teaches them either in his own house, or in a temple, or in some neighbour's house, which may be more suitable for the purpose of teaching than his own.

4 Schools for instruction in Sanskrit are called vidyálayas or páthsálás in Bihar and Orissa, North-Eastern Bihar and Jajpur in Orissa, however, using the Bengal name chaupáli In the Puri district of Orissa tols are called chális. The word chálí means a small shed. Tol in Bengali is a name also for the temporary habitations of Bediás (Gypsies). Taking the two words chálí and tol together, it appears that tol primarily meant a shed serving as a temporary habitation. A tol is generally located outside the limits of inhabited places, villages or towns. It consists of one or more long huts with mud or wicker walls and thatched roofs. Each hut is divided into compartments, the partitions, however, not reaching to the roof. These compartments, in which the students are quartered, are of small dimensions, generally about seven feet square, and raised banks of earth (vedí) within very often serve for bedsteads. The part of the compartment that is not occupied by the vedí is reserved for cooking and other purposes. All the pupils in a tol, however, do not cook for themselves. Some get their meals free at the house of the teacher. The pupils who cook their food receive free gifts of rice and other eatables from their teacher. Pupils not belonging to the same class of Brahmans as the teacher always cook for themselves. All the pupils in a tol are not free boarders. Some of the pupils may be local residents who attend the tol as day-scholars. Some pupils, again, who are not local residents, may be freely boarded by local residents. Beginners or grammar pupils generally are the pupils who are so boarded.

5. In addition to the huts that furnish quarters to the students, there is a hut called sarasvatí-mandap, open on one side and sheltered on the other three. It measures about 20 feet ×, 10 feet, and is the place where the teacher teaches his pupils. The teacher takes his seat here on a mat, and the pupils take theirs on separate mats before him, some on his right, some on his left, and some also facing him, if there is no more room on the right and the left.

6. The work begins at about 7 o'clock in the morning, and continues to about noon. All the pupils being assembled together, the teacher begins with the least advanced, and gradually passes on to the most advanced. The object of this arrangement is that the more advanced pupils may have the benefit of a revision by means of the lessons of the less advanced. Pupils are dismissed as they finish their lessons. If their day's work is not finished in the morning, the teacher and the pupils resume work at about 4 in the afternoon, and continue it till dusk. In the evening, again, pupils are allowed to bring their doubts and difficulties before the teacher for solution, and at this time the teacher also questions the beginners. There is very little of classification of students in a tol, each pupil, generally speaking, having his own lesson. Only in occasional instances have some two or three pupils the same lesson. Not more than one book is read by a pupil at a time, and the quantity of work done each day is but moderate. This makes it possible for a single teacher to teach each day a number of pupils, each with his separate lesson. The work done, though moderate in quantity, is done in a thorough style. Verbal discussions are frequent among the pupils, and difficult points are referred to the teacher as occasion arises. Junior students again often ask senior students to carry them through the lessons they have already gone through with the teacher either that or the previous day. This is called "seeking lesson" (পাঠ চাওয়া). The help sought is readily given. Exercises in writing are unknown in a tol. The system of instruction and in some measure the subjects taught are the same throughout the provinces. The Bengal standard of Sanskrit learning is, however, considerably higher than that in Bihar (Mithilá excepted) and in Orissa. In Bengal no boy begins Sanskrit without having received elementary vernacular education in some páthsálá. In Bihar, however, boys often begin their Sanskrit grammar or jyotish (astrology), and in Orissa their grammar or lexicon, with no other knowledge than that of the alphabet, and they go on learning for some time by rote alone. At the initial stage learning grammar by rote is the universal practice. The ages of pupils in Bengal range approximately from 9 to 30, in Behar from 7 to 20, and in Orissa from 6 to 18. Bihari and Uriya students who continue their studies beyond the above limits of age repair for their instruction beyond the limits of their respective provinces.

7. Teacher sand pupils in tols are almost all Brahmans, only a few being of the Vaidya caste. The few Vaidya teachers in the provinces teach only grammar, belles lettres and rhetoric to non-medical students, and Vaidya students study none but the above subjects previous to taking up their medical studies. Tol students everywhere are most obedient to their teachers and respectful to their seniors. They almost worship their teachers, doing for them, if need be, menial services with the utmost alacrity. The teachers on their part love their pupils with fatherly affection.

8. In tols holidays are not less plentiful than in colleges in Bengal. For four days in a month, i.e., on the pratipada (first) and ashtami (eighth) day of the waxing and the waning moon, all studies are prohibited. Should the pratipada or the ashtami extend to even so small a portion of the succeeding solar day, this day would be an additional day during which study is prohibited. In four other days, viz. the two chaturdasis, púrnimá, and amávasyá, i.e., the fourteenth and fifteenth days of the waxing and the waning moon, new lessons are forbidden, though revision of the old is not. For students of the Nyáya Philosophy and Vyákaraná Grammar), there are two additional days, the trayodasis i.e., the 13th day of the waxing and also of the waning moon), during which new lessons are prohibited. For six days in a month, the two chaturthis, the two saptamis, and the two trayodasis (i.e., the fourth, seventh, and thirteenth days of the waxing and the waning moon), all study at night is prohibited. Besides the above prohibited days of study, the ordinary Hindu holidays are observed as days of "no study" (অনধ্যায়). In addition to the above holidays the practice used to be to close Nyáya tols for over four months from Ratha-yátrá to Rási-Púrnimá, i.e., from about the third week of June to about the middle of November, and Smriti tols for about two months from Sakrotthána to Rási-Púrnimá, i.e., from about the middle of September to about the middle of November. This practice, however, is not now universally adhered to, the long vacation, having been reduced in many tols. During the period of vacation, students study by themselves what they have previously studied with their instructor.

9. The days of prohibition of study given above are prevalent throughout Bengal. In Orissa the days of "no study" (অনধ্যায়) are the same as in Bengal, with the important exception that the long vacations of Bengal are unknown there. Mithilá (i.e., North-Eastern Bihar) is like Orissa in this, the only difference being that revision work is allowed in the former on the 8th day both of the waxing and of the waning moon. The other districts of Behar do not strictly observe the prohibited days. In regard to the reading of the Kávyas, the prohibited days in Bengal are only the first and eighth days of the moon.

10. I started on my tour of inspection on the 23rd of January 1891, in accordance with the orders of the Director of Public Instruction conveyed in his letter No. 326, dated the 16th January 1891, and visited first the province of Behar. I commenced work there by conferring with the "Behar Sanskrit Sanjívan," whose energetic Secretary, Pandit Amvikádatta Vyás, furnished me with a list of tols that the Sanjívan considered deserving of inspection, and accompanied me, besides, on my tour in the districts of Patna and Saran. The other districts of Bihar that I visited were Gaya, Shahabad, Champaran, Tirhut, Darbhanga, Monghyr and Bhagalpur.

Bihar is ethnically divisible into three sections—the north-eastern section or Mithila, the southern section or Magadha, and the western or Bhojpurí section.

11. Sanskrit studies in Bihar are at a low level. In certain tols in the Darbhanga district alone is a high standard reached. Only an elementary knowledge of either Jyotisha (Astrology and Astronomy) or of Vyákarana (Sanskrit Grammar), with a little of Kávya (belles-lettres) and less of Purána, it is the aim of the majority of Bihar students to acquire. In the Gautama Thompson Páthsálá at Gotna near Revelganj in Saran, opened lately with so much éclat and named after Gotáma, the originator of the Nyáya Philosophy, there is no provision whatever for teaching Nyáya. Vyákarana, Kávya and Jyotisha are the only subjects taught.

12. The Kávya standard has risen visibly of late in Bihar, in consequence of the institution of the Sanskrit Title Examination and the examinations of the Sanskrit Sanjívan. A good many pupils aim at learning Astrology alone, with the object of earning their livelihood by casting horoscopes (tippan), indicating auspicious days for marriages, &c., and telling fortunes. Students of Astrology do not, for the most part, possess even an elementary knowledge of Sanskrit Grammar. They simply commit to memory Sanskrit texts with Sanskrit and vernacular interpretations of them. The same is the case to some extent in regard also to the other branches of study, vernacular interpretations of Sanskrit texts being learnt by heart along with the texts.

13. The Sanskrit grammatical text-books usually taught in Bihar are Sárasvata, Chandriká, and Laghukaumudi; a few study Siddhánta-Kaumudi, Manoramá, Paribhásenduskekhara, Laghusabdenduskekhara, Vyutpattiváda, Mahábhásbya, Kaiyat, Kastubha, &c. The usual text-books in literature are Raghuvansa, Kumárasambhava, Meghadúta, and the text-books for the Sanskrit Title Examination.

The Astrology text-books are Laghu, Játaka, Brihat Jatáka, Muhúrta-Chintámani, Jaimini-Sútra, and Dípiká. Some of the pupils study also the well-known mathematical works Lilávati, Vijaganita and Rekháganita, and the astronomical works, Siddhánta Siromani.

The higher standard for literature students consists of works prescribed for the Sanskrit Title Examination in literature.

There is not much liking in Bihar for any other branches of knowledge besides Grammar and Astrology. The few who want to study Philosophy (Vedánta, Sánkhya, Mímánsa, and Nyáya), and the fewer who want to study Hindu Law, repair generally to Benares for prosecuting their studies, students of Nyáya only resorting to Nadiya.

The Vedas too are learnt, but only after a certain fashion, i.e., by rote and for the purpose simply of recitations on ceremonial occasions.

14. The Sanskrit Title Examination and the subsidiary examinations held by the Bihar Sanskrit Sanjivan, have had a most beneficial effect on the state of Sanskrit education generally in Bihar. They have been steadily raising Sanskrit studies in the province from the very low level to which they had sunk. Much, however, remains yet to be done. At the Title Examination Bihar candidates have come forward indeed for titles in literature, but there have been no Bihar candidates yet for a title in any other subject.

15. Generally speaking, there is greater irregularity in the working of the tols in Bihar than in Bengal. This appears to be in great part owing to the greater poverty of the Bihar Pandits, which compels them to go about visiting wealthy people and receiving gifts from them, to the necessary interruption of their work of teaching. Such interruption usually takes place in the wedding seasons (from the middle of January to the middle of March, and from the middle of April to the middle of June) when the chances of receiving gifts are greater than at other periods of the year. The Bengal practice of inviting Pandits on the occasions of Srádddha (ceremony for the benefit of the departed soul), marriage, &c., and making presents to them on such occasions, is almost unknown in Bihar. It is not that gifts are not made to Pandits in Bihar by noblemen and other wealthy people, but such gifts, being not so systematic as they are in Bengal, afford the Bihar Pandits less help than the Bengal Pandits receive. Comparative smallness of means appears again the reason why the practice of teachers feeding their pupils is very rare in Bihar, while it is the rule in Bengal.

16. It may be mentioned here that all the Maharajas of Bihar and some of the Rajas maintain certain tols in their own city, paying regular salaries to Pandits, and the pupils also of some of the tols receive free boarding. Details about such tols are given in the tables marked A. Of the accuracy of the information given about the Maharaja of Betia's tols I cannot, however, be so certain. At the time of my visit to Betia the Maharaja and the Pandits were all gone to Benares for religious purposes, and the Manager of the estate, Mr. Gibbon, to whom I officially applied for information, declined to give it. I gathered as much information as I could get from local residents, and the information varied as a matter of course. I have tried to make my figures and other matters approximately as correct as possible.

17. Unlike the tols in Bihár, the Sanskrit schools recently set up by the several Bihár associations are very regularly worked. In fact, they approach or come up to the standard of English schools in the Lower Provinces, in respect of regularity of attendance, hours of work, discipline, &c. The Bengal tols certainly do not in these matters approach this class of Sanskrit schools in Bihár.

18. The award of titles is a thing unknown in Bihár. In this it is quite unlike Bengal, where it has been an immemorial custom to award titles to tol students. Titles used to be awarded when students finished their tol education. Lately, however, titles have generally been given to pupils on their entering tols for instruction, the pupils themselves choosing their respective titles. This practice owes its origin to a disinclination on the part of the pupils to call each other by their proper names. Undeserving persons have thus come to be holders of titles, and titles have been indiscriminately given without any reference whatever to the special branch of knowledge to which the student applies himself, a student of Smriti, for instance, receiving the title of Nyáyaratna. These abuses made it a desideratum that Government should initiate an examination for the acquisition of a title. The abuse still continues, however, and I have known of instances in which students plucked at the Title Examination have been awarded titles by their Pandits.

19. The foregoing remarks about Bihár apply to the province generally. Darbhanga with Tirhut, which represents the ancient Mithilá, has long been famous in India as a seat of high intellectual culture. The Nyáya Philosophy was introduced into Nadiya from Mithila, where it was first cultivated with eminent success. The family of His Highness the Maharaja of Darbhanga, who is the head of the entire Maithil community, owed its position to success achieved in the field of intellect. The founder of the family Mahes Thákur, fourteenth ascendant from the present Maharaja, got his estate of Darbhanga as a reward for his learning. Some say that the present was one from the Emperor Akbar himself, others, that it was from Raghunandan Jhá, who is said to have received from the Emperor the title of Pandit Ráj, together with the Darbhanga estate, when it lapsed to the Emperor on its owner, Raja Sida Singh, dying heirless. Raghunandan is said to have made a gift of it to his guru (teacher), Mahes Thákur, as guru-dakshiná (gift to a teacher for instruction received). The Darbhanga Maharaja's family, founded by a Pandit, has always been distinguished by its patronage of Pandits. A regular system has been maintained at Darbhanga for testing the learning of Sanskrit students, and those who have passed the test have had their names recorded and have been rewarded with two dhotis each, as a mark of honour. A test generally takes place on the occasion of an assemblage of Pandits on the birth of a Maharaj-Kumar. The present Maharaja keeps up the family prestige well. He is himself both a Sanskrit scholar and a patron of Sanskrit learning. The amount annually expended by him towards the support of Sanskrit studies is Rs. 18,700, as per details below:—

		Rs.
1.	Salaries to Pandits	6,480
2.	Scholarships to pupils	1,020
3.	Maintenance of a Sanskrit college at Benares	6,000
4.	Maintenance of a Sanskrit school at Madhubani ...	300
5.	Maintenance of a Sanskrit páthsálá at Rahika	1,350
6.	Gifts to Pandits and pupils	3,550
	Total ...	18,700

20. The district, too, keeps up its reputation for Sanskrit learning. It has several distinguished Pandits at the present day, among whom I may mention Mahámahopádhyáyas Krishna Singh Thákur and Kánáilál Jhá and Pandits Chumman Jhá, Bechu Jhá, Chitradhara Misra, Dukha Mohan Jhá, and Sadánanda Misra. Most of the distinguished Bihari Pandits outside the limits of Mithilá are Maithils by blood, as Pandit Visveswar Jhá of the Chhapra Bhárateswari Páthsálá, and Pandit Siva Nárayan Jhá of Dumraon.

21. The standard of instruction in the Darbhanga district is as high in Nyáya as that of Bengal, while it equals the Benares standard in respect of Grammar (on Pánini's system), Vedánta, Sánkhya, Mímánsá and Jyotish, subjects which are not much studied in Bengal. In Smriti or Hindu Law Mithila is behind Bengal, and so it is in Kávya. It is but recently, however, that Bengal has taken up the study of Kávya to any considerable extent.

22. The Sanskrit Title Examination or the Sanskrit Sanjivan's examinations have hardly produced any effect in Darbhanga. This, I have been informed, has in part been owing to the indisposition on the part of Sanskrit students in the district to undergo an examination in Hindi, or optionally in English, one or other of which has been made by the Sanskrit Sanjivan a compulsory subject for its examinations, and in part to the ignorance on the part of the present Pandits and their pupils of the subjects and text-books prescribed for the Title Examination. Pupils of the aided Madhubani Sanskrit Páthsálá, which is under the management of a Committee, have been the only Darbhanga candidates at the Title Examination, and the Sanjivan's examinations.

23. The Maharája of Darbhanga, at the time of my visit, was pleased to signify his desire to establish a Sanskrit College at Darbhanga, and he proposed that the place be made a centre for the Title Examination. The proposal is one which, I trust, the Government will approve and comply with.

24. Bihár, though a long way behind Bengal in respect of tols maintained by individual Pandits, has lately developed a new organisation for the promotion of Sanskrit studies, which has already been incidentally referred to. The Hindus of Bihár, after ages of depression, have been becoming alive again to old Hindu traditions and usages. Associations, some of them religious, have accordingly been started in several places, and these associations have made it an object to promote Sanskrit studies.

25. In my tour through Orissa, I made the list of tols furnished me by Babu Radhánath Ray, Joint-Inspector of Schools for the Orissa Division, my guide. Of the three districts of the division, Báleswar has no tols, and so I did not visit it. There are several tols in the Puri district, and only a few in Cuttack. The Jájpur subdivision of the latter is much unlike the rest of the province in the matter of Sanskrit learning. It has long been noted as a Sanskrit centre. Vedic ceremonies have persisted here long, there being even now two "Agnihotri" Bráhmans here. These two observe the "Agnihotra" ceremony, i.e., keep the fire lighted at their birth perpetually burning, and perform the Homa ceremony with this fire morning and evening. This is to continue till the death of each, when, with the fire kept up, the cremation pile is to be lighted. The number of Agnihotris used to be much larger formerly. It has now dwindled down to two, and with the death of these two, the class is likely to disappear, for no novice has yet come forward to be initiated in the Agnihotri rites.

26. There is a tol at Dhenkanal, the capital of the Tributary State of the same name. I visited this tol at the request of the Orissa Commissioner and Superintendent of the Orissa Tributary Mehals, Mr. Worsley. The tol was founded by Maharaja Bhagirath Mahendra Bahadur, the grandfather of the present minor Maharaja, and it flourished well during the lifetime of its founder, the pupils, numbering from 40 to 50, being all lodged and boarded at the Maharaja's expense. It has now been reorganised as a school of the modern type, and made a department of the local middle English school. It labours under the disadvantage, however, of four classes having to be taught by a single Pandit. This drawback I brought to Mr. Worsley's notice. Several of the Uriya Pandits now living, got their education in the Dhenkanal tol.

27. In Orissa Sanskrit learning is at a lower level even than in Behar, where (Darbhanga excepted) it is low enough. A person who has read the Shatkávya (six poems), namely, Raghuvansa, Kumára-Sambhava, Meghadúta, Sisupálabadha, Kirátárjuniya, and Naishadha, is accounted a good Pandit. By many, Vyákaran and Amara Kosha (lexicon by Amara) are the only things learnt. Astronomy used to be successfully cultivated in Orissa, but the study of it has greatly declined of late. There are two experts in this subject, however, in the Puri district—Chandra Sekhara Singha Hari Chandan Mahápátra Sámanta, the uncle of the Raja of Khendapárá, and Pandit Sadásiva Khariratna. The former makes observations of the stars and planets by means of native instruments. The grammar text-books usually taught are mere abridgements; at Puri, Prakriyá Kaumudí, based on Pánini; at Bhuvaneswar, Prakriyásár, based on Kaláp; and in the Cuttack district, Sáraswata, Chandriká, and Laghu Sankshiptasára, the last being locally called Juman.

The standard of Sanskrit studies in the Jajpura subdivision of the district of Cuttack being higher than elsewhere in Orissa, a grammatical work of an elaborate character, namely, the Sankshiptasára, is taught there.

28. The institution of the Title Examination has given some impetus to the study of Sanskrit literature in Orissa. Those who obtain titles on the result of this examination are held in honour in the province, and the possession of a title is a passport also to employment in Government and private schools. The Puri and Dhenkanal Sanskrit Páthsálás alone send up candidates to the Title Examination, and Kávya has hitherto been the only subject taken up by the candidates. The rules in connexion with the Title Examination are little known in the province, except at Puri and Dhenkánal, and this, together with the absence of any local examinations such as exist in Bengal and Bihár, operates prejudicially in the province.

29. There are in Orissa a few learned Pandits, such as Sankar Tirthaswámí of Puri, Dámodar Vidyábágísa of Jajpur and Bámadev Misra of Bhuvaneswara. These learned Pandits finished their education outside the province, namely, in Bengal, in the Madras Presidency, and at Benares. As in Bihár, the practice of receiving titles from their teachers by students of Sanskrit does not exist in Orissa. Some few who finished their education in Bengal, such as Pítámbar Tarkasarasvatí of Jajpur, took titles. The Puri Rajas have awarded the titles of Barápandá and Brahmá. Recently some of the Tributary Rájás have begun to award titles prevalent in Bengal, namely, Vidyábágisa (awarded by the late Maháráját of Dhenkanal to Dámodar of Jájpur) and Vidyánidhi (awarded by the Raja of Madhupura to Pandit Átmárám of Dharmasálá in the Jajpur subdivision of Cuttack.

30. There was a time when in Orissa Pandits were very liberally patronised by Maharajas and Rajas. They got numerous rent-free grants of villages, and the central parts of these villages were marked out for the exclusive residence of Brahman families devoted to the practice of religious rites or to the cultivation of Sanskrit learning. These parts are called Sásan, each deriving its name from its grantor, such as Bírnarasinhapur Sásan, Sripurushottampur Sásan, Bír Balabhadrapur Sásan, named from their respective grantors, Bír Narasinha, Purushottam, Bir Balabhadra, &c. Many Sásans exist at the present day, and what a Sásan is like, will appear from the following description. A Sásan has a single road, some 10 feet broad, running right through its middle. The road is lined on both sides with cocoanut groves, and at the back of these groves are the residences of the Brahman families descended from the original grantees. Within the limits of a Sásan, none but a Brahman family can reside. So strong is the force of custom, that although there is now no legal prohibition against non-Brahmans residing within the limits of a Sásan, no non-Brahman ever thinks of intruding within its limits. Most of the Pandits in Orissa are Sásan residents, though the number of Pandits is altogether but small. The Sásan Brahmans almost all stick to the old Brahmanic occupations. Those who are not Pandits do some kind of priestly office; they do not practise any kind of secular calling.

31. At Puri, besides the Sanskrit Páthsálá, there are maths and toïs, where Sanskrit teaching is carried on. A "math" is properly a convent of monks presided over by a Swámí or Mahanta. The Swámí is absolute ruler of the math and owner of its property. Maths have somehow become places of instruction for students of Sanskrit. Different Hindu sects have their different maths. The Vaishnavas have their maths, and so have the followers of Sankar Achárya. The rites of each sect are observed at the math of the sect. Persons who ask for food at the math of the sect to which they belong have to be fed, and a few are even permanent guests. All beggars receive alms at a math.

32. In the Bálasháhi quarter of Puri there are four maths, each called after Sankar Achárya, Sankara Matha, not because Sankar Achárya ever taught in them, or was in any way personally connected with them, but because their heads have been followers of Sankara. Of one of the Sankar maths, the head (Swami) is Dámodar Tírtha Swámi, the most learned Pandit of the place. This math has an income of about Rs. 1,000 a year derived from land. It has a valuable library of Sanskrit manuscripts in the Devanágri, Bengali, Uriya, and Telugu characters, but the library is not taken as much care of as it should be. The three other Sankar Maths have incomes of Rs. 10,000, Rs. 12,000, and Rs. 400 a year, respectively, all derived from land. At two of the maths of the Vaishnavas, namely, the Imar Math or Gopál Math and the Gangá Math, pupils are lodged and boarded free, all the pupils in the former and five in the latter. The Pandit in each receives a money remuneration besides getting free lodging and boarding.

33. The Puri Sanskrit Páthsálá is maintained by an endowment of the late Maharaj Sir Digvijay Singh Bahadur, K.C.S.I., of Balrampur in Oudh, and a subscription, originally by him, of Rs. 1,300 a year, continued since his death by his widow. The Maharaja in his deed of endowment expressed a wish for the establishment of a chair of Nyáya at the Páthsálá. The chair has not yet been created, the Managing Committee having thought it proper to limit expenditure with a view to effect savings against the ultimate cessation of the subscription of Rs. 1,300 a year. I had drawn the Committee's attention to the Maharaja's wish about a Nyáya chair, and have been informed by the Secretary that the Committee cannot open a Nyáya chair without an addition to their funds.

34. Another Sanskrit institution at Puri is the Veda Vidyálaya established only a few months ago. It is maintained by contributions in the shape of money and free meals to the pupils, who are 27 in number, all of them beginners. They read elementary grammar, and commit to memory a few mantras from the Vedas. A rival Vedic school of this type has just been started by Pandit Harihar Brahmá. These two institutions scarcely deserve the name of Veda Vidyálaya, and it is very doubtful whether they will live long. The first of these is the only institution in Orissa maintained by subscriptions.

35. One extraordinary feature of a few of the tols in the Puri district may here be mentioned. The Pándits of these tols, so far from teaching, lodging and boarding their pupils free, receive trifling fees of one or two or three annas a month from each of their pupils. Free lodging and boarding are exceedingly rare in the province. Generally the pupils of tols in Orissa belong to the village in which the tol is situated or to adjoining villages. Pupils in Puri town and its neighbourhood can get, if they choose, their meals free at the temple of Jagannath. Many actually do get their meals there, some walking a mile or two for the purpose. Within the courtyard of the temple there is a pavilion of stone, called Muktimandap, in which the Pandits of Puri meet as occasion demands, and discuss and decide points connected with the Hindu Sástras. Pupils on presenting themselves at the Muktimandap get their meals free.

36. I now come to the province of Bengal, the tols of which I visited last. It is the tols of Bengal that answer fully to the description of tols given in the beginning of this report, and tol instruction in Bengal, though declining from what is was of old, has still more vitality altogether than in the sister provinces.

37. The special branch of study for which Bengal has been famous all over India is the Nyáya Philosophy, and the chief seat of this study in Bengal has been Nadiya. Of the Nyáya Philosophy, the works that treat of Logic, such as Máthuri, Jágadisi, and Gádádhuri have been special favourites. The study of these works is a severe training for the intellect, and students who go through this training acquire a mental grasp and alertness which enable them to master other branches of Sanskrit learning with comparative ease. The Naiyáyika (expert in Nyáya) is accorded a higher rank in Bengal than the Professors of any other branch of learning.

38. Besides Nyáya, the only other favourite branch of study has been Smriti. The original Smritis are not, however, the works studied, but only Raghunandan's compends of them, together with the Dáyabhága of Jimutabáhana with Srí-krishna's commentary, and the Práyaschitta Viveka and Sraddha Viveka of Sulpani. Raghunandan's compends of Smriti works are a very serviceable compilation, and intelligent Pandits, who have mastered them, can study without extraneous help most of the original Smriti works (Samhitas).

39. The grammatical works studied in Bengal are Kalápa, Sankshiptasára, Supadma, and Mugahabodha. Pánini, and works based on Pánini are not studied anywhere, with the exception only of a few tols in Rajshahi. In certain tols in East Bengal the Kalápa with its different commentaries is studied with the exclusive devotion that Siddhánta Kaumudi, which is based on Pánini, commands in the North-Western Provinces. The same exclusive devotion to grammar is found in Midnapur, Bankura, Birbhum, and parts of Burdwan, Hugli, and Howrah. Here the grammar text-books are Sankshiptasára, and Goyi Chandra's commentary on it, with commentaries on this commentary. Wherever grammar holds sway, other branches of Sanskrit learning have little room.

40. The Puránas have also their students in Bengal, though they are but few. Astrology too is learnt for the practical purpose of casting horoscopes, and calculating auspicious days for weddings, &c.

41. The Hindu system of medicine is taught in several places in Bengal, notably in Calcutta, Mánkar (in the Burdwan district), Jangalpara (in the Hugli district), Bankul (in the Howrah district), and Bikrampur (in the Dacca district). I did not visit any of this special class of tols for medical education, as a proposal for including the Hindu system of medicine among the subjects for the Title Examination was disallowed, on the ground that "the encouragement of the Sanskrit system of medicine is totally opposed to the policy of Government in medico-educational matters."

42. The Title Examination, and to some extent local examinations under Samájas, like the Dacca Sárasvat Samáj, have been the means of introducing into Bengal the study of the Sánkhya, Pátanjala, Vedánta, and the old Nyáya Philosophy (Gautama Sutra) and of original Smriti works (Manu, Yajnvalka, &c.). The study of Kávya and Alankára (Rhetoric), which used hitherto to be for the most part confined to the Sanskrit College, has now spread widely over the province, under the influence of the above examinations. That a knowledge of these subjects helps to secure Panditships in schools has further stimulated their study in different parts of the province.

43. The renowned seats of Sanskrit learning in Bengal are Nadiyá, Bikrampur, Bakla-Chandradwip, Tribeni, Bhatpara, and Khanakul-Krishnagar. A word of explanation about the name Bakla-Chandradwip may not be inappropriate here. Raja Todar Mal, Finance Minister to the Emperor Akbar, divided the Exchequer lands of Bengal Proper into nineteen sarkárs, of which one was Bakla-Sarkar. Bakla was subdivided by him into four mahals or parganas, and one of these was called Chandradwip. This pargana appears to have been known at the time by the name of Bakla, and it is still occasionally called Bakla-Chandradwip. The name Bakla, of both pargana and sarkár, appears to have been derived from a town of this name, which was the seat of a Hindu reigning family, but of which there is at present no trace. Mr. Beveridge, from whose District of Bakarganj (pp. 26—34, 50, and 70) I derive my information, thinks Chandradwip was identical with Bakla, as Abul Fazl, according to Professor Blochmann, uses it as synonymous with Bakla. From early times Chandradwip belonged to a Kayastha family enjoying the title of Raja. This family, whose liberal patronage of Sanskrit learning made Bakla-Chandradwip a great centre of such learning, has now been reduced to poverty. The estate which is of such historical celebrity passed out of the hands of this family into those of several proprietors of low caste. Recently it has come into the possession of a Brahmin zemindar of distinguished rank and lineage, Raja Sir Saurindramohan Tagore, Kt., C.I.E., &c., and it may now well be hoped that he will support the cause of Sanskrit learning in Bakla-Chandradwip as the Rajas of Chandradwip used to do of old. The Raja has already given an earnest of such support by his liberal donation of Rs. 200 towards a kindred object, namely, the purchase of land for a girls' school in his newly-acquired estate.

44. In Bengal, as I have stated above, Pandits, as a rule, lodge and feed their pupils. Whence come the funds that enable them to do so? The practice of old was for zemindars to make grants in perpetuity of rent-free land to Pandits noted for their learning. It was mainly rent-free land that enabled Pandits to support their families, and bear, besides, the expense of free lodging and boarding for their pupils. The renowned Pandit Jagannath Tarkapanchánan, who was a contemporary of Sir William Jones, got such large gifts of rent-free land that his descendants are now able to maintain themselves with the income derived from the land left by Tarkapanchánan. About 50 years ago my father, now deceased, received from the then head of the Mahishadal Raj family a grant of 100 bighas of rent-free land, and this land has come down to his heirs.

45. Grants of rent-free lands have now very much gone out of fashion, have in fact almost entirely ceased. Money contributions or gifts of rice to tol Pandits continue to be regularly made by some patrons of Sanskrit learning, though such instances too are but few. At present the resources of Pandits consist chiefly of gifts called Vidáya, received from wealthy people of good caste, at Srádddhas, marriages, consecration of temples and tanks, return from pilgrimages, &c. On such occasions the gifts to Pandits are usually graduated according to the class to which they belong, i.e., according as they are Naiyáyikas, Smártas (Professors of Law), or Sábdikas (Professors of grammar and language). The Naiyáyikas are considered Pandits of the first rank, the Smártas of the second, and the Sábdikas of the third. Vedantic, Sánkhya, and Pauranic Pandits are but few in Bengal. Vedantic and Sánkhya Pandits rank immediately below Naiyáyikas, and Pauranic Pandits below Smártas. Even Vidáya gifts have gradually been declining in value, and hence the increasing difficulty on the part of Pandits to support their pupils.

46. A new departure has been made of late by certain patrons of Sanskrit learning. They have established institutions for the prosecution of Sanskrit studies, in which the teacher or teachers receive fixed salaries and the pupils receive stipends. The following are institutions of this class:—The Sanskrit Vidyálaya, maintained by the Burdwan Raj; the Mulajor Sanskrit Vidyálaya founded by the late Babu Prasanna Kumar Tagore and now maintained by Maharaja Bahadur Sir Jotindramohan Tagore, K.C.S.I. and his brother, Raja Sir Saurindramohan Tagore, KT., C.I.E.; the Victoria Jubilee Tol at Berhampur, founded and maintained by Arnakali Devi of Kasimbazar; the Krishnagar Sanskrit Vidyálaya, founded and maintained by Maharaja Khitischandra Ray of Krishnagar; and the Biswanath Pathsálá at Chinsura, founded and maintained by Babu Bhudeb Mukerjee, C.I.E. On the occasion of my visit to Maimansingh I suggested the establishment of a similar institution there, and the suggestion was warmly taken up by the local public, the lead being taken by Raja Suryakánta Achárya. The District Magistrate, Mr. Phillips, strongly supported the scheme.

47. Of the Bengal tols, I visited first those in Murshidabad and part of Burdwan, and this on my way back from Bihar. The Victoria Jubilee Tol at Berhampur is in an efficient condition. Pupils from this institution succeed every year at the Title Examination, and titles were won in Vedanta, Smriti, and Kavya at the examination last held. This tol has pupils from such distant districts as Maimansingh, Sylhet, Tipperah, and Chittagong, besides those who are natives of Murshidabad. No other Murshidabad tol besides this and that of Pandit Ramtáran Sirománi of Kándi competes at the Title Examination. The tol taught by Pandit Ramapati Tarkabhusan at Kasimbazar is a good one. The tols in the interior of the district are few in number, and, with the exception of the one at Kándi, taught by Pandit Ramtaran Siromani, are in no good condition, as reported to me by the District Deputy Inspector of Schools, Babu Phanibhusan Basu.

48. The Burdwan district has some good tols in the interior, and the best of these is Pandit Krishnanath Nyayapanchánan's tol at Purbasthali. Pandit Krishnanath is a man of great learning, and he sends up every year pupils to compete at the Title Examination. Smriti, Kávya and (in one instance) Vedánta have been the subjects taken up by his pupils.

The Maharaja's Vidyálaya in Burdwan town is an institution founded about seventy-five years ago by Maharaja Tejchandra Bahadur, and it is now in a flourishing condition. It teaches Nyáya and Kávya, and regularly sends up candidates to the Title Examination.

49. My inspection of the tols in parts of East Bengal was greatly facilitated by the help rendered by the Dacca Sárasvat Samáj, whose very able and energetic Secretary, Pandit Prasannachandra Vidyáratna, furnished me with a complete account of all good tols in Dacca and Faridpur, and of such in Maimansingh, Tipperah, Noakhali and Chittagong, and also Sylhet (now included in Assam) as send up candidates to the Samáj's examinations. He also accompanied me in my tour of inspection, and this, as well as his account of tols, was a great help to me. Raja Rajnarayan Ray Bahadur of Jaydebpur kindly placed at my service his steam-launch, and so helped my inspection work greatly. The Sárasvat Samáj called a meeting of Pandits at the Samáj house, and this assemblage gave me much valuable information and offered certain suggestions.

50. Parganá Bikrampur, now divided between the districts of Dacca and Faridpur, has long been known as the chief seat of Sanskrit learning in East Bengal. Although the number of Pandits and students has now considerably diminished, Bikrampur has still more tols and pupils than any other part of Bengal of equal area, and Pandits here have some enthusiasm yet about their calling. One Pandit maintains a tol on the principle of free lodging and food to pupils, although he has been running into debt for this. He himself got his education with lodging and boarding free, and he conceives it his duty to do towards others in this matter as he has been done by.

51. The principal subjects of study in East Bengal are Nyáya, Smriti and Vyákarana. The Kalápa Vyákarana with its commentaries occupies many pupils for years, and some of them learn nothing besides. Many of the Nyáya and Smriti students of Bikrampur, and all such students of Bakla-Chandradwip (in Bakarganj) come to Nadiya to complete their education. As regards pupils from Bakla-Chandradwip, titles obtained by them at Nadiya and latterly also those obtained under the Title Examination are alone recognized.

52. Tols are not numerous in Bakarganj, Maimansingh, and Rájsháhi, and on my visits to these districts I derived much help from the local Dharma-Sabhás, which brought together Pandits and a number of pupils, too, from different parts of the districts. This rendered visits to the interior of the districts almost unnecessary, and the only place in the interior of any of these districts that I visited was Sherpur in Maimansingh. In all the three districts, Smriti and Nyáya, particularly the latter, are not studied up to anything like a high standard. In fact, the rudiments only of Nyáya are learnt. The Kalápa Vyákarana is the usual grammar text-book in Bakarganj and Maimansingh. In Rajshahi Mugdhabodha is the general text-book, but in certain tols Panini is taught, and in a few Sárasvata.

53. The districts of Rangpur and Dinajpur have never been remarkable for the cultivation of Sanskrit learning. Recently the former district has, through the efforts of its energetic Magistrate, Mr. Skrine, come to have a good tol under a learned Pandit, Jadabesvar Tarkaratna, in Rangpur town; and Dinajpur now has a Pandit, Mahes Chandra Chudamani, who has made himself known as the author of Sanskrit and Bengali poems. The Rangpur tol gets a grant of Rs. 50 a month from the District Board, a grant more liberal than any elsewhere in the Lower Provinces. The tol under Pandit Mahes Chandra Chudamani at Dinajpur is under the patronage of Maharaja Girija Nath Roy of Dinajpur.

54. At the time of my visit to Narail there was a large gathering of Pandits at a Srádddha at Itina in the Narail subdivision. The Pandits assembled were for the most part from the districts of Jessore, Khulna, and Faridpur, and from them I got much information about the condition of Sanskrit studies in the surrounding parts of the country. Nyáya and Smriti occupy almost the same place as they do in other parts of Bengal, and the grammar text-book (Supadma) in use in Jessore is very much like those in use elsewhere in Bengal.

55. Bhatpara, the chief seat of Sanskrit learning in the 24-Parganas, still keeps up its old reputation, though Pandits and pupils have been diminishing in number here as elsewhere in Bengal. It has still eminent Pandits, such as Mahamahopadhyaya Rakhal Das Nyayaratna, Chandra Nath Vidyaratna, Madhusudan Smritiratna, and Ramendra Nyayabagis. The study of Káavya has recently been taken up here with greater activity than in any other place in Bengal. One peculiarity of the Bhatpara Pandit families may here well be mentioned. Members of these families accept no gifts from any but Brahmans, Kshatriyas and Vaisyas, and abstain entirely from animal food, differing in both these respects from the generality of Pandit families in Bengal. The Bhatpara Pandits are also the Gurus (spiritual preceptors) of numerous Brahman families in Bengal. Altogether they are held in high respect throughout the Province, and go by the name of Bhatpara Thákurs.

56. At Tribeni, in the Hughli district, long a famous seat of Sanskrit learning, such learning is now in decadence. Jagannath Tarkapanchanan was a native of this place, and a long train of eminent Pandits before and after him are associated with the name of Tribeni. Its one tol now represents the "seven or eight" that existed in 1818, as stated by Mr. Ward (Adam's Report on Vernacular education in Bengal and Behar, edited by Rev. J. Long, Calcutta, 1868, p. 40). This solitary tol is taught by a learned Pandit, Ambika Charan Vidyaratna, fifth in descent from Pandit Jagannath Tarkapanchanan, and with his demise the traditional reputation of Tribeni as a seat of learning will have passed away.

In the rest of the Hugli district, things are no better than at Tribeni. Khanakul-Krishnanagar, long noted as one of the most eminent seats of learning in Bengal, has but four tols at present, none of them in a flourishing condition. Nor do its present Pandits enjoy the reputation that their predecessors did. Pashpur and Narit, which too had for numerous generations been places of Sanskrit learning, have now both ceased to have a single tol.

Bansbarai with its twelve or fourteen tols, Bhadessur with its ten, and Gondalpara with its ten in 1818 (all according to Mr. Ward's enumeration as quoted on pages 40 and 41 of Adam's Report, Long's edition), have almost ceased to have any tol, there being only one good tol now at Bansbarai taught by Pandit Mahendranath Tarkapanchánan, and another (a nominal one) at Bhadessur.

57. What is true of Hugli is true of Midnapur. Pitpur, Bhema, Bhagdanda, Sribara, &c., old seats of learning in the latter district, have now fallen into such a condition that no visit to them was called for.

58. My account of the Bengal tols may fitly be closed with an account of the tols of Nadiya. Nadiya came to be the chief centre of Sanskrit learning ages back, i.e., while it was the political capital of Bengal. Under the patronage of the Sena kings of Bengal, Hindu learning flourished in their capital, Nadiya, as it did in their earlier capital situate in Pargana Bikrampur, which, as already mentioned, is still an intellectual centre. The tols of Nadiya originally brought into being by royal initiative and long maintained by royal patronage, came to be maintained by Hindu zemindars after the Musalman conquest of the land. Grants of rent-free land and money gifts by Hindu zemindars and other wealthy Hindus have been diminishing in Nadiya as elsewhere in Bengal, and so tols and pupils in Nadiya have been growing less and less. as will appear from the following figures :—

Year.	No. of tols.	No. of students.	Authority.
1816	46	380	Report of the Committee of Superintendence, provisionally appointed for the College which Lord Minto proposed to establish at Nadiya (vide Adam's Report, p. 50).
1818	31	747	Mr. Ward—The accuracy of the number of pupils as given by Mr. Ward was doubted by Mr. Adam (vide Report, p. 50).
1829	25	500-600	Professor H. H. Wilson, then Junior Member and Secretary of the General Committee of Public Instruction (Adam's Report, pp. 51-52). (I applied to the Bengal Office for Professor Wilson's Report, but there was no copy found there and none either in the Office of the Home Department of the Government of India).
1864	12 (Nyáya 6, Smriti 6)	Less than 150	Professor E. B. Cowell, in his Report to the Director of Public Instruction of the 17th January 1867, p. 3).
1891 (Time of my inspection)	8 (Nyáya 4, Smriti 4)	99

Professor Cowell in his report above referred to says, in connection with the figures in his report, that "the number of students is probably not wholly accurate, as of course no register of attendance is kept, and it was not easy to decide whether absent students were really to be counted on the rolls or not."

Mr. Ward's figure is so extraordinarily large as compared with the figure of two years back given in the Committee of Superintendence's Report that it may be laid aside as inaccurate. Even then, Professor Wilson's figure remains as an indication of increase on the figure of 1816. But the Professor's estimate, 500 to 600, was evidently a rough one, and this from the absence of registers of attendance. It is clear, after all that, the number of tols has steadily declined since the first enumeration in 1816, and that the number of pupils has steadily declined since 1829.

59. Nyáya and Smriti have been the principal studies in Nadiya, particularly the former, Nadiya in fact being the first place in all India for the study of Nyáya. Although Nyáya and Smriti students at Nadiya have been declining in number, still Nadiya counts even now among its Nyáya students men from all parts of India.

60. Kávya and Vyákaran, which Nadiya Pandits hitherto disdained to teach in their tols, have now begun to have special tols appropriated to them. There are now two tols for Kávya and Vyákarana, and a Smriti tol also has pupils for these subjects, the total number of students in the three amounting to 33. This new departure does not in any way make up for the comparative neglect of Nyáya and Smriti, but it nevertheless indicates a tendency to expansion under the influence of new forces. Kávya and Vyákarana, though shunned in tols as being subjects of a rather elementary character, used hitherto to be taught in schools of a peculiar class called ákhárás by the pupils of Nyáya and Smriti tols. These ákhárás with their pupil teachers existed when I accompanied Professor Cowell (then Principal of the Sankrit College) in his visit to Nadiya in 1864, but when I visited the place last May I did not find even one in existence, their place being taken by regular tols for the teaching of Kávya and Vyákarana. Another subject has also begun to be taught in tols, viz., Purána, Bhágabat, Rámáyana, &c. This innovation is evidently due to the increasing strength of the Vaishnava element in the population of Nadiya. Chaitanya was a native of this place, and his followers muster strong here at present, the place being regarded by them as holy land. It is natural, therefore, that Pauranic studies, having a bearing on the tenets of Vaishnavism as taught by Chaitanya, should come to have regular schools of instruction in the very head-quarters of the Vaishnavas of Bengal. There are two tols (with 15 pupils) in Nadiya now for such studies.

61. So far as three-quarters of a century back, several of the Nadiya tols were aded by Government with allowances to their Pandits, and these allowances were continued to their successors in their respective tols. Ramchandra Vidyálankár enjoyed an annual allowance of Rs. 71 in consideration of his keeping up a tol, and when he died in 1813 his allowance was claimed by a person who could not sustain his claim. The allowance with arrears was, however, ultimately paid to Bholá Nath Siromani, son of Ramchandra Vidyálankár and his successor in his tol. In 1818 Sivanath Vidyábáchaspati obtained a continuance of his father's allowance of Rs. 90 a year with payment if arrears. In 1818 Sriram Siromani obtained an annual allowance of Rs. 36 on consideration of his keeping up a tol founded and endowed by the Raja of Nator. Ramjay Tarkálankar in the same year obtained a confirmation of his annual allowance of Rs. 62. For these details I am indebted, I may add, to Mr. Adam's valuable Report (section 52). I learn on enquiry made of Pandit Madhusudan Smritiratna, one of the sons of Sriram Siromani, and a Professor in the Sanskrit College, that on the demise of his father, he and his two brothers, all three being men of learning, applied without success to the District Collector for a continuance to them of their father's allowance. On what grounds the allowances to tols were discontinued, I have not been able to ascertain.

62. Besides the allowances to the Pandits of the Nadiya tols mentioned above, a subsistence allowance to the pupils has long been paid by Government. This allowance was originally of the value of 100 sicca rupees (equivalent to 104 ordinary rupees), and it was increased to Rs. 150 in 1886, on application being made by the Nadiya pupils to the then Lieutenant-Governor, Sir Rivers Thompson, and further increased to Rs. 200 in 1888 on application being made to the next Lieutenant-Governor, Sir Steuart Bayley. I transcribe below passages from the Reports of Mr. Adam and Professor Cowell which give a history of this allowance—"In 1829 the Committee of Public Instruction received orders to examine and report upon a petition to Government from certain students at Nadiya, claiming the restoration or continuance of an allowance amounting to Rs. 100 a month. The Committee deputed their Junior Member and Secretary (Professor H. H. Wilson) and ascertained that all those students who came from places more than three days' journey from Nadiya had hitherto depended very much upon this grant from Government." (Adam's Report, page 53.)

"The Committee of Revenue found in 1784 that the Raja of Nadiya used to grant an allowance to the Parooas (পড়ুয়া) or Sanskrit students of the tols, and in 1784 they appear to a certain extent to have sanctioned an annual grant of Rs. 1,200 to this object. It was paid from the treasury of Nadiya, and distributed to the students by a person on the part of the zemindars. On the 18th May 1787 (further enquiry having been instituted), the Board of Revenue directed the Collector to continue the payment of the pension for the present and to charge the same under the head of 'Pension.' On the strength of this order it was regularly paid to the students at the rate of Rs. 100 per mensem. In 1829, at the request of the Collector of Nadiya, the Civil Auditor (April 6th) made a reference, enquiring as to the authority on which the pension was granted. The Board on the 9th June quoted their letter of the 18th May 1787, and at the same time stated thus:—'There is no mention whatever of this allowance in the accounts or correspondence relating to the decennial settlement, and if the payment has been continued without enquiring on the authority, it ought to be immediately suspended and a full explanation of the irregularity furnished by the Collector.'

"The allowance was in consequence discontinued, but a remonstrance from the Nadiya students was received with the recommendations of the Murshidabad Commissioner, dated 22nd January 1830, and was submitted to Government on the 12th February. Meanwhile the late Professor H. H. Wilson (when Junior Member and Secretary to the General Committee of Public Instruction) had visited the tols and reported on their state, and in a letter, dated 3rd August 1830, Government sanctioned the continance of the pension with arrears, and the payment has continued to the present time." (Professor E. B. Cowell's Report, p. 8.)

63. The manner of distribution of the allowance among the pupils at the time of Mr. Adam's report and long afterwards was this:—

"A petty suraf or poddar accompanied by one of their number is deputed to receive the allowance at the Collector's Treasury. On his return he divides it among the foreign students, whose presence in the town is perfectly well known. The poddar whom Mr. Wilson saw keeps a shop for the sale of grain and supplies the students with food, advancing them occasional maintenance on the credit of their monthly allowance. They are commonly in his debt, but he is too important a personage, and the students are too numerous and, as Brahmans, too influential for him to practise any fraud upon them. The allowance, he has no doubt, is fairly distributed." The poddar, who till lately had the distribution of the allowance money in his hands, gave me the following history of the allowance:—

The allowance has come down from times antecedent to the English conquest of the country, but when or how it originated he could not say. The Collector of the district used till lately to appoint a distributor of the allowance on the nomination of the pupils, and these usually nominated some well-to-do poddar of Nadiya. So long as the distribution of the money remained in the hands of some poddar, there used to be a muster call of the pupils every Wednesday, and a pupil who was present or absent that day was accounted, respectively, present or absent all the days of the week in which that Wednesday fell. The poddar distributors, I may add, did their work without any kind of remuneration.

64. In 1888, when the allowance was increased to Rs. 200 a month, the distribution was transferred to the Education Department. Under the arrangement then made the local Sub-Inspector of Schools draws the money every month from the District Treasury, and makes it over to an officer called Tol Clerk, who is charged with the distribution of the money among the pupils. The Tol Clerk keeps a register of the pupils and distributes the money in accordance therewith. Out of the sum of Rs. 200 the Tol Clerk gets a remuneration of Rs. 10 a month, and the balance of Rs. 190 remains for the pupils, who out of the amount devote Rs. 4 to Pujas to Podá-Má and Bura Siva. The present Tol Clerk is Babu Binod Lal Goswami, 3rd master of the Nadiya Hindu School.

The conditions required to be fulfilled in order to entitle a pupil to subsistence allowance used to be as follows:—

(1) That the pupil be of the Brahman caste.
(2) That he be a student of Nyáya or Smriti.
(3) That his permanent residence be beyond a distance of 60 miles from Nadiya.

These conditions have now been modified as follows:—

(1) That the pupil be of the Brahman, Vaidya, or Bairagi caste.
(2) That he be a student of Nyáya, or Smriti, or Purána, or Kávya,—indeed of any Sastra except Vyakarana (Grammar).
(3) That his permanent residence be beyond a distance of five miles only from Nadiya.

65. At the time (1829) of Professor Wilson's visit to Nadiya, each pupil's share of subsistence allowance was from twelve annas to one rupee a month. The present average per head varies from Rs. 2 to Rs. 2-8. The subsistence grant from Government is now indeed double of what it was, but the greatly increased average per head under the easier requirements of the present régime clearly indicates a large falling off in the number of Nyáya and Smriti students.

66. Two tols of Nadiya deserve special notice, as having been set up—one very recently, and the other about 30 years ago—by two wealthy Hindustanis. The one founded about 30 years ago, called the Páká Tol, from the fact of its being, unlike tols in general, a brick building. It contains 28 rooms, each about 9 feet by feet, for the accommodation of pupils, and a lecture hall (dálán) and two litte verandahs. This elegant building, occupying with an adjoining garden about a bigha of land, was erected at the expense of Babu Babulal Agarwala, a late Hindustani merchant of Calcutta, who made a gift of it to Pandit Prasannachandra Tarkaratna, subject to the condition, as I am informed by Babu Jugal Kisor, Manager of Babulal's estate, that a Nyáya Tol was to be held in it. According to the wish of Babulal, the Manager makes a daily gift of half a seer of rice, two chhátaks of dál, and two pice besides for the purchase of other necessaries to 30 pupils. To the teacher a similar daily gift is made of rice and dál, together with Rs. 15 a month; and Rs. 4 a month and rice and dál are given to Pandit Ramkisor, an old student of the tol. The pupils of the tl are generally not natives of Bengal: they are from distant parts of India—Behar, the Punjab, Kashmir, and the Bombay and Madras Presidencies—and most of them remain in the tol until they complete their education. Some remain for very long periods, e.g., Bansidhar Misra, of Mithila and Ramkrishna Pandit of the Punjab have been staying for about 30 years. Both of them have finished their education and teach the beginners. Both of them are bachelors, and have determined to pass the rest of their lives in the tol as students. One bad effect of the páká tol having been made a personal gift of to the late Pandit Prasannachundra Tarkaratna, has been that his sons after his demise have become owners of the tol, although they are not competent to teach like their father. As owners they engaged after their father's death Pandit Jadunath Sárbabhaum, a pupil of their father, to teach in the tol; but after a few years, in consequence of a disagreement between them and Jadunath, the latter was ousted, and Pandit Harinath Tarkasidhánta (of Navadvip) was put in his place. After the death of Harinath, they brought Pandit Durgaprasad Tarkálankar from Bikrampur to teach at the tol, though there was a feeling of disapprobation among the Nadiya community at this bringing in of an outsider to teach at Nadiya The other tol, called, in contrast with the first, the Kánchá Tol, is the one established by Ray Bhagwandas Bagla Bahadur, the well-known Calcutta and Rangoon merchant. The accommodation in the páká tol being found insufficient, Rai Bhagwan Das Bahadur purchased a piece of land in the neighbourhood of this tol with the object of erecting another páká tol. The proposed building has not yet been erected, and so the tol is now held in a káncá (mud-built) house, the property of the late Pandit Harinath Tarkasidhánta. The Rai Bahadur gives articles of food to 20 pupils on the same scale as in the páká tol. Both the páká and the káncha tols are now taught by Pandit Durgaprasad Tarkálankár on alternate days.

67. I now come to the institutions, religious and secular, managed either by local associations or by individual patrons, that have been promoting the study of Sanskrit All these institutions, with the exception of the Maharaja of Bardwan's Sanskrit Pathsálá have been founded only of late years. Twenty of these institutions are in Bihar, five in Bengal, and one in Orissa. The Bihar Sanskrit institutions prepare students mainly for the examinations of the Behar Sanskrit Sanjívan and for the Title Examination.

68 Secular associations, such as those of Madhubani and Revelganj, make it their sole object to maintain Sanskrit schools organized like the English schools in this country. Religious associations (Dharmasabhás), such as those at Muzaffarpur and Matihari, make it one of their objects to maintain Sanskrit schools, which, too, are organized like English schools. Both classes of associations have been doing a great deal towards a revival of Sanskrit learning in Bihar Detailed information about them is given in the enclosed tables that are marked B. Municipalities in Bihar have also been lending a helping hand towards the prosecution of Sanskrit studies by grants of money to some of the associations.

69. The following are the institutions I visited:—

In Sarun, the Bháratesvari Páthsálá, the Rivers Thomps on Gautama Páthsálá, and the Maharaja's Sanskrit Institution; in Patna, the Gorehatta Sanskrit School; in Gya, the Tikaresvari Páthsálá, the Dharmasabhá Páthsálá, the Sanskrit Páthsálá, the Budh-Gaya Sanskrit Páthsálá; in Sháhábád, the Jubilee Upper Sanskrit Páthsálá; in Chumparun, the Dharmasabha School; in Mozaffarpur, the Dvija-Dharma-Bardhiní-Sabhá Páthsálá; the Dharma-Samáj Páthsálá; in Darbhanga, the Sanskrit Páthsálá, the Dharma-Samáj Páthsálá, Maharaja's Páthsálá, the Government Aided Sanskrit Páthsálá; in Bhagalpur, the Maharaja's Sanskrit Páthsálá, the Sanskrit Páthsálá (Golaghat), Chatpati Dharmasabhá Páthsálá; in Monghyr, the Árya Dharma Pracháriní Sanskrit Páthsálá; in Murshidabad, the Victoria Jubilee Tol; in Burdwan, the Maharaja's Sanskrit Vidyálay; in Nadiya, the Krishnagar Sanskrit Vidyálaya; in the 24-Parganas, the Sanskrit Institution (Mulajor); in Hooghly, the Biswanath Chatuspathí; in Cuttack the Purí Sanskrit School, and the Dhenkhanal Sanskrit Vidyálay.

Details about the constitution and working of the above institutions, the objects they propose to themselves, and the means by which these objects are attained, are given in the annexed enclosures marked B.

70. Five Examining Associations have been founded within the last thirteen years. Their functions, detailed in the enclosures marked Care on the model of the Sanskrit Title Examination. They are (1) the Dacca Sárasvat Samáj; (2) the Bihar Sanskrit Sanjíban; (3) the Boaliya Dharma Sabha; (4) the Nadiyá College of Pandits; (5) the Bhatpara Parikshá Samáj.

71. Of these five institutions, the oldest is the Dacca Sárasvat Samáj. It was founded in September 1878, i.e., within four months of the publication in the Calcutta Gazette of the Government of Bengal's scheme for holding the Title Examinations; and the first examination under the Samáj took place a month after the first year's Title Examination. The object of the Dacca Sarasvat Samáj is the promotion of Sanskrit learning, particularly in East Bengal. None but Pandits of East Bengal are eligible as members of this Samáj. At its examinations, held at Dacca, most of the candidates are tol students from East Bengal, and the rest are students of the same class from other parts of Bengal. On the result of these examinations, prizes, scholarships, and titles according to the grade of the examinations are awarded to pupils, and rewards to teachers. The Samáj further distributes gratuitously among the tols of East Bengal and a few also of other parts of Bengal, a Bengali weekly, called the Sárasvat Patriká, which discusses literary subjects as well as matters of practical interest. This paper is published at the press which the Samáj received as a free gift from Babu Raghunath Das of Dacca. The Samáj is altogether a well-organised body, with an aggregate income of Rs. 2,630 a year. Much of the success of the Samáj is due to the ability, learning, and organizing power of its Secretary, Pandit Prasannachandra Vidyáratna. The Samáj receives an annual aid of Rs. 500 from Government.

72. The end which the Bihar Sanskrit Sanjívan proposes to itself is to revise Sanskrit learning, and this end it seeks to attain by laying down courses of study and holding examinations. Its examinations are of two grades, called respectively the First and the Middle Examination; and they are held as preliminaries to the Sanskrit Title Examination, the existence of which the Sanjívan considers a sufficient ground for not holding any Title Examination of its own. All the distinguished Pandits of Bihar are members of the Sanjívan, which includes, besides, several Hindu noblemen and educated gentlemen of Bihar interested in Sanskrit learning. Its President is Dr. Martin, the Bihar Circle Inspector of Schools, and its Secretary is Pandit Ambikadatta Vyas, to whose learning, zeal, and energy, the success of the Sanjívan is largely due. The Maharajas and Rajas of Bihar are its patrons, and so are the present Lieutenant-Governor of these Provinces, the present Divisional Commissioner of Bihar, and the present Director of Public Instruction. It receives a grant of Rs. 500 a year from Government on the condition that it must raise an income of Rs. 1,200 a year from private sources. It has a funded property of Rs. 8,000 invested in Government securities, and holds besides an uninvested sum of Rs. 916, and in 1890-91 the total expenditure was only Rs. 518-4.

73. The Boáliya Dharma-Sabhá is an associatione stablished in 1879 for the promotion of the interests of the Hindu religion. In 1884 it made the encouragement of Sanskrit learning an additional object. For the latter purpose it maintains a tol at Boaliya and holds examinations annually, one of a higher and the other of a lower standard, the subjects of examination being Nyáya, Smriti, Vedánta. Jyotish, Ayurveda, Sáhitya, and Vyákarana. At these examinations candidates present themselves from different districts—Murshidabad, Nadiya, Pabna, Dacca, Burdwan, Birbhum, Midnapur, &c., those passing by the higher standard receiving titles and some also rewards. Candidates at the examination coming from distant places receive their travelling expenses from the Sabhá. Also selected students are, at the Sabhá's expense, sent to Benares to study the Vedánta and other systems of Philosophy there. The Sabhá also holds annually an assembly of Pandits, and makes presents to them, besides paying their travelling expenses. The Sabhá's annual income for the Bengali year 1295-96, corresponding very nearly to the official year 1889-90 was Rs. 4,168, and the expenditure Rs. 4,151.

74. At Nadiya in 1885-86 was formed a society, named in English. "The Association for the Advancement of Sanskrit Learning and the College of Pandits, Nadiya," and in Sanskrit or Bengali "Sanskrita Vidyá Vibardhiní Vidagdha Jananí Sabhá," which literally means Sanskrit-learning-Promoting-Burnt-mother-Society. Podá Má (burnt mother) is the name of an image of the goddess Káli at Nadiya, because it happened once to be burnt, and to it offerings are made by Nadiya pupils on finishing their tol education there. The object aimed at by the Society is stated in the printed report for the year 1889-90 to be, "the advancement of Sanskrit learning and the encouragement of Pandits and pupils engaged in the study of Sanskrit." The Society owes its existence to the efforts of a native of Nadiya, Babu Mahendranath Bhattacharya, M A., B.L., Personal Assistant to the Excise Commissioner of Bengal. Since its establishment, Babu Mahendranath, as he informs me in reply to an enquiry made, has spent in furtherance of its objects sums varying from Rs. 700 to Rs. 850 every year, and he has also spared no pains to make it a success. Kumar Indrachandra Singh of the Paikpara Raj family is President of the Society. and since 1889-90 he has very liberally paid subscriptions and donations for carrying out the objects it has in view, his total contribution in 1889-90 amounting to Rs. 2,400. and that in 1890-91 to Rs. 2,050. Its income last year was Rs. 2,850, and the expenditure equalled the income.

75. The Society, with the high literary prestige of Nadiya at its back, and all the modern paraphernalia of Fellows, Members, Registrar, and printed Reports attending it, naturally raises large expectations. My own expectations too were large, but I am sorry to have to say that on looking into the inner working of the Society and the outcome of its work, I have been sadly disappointed. The movement lacks that essential of success—co-operation. Whatever Babu Mahendranath's personal exertions may be, and the fact of his being able to visit Nadiya only occasionally must necessarily set a limit to them, success to his scheme can be assured only by active local co-operation. This, however, is wanting. The Maharaj family of Krishnagar have ever been patrons of the Pandit community of Nadiya. With this family the present movement appears not to have sought to connect itself. Fellows and Members, again, have not their duties defined, and they take little interest in the movement. The Joint and the Assistant Registrar, who reside in Calcutta, have not been able yet, I am informed, to attend the annual meetings of the Society, which, indeed, are its only meetings. Neither the Joint Registrar nor the Principal could inform me what the pass marks in the examinations were, the Principal in fact giving me wrong information; and I got the information only from the Registrar, who appears to be the very life and breath of the Society. Mahámahopádhyaya Bhubanmohan Vidyáratna is styled in the report "Principal of the College of Pandits," and Pandits Madhusudan Smritiratna and Krishnanath Nyáyapanchánan are styled "Professors of Smriti." As the Nadiyá tols are quite independent of one another, I do not exactly see what functions Mahamahopadhyaya Bhubanmohan's principalship carries with it. Again, Pandit Madhusudan being a Professor in the Calcutta Government Sanskrit College, and Pandit Krishnanath being a resident of Purbasthali, where he has his tol, their Professorships in the Nadiya College of Pandits must be only honorary titles, without any functions attached to them.

76. Much of the Society's business appears to be done in either a loose or a languid way. There are discrepancies between the lists of names of Fellows and office-bearers in different copies of the report for the same year (1889-90), and the abstract of accounts sent to me from Nadiya by Pandit Sarbesvar Bhattacharya (an honorary office-bearer of the Sabhá) does not tally with that furnished me by the Registrar. Nor does the number of passed students as shown in the Report agree with the number given in the tabular statement sent by Pandit Sarbesvar. The certificates given to successful examinees are not free from grammatical mistakes. The results of the examinations held during the cold weather one year are announced during the cold-weather examination season of the next year. Honorary titles, again, have been awarded, and the recipients of these are—the President, the Registrar, and the Assistant Registrar.

77. I now come to the more agreeable task of giving a description of the examinations held by the Society. These are of three ordinary grades, namely, the Preliminary, the Middle, and the Title or Final Examination, with the addition of a special Honour Examination in Nyáya. The subjects of examination are—Nyáya, Sánkhya, Vedánta, Smriti, Purana, Tantra, Yajana-grantha, Vyákarana, and Sáhitya. Although all the above subjects are fixed for the above examinations, candidates have not up to this time presented themselves for examination in them all. The subjects taken up from 1886 to 1889 have been—Nyáya, Vedánta, Smriti, Bhágabat Purána, Vyákarana and Sáhitya. The Report for 1889-90 gives the text books for the three ordinary grades of examination, but none for the Honour Examination in Nyáya. The text books fixed for the Title Examination in Nyáya include one work, which, I am afraid, will long prevent candidates from appearing at this examination. This work is Bauddhádhikára, which, as far as I know, no Pandit in Bengal has read through. It is remarked in the introduction to the Report that "none has been able to pass the Title Examination in Nyáya of the College of Pandits, Nadiyá." This is owing more to the inclusion of such a work as Bauddhádhikára in the Nyáya Title course of studies than to any other cause. The earlier examinations in Nyáya appear to be easy enough, for out of 12 candidates in three years, only one was plucked, 25 per cent. of the marks for each paper together with an aggregate of 33 per cent. being required for passing.

Besides the examinations held, the Society's work at its annual gatherings consists of the award of titles and money prizes to successful candidates and of rewards to teachers, discussions on questions connected with the Hindu Sástras, and the distribution of presents to all the Pandits invited, the Fellows and Members being included.

78. The Pandits of Bhatpara, headed by Mahámahopádhyaya Rakhaldas Nyáyaratna, set up an association called the "Parikshá Samáj" in 1890. The parikshás or examinations are of two grades, called the first and the second examinations respectively, for all subjects except only Nyáya, which has a third and a fourth examination—all subordinate to the Government Title Examination. The subjects of examination are—Nyáya, Sánkhya, Vedánta, Jyotish, Smriti, Sáhitya, and Vyákarana. All the Bhátpara Pandits are members of the Samaj, Mahámahopádhyáya Rákháldas Nyáyaratna being its President, and Pandit Panchanan Tarkaratna its Secretary. It has done me the honour of electing me Superintendent of its affairs. Not more than one examination has it held yet. The appearance, however, of so many as 45 candidates at this examination from different districts, some of the candidates being students of Sánkhya and Vedánta, promises well for the future of the Samáj's examinations. The Samáj has no fixed income at present.

79. At Barisal there is a Dharma-Sabha which makes the diffusion of a knowledge of the doctrines of Hinduism its main object. As connected with the main object, it resolved during my inspection tour in Barisal to encourage Sanskrit learning by holding different grades of examinations, the last being identical with the Government Title Examination. On the examinations being held, scholarships will be awarded to meritorious students and rewards to their teachers. Several Hindu zamindars and pleaders are members of the Sabhá, of which the Secretary is Babu Ambikacharan Guha, a leading member of the local bar.

80. All the above associations have promised co-operation in any measures that may be taken by Government for the improvement of tols and the encouragement of Sanskrit learning.

81. Before making my suggestions for the encouragement of Sanskrit studies in the Indian style, I think it necessary to point out the causes owing to which, as far as I can see, such studies have steadily been declining in the land. It was by means of gifts of rent-free land and of money that such studies were fostered in the past, and such gifts flowed freely from wealthy Hindus, as Hindus have always considered it to be an act of religious merit to help the teachers and learners of the Hindu Sástras. This belief has been changing of late, and so gifts have been becoming scantier and scanier in proportion. Rise in prices has again made it impossible for Pandit teachers to maintain themselves and family, and their pupils in the bargain, upon such income as sufficed generations ago. Pandit families at the same time have come to be a less self denying class than they used to be. The old custom of sons pursuing the calling of the father, which made Pandits' sons grow up to be Pandits, unless they happened to lack the mental power to do so, is losing its hold upon the country, and Pandits' sons are accordingly being trained up for secular callings that promise better prospects from a worldly point of view than the calling of a Pandit. Thus it is that families of Pandits in Bengal have al been tending to assimilate themselves to the other Brahman families of the province, i.e., have all been tending towards secular callings that hold out prospects of pecuniary gain. Most of the best Pandits of Bengal, all the Mahámahopádhyayas without exception, have trained up or are training up their sons or grandsons for other callings than their own, have given them or are giving them, in fact, an English education. It is but natural that men should prepare their sons for such walks of life as they think would be most advantageous to them, and this is what the Pandits of Bengal have been doing. Non-Pandit Brahman families hardly ever think of training up any juvenile member at a tol for the career of a Pandit. Our tols are thus being threatened with a stoppage of supply of boys. An utter stoppage of supply is not likely to occur in the near future, but matters appear to be tending to this. The aggregate intellectual capacity of the present generation of tol students is lower than that of the past generation as unquestionably, I think, as the number is lower; and this deterioration in quality and decrease in number, judging from present circumstances, tend to be progressive. To arrest this decline very liberal help from individuals and from the State would be needed. The question of private help does not fall within the scope of this report, which need only discuss how and to what extent it would be desirable and practicable for the State to render help for the improvement of tols and the encouragment of Sanskrit studies. Regular aid to tols would obviously suggest itself as the most effective means of imparting new vitality to them, and aid almost all the tols are willing to receive, as I have ascertained by enquiry. A comprehensive system of aid would require, however, a very large annual expenditure, which the State is not prepared, I understand, to incur, and so such a system of aid is out of the question. The tols, again, are, generally speaking, so similarly circumstanced that it is not possible to pick out some among them in every district as the fittest to receive grants. There are numerous other tols, besides those included in my tables, which number 761, so that selection would be most impracticable. To only a few tols of an exceptional character am I able, therefore, to recommend any regular aid, namely in Bengal to two Nyáya tols and one Smriti tol at Nadiyá, in Behar to the Thompson Gautama Pathsálá at Revelganj, and in Orissa to the Sanskrit Pathsálá at Puri.

82. Nadiya, as the historical centre of Sanskrit learning in the provinces and as the chief seat of the study of the Nyáya Philosophy in India, deserves exceptional treatment. Indeed, help has long been rendered by Government to the Nadiya tols, as shown in the foregoing part of this report. Subsistence allowance to pupils has been the chief part of this help, and a continuance of this allowance has been advocated by Professor Wilson, by Mr. Adam, and by Professor Cowell at different times. The subsistence allowance, as already stated, has been recently raised to Rs. 200 a month, and I would propose this to be supplemented by a monthly grant of Rs. 220 to the two best Nyáyá tols and the best Smriti tol of the place. The grant may be divided as follows:—

		Rs.
1.	Nyaya Tol, No. 1	100
2.	Nyaya Tol, No. 2	60
3.	Smriti Tol	60

83. Nyáya must have a decided preponderance at Nadiya for the simple reason that to the Nyáya tols of Nadiya come pupils from all parts of India. As regards Smriti, Nadiya attracts pupils only from Bengal. The grants I have proposed, I put at a sufficiently high figure that a position of comparative independence might be secured to the Pandits of the tols that receive them, and that there may be an adequate inducement to dispose them to be placed under some kind of control. As each tol would be under a single Pandit, the grant to the tol would be but a vritti (allowance) to the Pandit of the tol. I would also propose a change in the administration of the pupils' subsistence allowance of Rs. 200 a month. The allowance is now shared by other than Nyáya and Smriti pupils, a recent innovation. I would propose that the old system of paying subsistence allowance to only Nyáya and Smriti pupils be reverted to, and this on the following grounds. Other branches of Sanskrit learning—Kávya, Vyákarana, &c., are cultivated in so many other places that any special encouragement of such studies at Nadiya is uncalled for, while special encouragement of Nyáya and Smriti studies, for which Nadiyá has been celebrated, would be most appropriate. Subsistence allowance being restricted to Nyáya and Smriti pupils, it would be possible to fix each pupil's monthly allowance at a sum that would deserve the name of subsistence allowance. I would accordingly propose that Nyáya and Smriti pupils who are not local residents should receive a monthly allowance of Rs. 4 each, with the exception however of the Páka and Kánchá Tol students, who already receive daily gifts of rice, dál, and two pice each. For these students I would propose a monthly allowance of Rs. 2 each. The present limit of Rs. 200 a month need not be exceeded.

84. I would further propose that a subsistence allowance of Rs. 25 a month be granted by Government for five Vedic pupils in Calcutta, when arrangements for instruction in the Vedas, about which certain proposals have been made, are effected. Provision for teaching the Vedas has been a long-felt want in Bengal, and practical steps are now being taken by certain Hindu gentlemen towards supplying the want. Babu Dwarakanath Pal of Bansberia has made over to Government 4 per cent. Government Promissory notes for Rs. 5,000 as an endowment fund for the promotion of Vedic studies, and his offer has been accepted by Government; and the Mohanta of Tarakeswar has offered for five years certain a monthly contribution of Rs. 30 for provision being made in the Sanskrit College for teaching the Vedas. Under the patronage of the Hon'ble Dr. Guru Das Banerji a Vedic tol is also going to be established in Calcutta. I do not propose any definite scheme for the distribution of the grant I propose, because there are no Vedic pupils at present in Calcutta.

85 For the Thompson Gautama Pathsálá at Revilganj, I would propose a monthly grant of Rs. 40 for provision being made for the teaching of Nyáya. The Pathsálá being named after the founder of the Nyáya Philosophy, it would belie its name if it taught no Nyáya. For the Puri Sanskrit Pathsálá I would propose a monthly grant of Rs. 30. This sum would enable the Committee of Management to make their arrangements for instruction in Nyáya, as I am informed by the Secretary to the Committee. A Nyáya chair is a necessity at Puri, and such a chair cannot be created, I am informed by the Secretary, without an addition to the funds at the disposal of the Committee. To the other Sanskrit schools in the provinces, that are maintained by associations, I would also recommend the grant of aid, the amount being determined in accordance with the requirements and resources of each.

86. I would also propose that a system of payment by results be instituted in connection with tols. Payment by results might be on the lines of the system now in force in connection with the Sanskrit Title Examination, i.e., on the results of examinations held, rewards to pupils and teachers, on a graduated scale, might be awarded. The examinations might be left to be conducted by local learned associations like the Dacca Sarasvat Samáj and the Behar Sanskrit Sanjívan, in accordance with principles approved by the Director of Public Instruction. Further details would have to be settled, if the proposal is accepted by Government. The first requisite for the settlement of details would be a knowledge of what sum Government is prepared to spend annually for the purpose of encouraging the tol system of instruction. The question of money must lie at the root of all schemes of improvement.

87. There is no local association at present in Orissa capable of undertaking examinations. Materials, both in men and money exist, however, for the formation of such an association, and from the conversation I have had with Raja Baidyanath Pandit and Babu Hariballabh Basu, of Cuttack, and certain other gentlemen on the subject, I am hopeful of an association being formed in no long time.

88. I would finally propose that Municipalities and District Boards be induced to assign a portion of the educational funds at their disposal to the support of deserving tols within their respective spheres. As already stated, several Municipalities do at present render help to tols, and a few District Boards also do the same. Considering the awakening of the Hindu mind that has been going on all around under the influence of Western knowledge, it is but reasonable to expect that hardly any Municipality or District Board would refuse to render help.

89. In conclusion, I have to thankfully bear testimony to the effective help rendered me by the Divisional Commissioners, District Magistrates, and Educational Inspecting Officers, of whom I had occasion to ask for help. My thanks are no less due to certain independent native gentlemen. In fact, wherever I sought help, help was cordially given.

2. There was thus an increase of 317 cases in the analytical work of the laboratory during the year, the increase in medico-legal cases being 138. Of the 228 cases in which human viscera were examined, poison was found in 99 or in 43·42 per cent. Opium was detected in 47 cases, arsenic in 24, and other poisons in 28. The Lieutenant-Governor notices that in 21 cases the original autopsy had been performed by Civil Hospital Assistants; 15 of these cases, however, came from Kuch Bihár and Assam.

3. Out of 745 articles received during the year in connection with supposed poisoning cases, traces of poison were detected in 321; the principal poisons being arsenic, found in 174 cases, aconite, found in 29, opium, in 23, and atropine, in 17. The number of supposed cattle poisoning cases in which viscera of cattle were received for examination was 118. In 77·96 per cent. of these arsenic was detected.

4. Besides analytical work, the Chemical Examiner had to report on eight technical questions referred to him by Departments under the Imperial and Bengal Governments, and eight applications for leave to file specifications for patent rights. He also verified three sets of apparatus for testing petroleum for various ports, and prepared, at the instance of the Board of Revenue, an extremely elaborate and complete set of tables of alcoholic specific gravity. It is satisfactory to observe that the number of analyses of drinking water rose from 61 to 100. The Lieutenant-Governor is anxious to encourage the collection of precise information on this subject, which exercises so direct an effect on the health of the population of Bengal. If the people who live in Municipal towns knew the true character of the water that most of them are in the habit of drinking, there would be less difficulty in getting them to interest themselves in procuring a pure supply. The attention of the Sanitary Commissioner will be drawn to this point, and he will be asked, when inspecting a municipality, to procure samples of the water in ordinary use. These will be sent to the Chemical Examiner, and the results of his examination will be published. A special paragraph should also be devoted to this subject in the Chemical Examiner's report, showing the quarters from which the other specimens of water were received and classifying the results.

The thanks of the Lieutenant-Governor are due to Dr. Warden for the good work he and his Assistants have done during the year.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

H. H. RISLEY,

Offg. Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

Explanation.—... indicate that no rain has fallen. If the return for any day has not been received, the corresponding space is left blank. If any of the returns are wanting, the corresponding spaces in the total rainfall columns are left blank. With reference to the column of rainy days, the definition of a rainy day is when at least 0·1 inch of rain has fallen.

CALCUTTA, the 22nd March 1892.

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL FOR THE WEEK ENDING 8 A.M., SATURDAY, THE 19TH OF MARCH 1892.

FINE settled weather of almost hot weather type prevailed at the close of the previous week, and during the week under review these hot weather conditions appear to have become completely established. The changes in meteorological conditions which have occurred from day to day have, however, been generally small and of little importance. On the 13th pressure had fallen very slowly, and was below the normal by amounts which ranged up to about 0·15″ in the north-east of the province. The temperature and humidity changes were a little variable, and temperature was generally about one or two degrees above the normal, and winds were westerly or west-south-westerly at all stations except in the extreme east of the province. The changes of pressure on the 14th were small and irregular, but on the 15th pressure fell; on the 16th there was a slight rise, and on the 17th a corresponding fall, which was succeeded on the 18th and 19th by a slight rise. The changes of pressure during the week have therefore only been of the slight oscillatory character which accompany fine weather. Temperature, on the other hand, has been almost steadily increasing, the increase on the 14th generally averaging from 1° to 2°, while on the 16th it equalled from 2° to 4° and so on, so that at the close of the week the mean temperature of the province was generally from 4° to 6° above the normal, and at such stations as Arrah, Buxar, Dehri and Ranchi, the excess was from about 8° to 9°. Winds during the week have also been strongly westerly, though towards its close the southerly element rather increased in force, and on the 19th winds generally varied in direction from southerly to westerly, while fairly strong winds were also setting in at the southern and western stations. During the week with the westerly winds which have been blowing, humidity has been particularly low over a large part of the province, and at such stations as Midnapore, Burdwan, Raniganj, Bankura, &c., the average percentage of saturation has only equalled a little more than 30 per cent. The skies have also been almost cloudless for the greater part of the week, and again not a single station in the province has reported any rain.

Pressure—Has been low throughout the week, and over the greater part of the province the mean pressure has been in defect of the normal by more than a tenth of an inch, the defect at many stations, particularly in the north of the province, ranging up to 0·12″ to 0·13″. The defect has, however, been smallest in Orissa and parts of Chota Nagpur, where it does not much exceed 0·07.″

Temperature—Has risen steadily almost throughout the week, and at its close had become particularly high. The mean temperature for the whole province for the week has been about two and-a-half degrees in excess of the normal, while in East Bengal, South Bihár, and Chota Nagpur the excess has been larger than three degrees. Some very high maximum temperatures for the season have occurred during the week; thus Midnapore on the 19th registered 105·4°, Cuttack on the 18th and 19th 103·4°, and Chaibassa, Bankura, Raniganj, and Burdwan also on the 19th below 103° and 104°, while several other stations reported temperatures of 101° and 102°.

The distribution of temperature over the province and its variation for the week are most clearly seen in the table below, where the average maximum, minimum and mean temperatures for the period at nine typical stations in different districts are compared with their normal values. It will be seen that the variation has been to a great extent confined to the day temperature, for the maximum temperatures at several stations have been 5° and 6° in excess of the normal, while the night or minimum temperatures have been nearly normal :—

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, and from observations made at 6h, 10h, 16h, and 22h.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

o, overcast; ⌓, dew.

41. The rule passed in notification No. 442, dated the 9th December 1889, is hereby cancelled, and the following rule substituted :—

Beali lands included in a long or five-year lease are not exempted from assessment, but no charge will be made for water supplied to them in the rabi season, or for lift irrigation to high lands excluded from assessment, whether in the kharif or rabi season. Low lying lands forming part of the rice cultivated area of a village which cannot ordinarily benefit by a canal water, though requiring irrigation in years of drought, will be charged each year at one-third of the usual rate, i.e., eight annas an acre. Lands which never, under any circumstances, require water will be altogether excluded from the lease.

43. Existing long leases may, with the written consent of the Divisional Canal Officer, be extended for not more than three years without further detailed measurement or enquiry, subject to the provisions of rules 41 and 42 immediately preceding.

The signatories shall bind themselves to be jointly liable for the water-rates payable, including those due on lands included in the block, the occupiers of which have not for any reason signed the application.

III.—The Sub-divisionll Canal Officer, after ascertaining that the area noted in the application reasonably represents that included in the block specified, and that it is possible to supply water within a limited time without irrigating unleased areas, may authorize the issue of a permit for the area specified in the application.

VI.—The rate chargeable shall be Rs. 2 per acre on the area specified in the application. No actual measurement shall be made for the purpose of assessment.

DIRECTIONS AND EXPLANATIONS.

Col. 2.—The yearly numbers commence with the first new case admitted in the year and proceed regularly through the 12 months, the last number thus recording the number of admissions in the year and corresponding with the total of column 12.

N. B.—The monthly aggregate of the daily total numbers treated divided by the number of days in the month gives the "average daily sick" required for the monthly return.

Col. 3.—All the cases remaining at the end of a year are to be entered on the following 1st January by the previous year's yearly number and monthly date. Such cases and cases remaining from day to day will only re appear on the date on which their result is recorded. Besides being recorded on the day of its occurrence, the result should also be noted (in red ink or in brackets) opposite the original entry.

Col. 4.—Hindoo, H.; Mussulman, M.; European, Eu.; Eurasian, Eu.; Native Christian, N. C.; and other classes, O. C.

Col. 6.—Male, M.; Female, F.; Children to be recorded as such when under 12 years old.

Col. 9.—Diseases, injuries, operations, &c., are only to be denominated by the name and number specified in the official "Nomenclature," and no name is ever to be used that does not appear in that book.

If variety or sub-division is to be recorded, the letter or figure in the book must follow the number of the main disease.

In the column headed "Otherwise" a reference number and foot-note are to be used to indicate the mode of discharge—unrelieved, absconded, removed by friends, &c.

When Police cases are admitted into hospital, they should be distinguished by the letter P being placed after the yearly number, as 5P on the 2nd January

Bills introduced into the Council of the Governor General for making Laws and Regulations, or published under Rule 22.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

The following Bill was introduced in the Council of the Governor General of India for the purpose of making Laws and Regulations on the 25th March, 1892:—

No. 8 OF 1892.

A Bill to amend the Law of Partition.

WHEREAS it is expedient to amend the law of partition; It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Title, extent and commencement.

1. (1) This Act may be called the Partition Act, 1892.

(2) It extends to the whole of British India; and

(3) It shall come into force at once.

Saving of certain local laws.

(4) But nothing herein contained shall be deemed to affect any local law providing for the partition of immoveable property paying revenue to the Government.

Power to Court to order sale instead of division in partition suits.

2. Whenever in any suit for partition in which, if instituted prior to the commencement of this Act, a decree for partition might have been made, it appears to the Court that, by reason of the nature of the property to which the suit relates, or of the number of parties interested therein, or of any other special circumstance, a division of the property cannot reasonably or conveniently be made, and that a sale of the property and distribution of the proceeds would be more beneficial for all the parties interested, the Court may, if it thinks fit, on the request of any party or parties interested individually or collectively to the extent of one moiety or upwards, direct a sale of the property and a distribution of the proceeds.

Procedure when sharer undertakes to buy.

3. (1) If, in any case in which the Court is requested under the last foregoing section to direct a sale, any other shareholder shall undertake to buy the share or shares of the party or parties asking for sale, the Court shall, instead of directing a sale, order a valuation of the share or shares in such manner as it thinks fit, and may give all necessary and proper directions in that behalf.

(2) If two or more shareholders undertake to buy as provided in sub-section (1), but do not agree as between or among themselves with regard to the respective proportions in which they should buy, the Court shall sell the share or shares to the shareholder who offers to pay the highest price above the valuation made by the Court.

Partition suit by transferee of share in dwelling-house.

4. (1) Where the transferee of a share of a dwelling-house belonging to an undivided family not being a member of the family sues for partition, the Court shall, if any member of the family shall undertake to buy the share of such transferee, make a valuation of such share in such manner as it thinks fit and direct the transfer of the share on payment of the purchase-money so fixed by the Court.

(2) If in any case described in sub-section (1) two or more members of the family undertake to buy, but do not agree as between or among themselves with regard to the respective proportions in which they should buy, the Court shall follow the procedure prescribed by sub-section (2) of the last foregoing section.

5. In any suit for partition a request for sale, may be made or an undertaking to buy given on behalf of any party under disability by any person authorized to act on behalf of such party in such suit, but the Court shall not be bound to comply with any such request or undertaking unless it is satisfied that the sale or purchase will be for the benefit of the party under such disability.

Representation of parties under disability

6. (1) On any sale under this Act any of the parties interested in the property shall be at liberty to bid at the sale on such terms as to non-payment of deposit or as to setting off or accounting for the purchase-money or any part thereof instead of paying the same as to the Court may seem reasonable.

Power to shareholders to bid at sale.

(2) If two or more persons, of whom one is a shareholder in the property, respectively advance the same sum at any bidding at such sale, such bidding shall be deemed to be the bidding of the shareholder.

7. When any property is directed to be sold under this Act, the following procedure shall, as far as practicable, be adopted, namely :—

Procedure to be followed in case of sales.

(a) if the property be situated within the town of Calcutta, Madras or Bombay, the procedure of the High Court in its original civil jurisdiction for the sale of property by the Registrar ;

(b) if the property be situated elsewhere such procedure as the High Court may from time to time by rules prescribe in this behalf, and until such rules are made the procedure prescribed in the Code of Civil Procedure in respect of sales in execution of decrees.

8. (1) On a sale of immoveable property becoming absolute under this Act, the Court shall grant a certificate stating the property sold and the name of the person who at the time of sale is declared to be the purchaser.

Certificate to purchaser of immoveable property.

(2) Such certificate shall bear the date of the confirmation of the sale ; and, so far as regards the parties to the suit and persons claiming through or under them, the title to the property sold shall vest in the purchaser from the date of such certificate and not before.

9. When any property is sold under this Act, the proceeds, after deducting the costs of the sale, shall be distributed among the parties according to their respective interests as ascertained by the Court.

Distribution of proceeds of sales.

10. (1) Any order made by the Court under section 2 or section 4 shall be deemed to be a decree within the meaning of section 2 of the Code of Civil Procedure and to be appealable as such.

Appeals.

XIV of 1882

(2) All other orders shall be appealable only when such orders are of the same nature as appealable orders under section 588 of the Code of Civil Procedure, and the orders passed in appeals in such cases shall be final.

11. Nothing herein contained shall prevent the Court from making a decree for a partition of part of the property to which the suit relates and a sale of the remainder.

Saving of power to order partly partition and partly sale.

12. This Act shall apply to suits pending at the commencement thereof, in which no commission for the purpose of making a partition shall have been executed.

Application of Act to pending suits.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

THE present statutory law on the subject of partition, apart from various local laws dealing with the partition of land paying revenue to Government, is contained in sections 265 and 396 of the Code of Civil Procedure. Section 265 simply enacts that the partition or separation of a revenue-paying estate shall be made only by the Collector, and need not therefore be noticed further, as the present Bill leaves untouched all local laws dealing with the partition of such property. Section 396 lays down the procedure which should be adopted in the partition of lands not paying revenue to Government. That section, however, only authorizes the Court to divide the property, and in some exceptional cases where an equal division is not practicable to award a money compensation for the purpose of equalizing the value of the shares. But as the law now stands the Court must give a share to each of the parties and cannot direct a sale and division of the proceeds in any case whatever. Instances, however, occasionally occur where there are insuperable practical difficulties in the way of making an equal division, and in such cases the Court is either powerless to give effect to its decree, or is driven to all kinds of shifts and expedients in order to do so. Such difficulties are by no means of very rare occurrence, although in many cases where the parties are properly advised they generally agree to some mutual arrangement, and thus relieve the Court from embarrassment.

2. It is proposed in the present Bill to supply this defect in the law by giving the Court, under proper safeguards, a discretionary authority to direct a sale where a partition cannot reasonably be made and a sale would, in the opinion of the Court, be more beneficial for the parties. But, having regard to the strong attachment of the people of this country to their landed possessions, it is proposed to make the consent of parties interested at least to the extent of a moiety in the property a condition precedent to the exercise by the Court of this new power. In order at the same time to prevent any oppressive exercise of this privilege, it is proposed to give such of the shareholders as do not desire a sale the right to buy the others out at a valuation to be determined by the Court. The power, moreover, which it is proposed to give to the Court will be a discretionary one to be exercised on a consideration of all the circumstances of the case. It should be added that, where the Court is obliged to direct a sale, a right of pre-emption is given by the Bill to the parties similar to that conferred on shareholders by section 310 of the Code of Civil Procedure.

3. It is also proposed in the Bill to give the Court the power of compelling a stranger, who has acquired by purchase a share in a family dwelling-house when he seeks for a partition, to sell his share to the members of the family who are the owners of the rest of the house at a valuation to be determined by the Court. This provision is only an extension of the privilege given to such shareholders by section 44, paragraph 2, of the Transfer of Property Act, and is an application of a well known rule which obtains among Muhammadans everywhere and by custom also among Hindus in some parts of the country.

4. The other sections of the Bill only deal with matters of procedure and do not call for any detailed notice.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

Explanation.— .. indicate that no rain has fallen. If the return for any day has not been received, the corresponding space is left blank. If any of the returns are wanting, the corresponding spaces in the total rainfall columns are left blank. With reference to the column of rainy days, the definition of a rainy day is when at least 0·1 inch of rain has fallen.

CALCUTTA, the 29th March 1892.

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL FOR THE WEEK ENDING 8 A.M., SATURDAY, THE 26TH OF MARCH 1892.

WEATHER during the previous week had been of ordinary hot weather character in all districts, and beyond the slight oscillatory changes of pressure, temperature, humidity, &c., which take place during fine settled weather, there had been no meteorological changes in that period of any importance. These hot weather conditions have also continued almost unchanged during the present week, and except in some of the districts of North Bengal, where rain accompanying local storms was reported on the last two days of the week, the weather has again been fine and settled with high temperature and generally rather low humidity over almost the whole province and for almost the whole week. The changes also of meteorological conditions which have taken place from day to day during the week have been generally small and have therefore been of little practical importance.

On the 20th pressure was generally falling moderately, while temperature was rising slowly. Pressure was below the normal by amounts ranging up to about a sixth of an inch in North Bengal, and the mean temperature was usually above the normal by about 6° or 7°. Winds also were south-westerly and westerly over the whole province. The changes on the 21st were unimportant except that humidity was generally becoming slightly lower, but on the 22nd pressure had risen by about a twentieth of an inch, though the other changes were small. On the 23rd again pressure rose slowly, but on the 24th it had again commenced to fall, and was generally more than a tenth of an inch below the normal. Temperature had also risen moderately at the majority of stations on this day, but as it had fallen slightly on the previous days, the mean temperature was still about 5° or 6° above the normal. On the 25th pressure again fell moderately, and a very slight low-pressure area formed over the east of Bihár and part of West Bengal, where the barometer was about a sixth of an inch below the normal. The wind directions on this day commenced to change, and showed a tendency to circulate round the low-pressure area in the centre of the province, and winds became southerly and south-easterly at the southern stations, and easterly in the north of the province. On the 26th, however, pressure again rose slowly except at the southern stations and the low-pressure area almost disappeared. Winds, however, became still more strongly easterly, and they were on this day easterly and south-easterly at almost all stations. With these easterly winds humidity generally increased decidedly, and became rather high, while temperature remained excessive, and the mean temperature was generally about 5° to 6° above the normal. Conditions on the last two days of the week, therefore, were somewhat disturbed, and though at the majority of stations the weather remained fine, yet a few local storms with rain occurred in the Darjeeling, Jalpaiguri, Pabna, Bogra, Rajshahi, and Nadia districts, and which rainfalls were reported on the morning of the 26th.

Pressure—Has been below the normal almost throughout the week, and the mean pressure for the period has been below the normal by more than a tenth of an inch. The defect has indeed generally been 0·11″ to 0·13″ except in parts of North and East Bengal, where at some stations it has been less than a tenth of an inch, and, on the other hand, the defects have been generally largest in Bihár.

Temperature—Has again been very largely in excess of the normal throughout the week, and the mean temperature of the province has been no less than 4·7° in excess of the normal, while in Bihár and Chota Nagpur the excess has been from five and-a-half to six degrees.

The distribution of temperature over the province and its variation from the normal for the week are most clearly seen in the table below, where the average maximum, minimum and mean temperatures for the period at nine typical stations in different districts are compared with their normal values. The variation from the normal has been very large both in the day and night temperatures, but the excess has been decidedly larger in the maximum than in the minimum temperatures :—

INCREASES.

	Tons.		Tons.
Coal	5,957	Rice	4,529
Partly due to provision for brick-burning.		The chief increase is in despatches from Goalundo, Jajpurhat, Nawabganj, and Dinajpur. This is due to a rise in prices in Burma and Kuch Behar districts, and at hill stations

DECREASES.

	Tons.		Tons.
Jute, screwed	4,441	Jute, unscrewed	16,554
Daroani, Kasba, Mymensingh, and Post Golak, show the principal decreases.		The decrease was general among jute-booking stations on the several sections, due to short crop.
